A Greeting.

In this first issue of the Republican we send heartiest greetings to all the members our enlarged family. We congratulate them on being brought together and felicitate ourselves upon so large and good a number of subscribers.

Those who have been Tribune subscribers and those who have been Chronicle subscribers are now subscribers to the Republican. It is the hope that the conduct of the paper will be such that they will all gladly remain Republican subscribers.

The editor has nothing but the kindest feelings for every person in this city and this county, and more especially is this the case toward our subscribers. We want them all to feel and know this.

To those who have been Tribune subscribers during all the period of that paper's existence, and Republican subscribers before that time, this change may seem somewhat abrupt at first, but we believe all of them will be pleased at the union of the papers and time will soon make them feel as much at home as ever. Gladly will we meet and welcome every subscriber at the office, 206 North Michigan street.

The purpose of the Republican will be to give the news of Plymouth and Marshall county not only faithfully, fairly and clearly, but in that crisp, spicy style which will make the reading of it a pleasure.

All the best features of both the Tribune and Chronicle will be continued and a more thorough news service than ever maintained. We want our subscribers to help us in getting the news and will always appreciate it if they will telephone items to 848, step in and give us news or write articles for the paper.

Thus with a long pull and a strong pull and a pull all together, the Republican hopes to be of the most possible force in helping to make the people of this community better and happier.

Splendid Patronage.

The Republican wishes to acknowledge the splendid patronage the Plymouth business men have given it this week. The almost spontaneous response to our request for advertising in this the first issue of the combined papers, and a special merchants' edition, show how thoroughly the public appreciates the fact that the two papers have at last been combined.

These numerous ads our readers will find very interesting. You can spend an hour very pleasantly and profitably reading these advertisements. Try it. They are all so different and so well written that you will not tire of them.

They will show you that the merchants of Plymouth are indeed a live "bunch" and that it will pay you to get interested in what they have to say of their businesses.

HOLD SPECIAL MEETING TO REPAIR BRIDGE

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS HOLD BRIEF SESSION TUESDAY AFTERNOON TO ORDER ADVERTISEMENTS FOR BIDS

SHAFFER STRUCTURE

Widening of River Banks by Dredge Leaves Road Without Crossing Seven Miles East of Plymouth.

The Board of Commissioners held a special meeting, at the court house Tuesday afternoon, for the purpose of adopting the plans and specifications for the repair, and replacing of the Shafer bridge, seven miles east of Plymouth, and for ordering advertisements for bids on the repair, placed in local newspapers.

The plans were prepared by County Surveyor William Schoonover.

The replacing and extension of the bridge, arose as a result of the work of the dredge, which in the course of its operation, increased the width of the river banks at that point, to such extent that the bridge would no longer span the river. On last Thanksgiving day the dredge lifted the steel bridge in the air, and swung the entire structure upon the bank of the river, where it still reposes. As a result the road which crossed the river at that point is broken, and traffic in that locality badly broken.

It is reported that the dredge has already completed slightly over two linear miles in the work of deepening, widening, and straightening Yellow river.

A BOY AT 82

Friends Surprise Uncle Henry Zumbaugh Sunday To Help in Celebration.

"Heartily as a boy," says Uncle Henry Zumbaugh, who with a number of friends and relatives, celebrated his 82nd birthday, at his home, four and a half miles from this city, Sunday. Uncle Henry relates further that he is as good as he ever was, and can climb a barbed wire fence, and walk to Plymouth, in as quick time as anybody. Henry indeed looks the part, and is as jolly as a youngster.

Those present at the gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Funk, Mr. and Mrs. Couts, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Zumbaugh, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Garn, Jacob Zumbaugh and son Charles, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bollman, and John Zumbaugh and family. A sumptuous dinner was served, and a very enjoyable time experienced.
