Wilson Rejects Carranza's Demands to Withdraw

U.S. OFFICIALS ARE ANGERED BY NOTE'S TONE

Feeling of Resentment Engendered by Imputation Bad Faith on Part of Gen. Scott.

THREAT TO ATTACK IS SLIGHTLY VEILED

Gen. Pershing Believed to be Able to "Take Care of Himself" Inside Mexican Line.

International News Service: WASHINGTON, June 1.—Official announcement was made at the white house today that President Wilson, after reading Carranza's note, has decided that the American forces cannot be withdrawn from Mexico at this time. It was further stated that a note to this effect, with the reasons for the decision, will be sent to the Carranza government shortly. White house officials explained that the president has decided that the object of the punitive expedition—which was to disperse all the bandit bands operating in northern Mexico—has not been accomplished. Until this is done the American forces will not be recalled. The note to be sent to Carranza, it was stated, will emphasize that this government has no ulterior motives in keeping its forces on Mexican soil. It will plainly state that the sole object of the expedition is to suppress outlawry and as soon as that is accomplished the troops will be withdrawn.

International News Service: WASHINGTON, June 1.—Carranza's latest demand that the American troops be withdrawn from Mexico today was being considered by President Wilson. Work of translating the voluminous note delivered to the state department yesterday by Eliseo Arredondo, ambassador designate of the de facto government, was completed late last night and the communication was at once sent to the white house. The note makes about 12,000 words. Several days are expected to elapse before the government makes a reply. The note will be formally taken up at the regular cabinet meeting tomorrow. Officials in the state and war departments today professed ignorance of what course this government will follow. While they say that a great deal of matter in Carranza's note is intended solely for home consumption, they admit that the presenting of it to this government has brought about another serious situation between the two countries. Fear Overt Act. What is feared here most is that while Carranza's note is being considered some overt act may be committed by one of the Mexican military commanders. A majority of the leaders now at the head of the troops in northern Mexico are known as "zingo haters." They would welcome a move by the Carranza government to expel the American forces from Mexico. By force. It is feared that they may attempt to provoke such a move by attacking an American force. Such an attack, it is declared, would throw the two countries into war at once. State department officials were plainly angered at the insolent tone of the Carranza note. This feeling of resentment is brought about no less by the threat of an attack upon

FRENCH CAPTURE 400 YARDS OF TRENCHES

Germans Admit Reverses Southeast of Dead Man's Hill But Also Gain.

International News Service: BERLIN, June 1.—French troops have captured 400 yards of the German's first line trenches southeast of Le Mort Homme on the Verdun front, says the official statement of the war office today. East of the Obersapt in the Vosges the Germans have penetrated French positions over a front of 350 yards. The French positions entered by the Germans covered a depth of 300 yards. Instead of attempting to hold the captured ground the Germans detachment returned to the German lines with some prisoners and booty. Vicious counter attacks were made by the French last night in the triangle formed by Dead Man's Hill, Chimieres and Chattancourt. It was there that the French were able to advance. Heavy artillery fire is reported from the Lens front, where the Germans are engaged with the British. PARIS, June 1.—Another attempt by the Germans to carry by storm the French positions at Le Mort Homme (Dead Man's Hill) was made last night. Although preceded by a furious bombardment which shattered the French trenches into a shapeless mass and carried out with the utmost simultaneity, the assault was repulsed. Announcement of the failure of the Germans last night was made in the official communique of the French war office today.

THANKS COURT AND LAWYERS FOR FAIRNESS

Prisoner Declares He Regrets He Can Only Give His Life in Expiation of His Crimes.

International News Service: NEW YORK, June 1.—Receiving his death sentence in the same unflinching manner in which he heard the jury's verdict of guilty, Dr. Arthur Warren Waite was today sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison during the week beginning July 10. The condemned man, who for the love of Mammon, committed all sorts of thievery, culminating in the murder of his wife's parents, made a dramatic speech in court today. "I am glad, very, very glad that I can give my life in expiation in some small way for the things I have done," said Waite before Justice Shearn sentenced him. "I regret that I have nothing more than my life that I can give, and I also freely give my soul for the same purpose, and I hope that it may be good and serve forever in any way that there may be for it to purge itself." Waite spoke with strong tones and clear enunciation, heard plainly throughout the large room. He was one of the most composed men present. When Justice Shearn asked him if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, there was silence for a brief space. Then the convicted slayer began his dramatic recital. "I would just like to say that I want to thank this court for the very fair and just trial that was accorded me," Waite said. "I also want to say that I believe the prosecutor, Mr. Brothers, was very conscientious in doing his duty and at the same time to have been very fair to me. "Also that my own counsel was always kind and above reproach and entirely sincere in his belief in regard to me. "That is all I have to say." As soon as Waite had finished, Justice Shearn pronounced sentence. Walter R. Deul, Waite's counsel, made the usual motions for a new trial and for a dismissal. He has not filed any notice of appeal, but will do so within the 10-day limit. Immediately after the proceedings Deputy Sheriff Burke snapped the handcuffs on Waite's wrist and his own. Waite walked with firm stride and a long swing. With one keeper accompanying him, the deputy sheriff put his prisoner in a wagon and drove to the Grand Central station. They took the 11:07 train for Sing Sing, where Waite will be lodged in the death house. Waite sat up until after midnight last night reading the Bible and writing a note to Dr. Prior. The latter was in a cell adjoining Waite's before the latter's trial, and after confidential talks with Waite gave valuable information to the district attorney. Waite wrote to him: "I understand that you have been criticized by fellow prisoners for any part you may have taken against me in my trial. I don't believe my forgiveness is necessary, because I feel anyone who was against me was justified." Waite had a substantial meal this morning and afterward was visited in his cell by his brother, Frank.

STATE LAW TO DIM LIGHTS URGENT NEED

Chief of Police Kerr Requests Motorists to Turn Off Bright Lights While in the City.

POINT TO LESSON IN WEDNESDAY'S TRAGEDY

Collision With Street Car Which Brought Death to Two Example of Danger Involved.

Following Wednesday night's automobile accident in which two were killed and two more are in a hospital in a serious condition, because, it is said, an autoist failed to use dimmers on his headlights, Chief of Police Millard F. Kerr has requested all auto owners to equip their cars with dimmers and use them when passing other machines. This is only a request from the police department, there being no state law or city ordinance requiring the use of dimmers. According to the chief of police, the glaring headlights of automobiles have been the cause of numerous accidents in the city. Since electric headlights have been put into use on automobiles, the lights are so strong that auto drivers are blinded when they pass other cars. Although the lights are exceptional bright when they are turned on full, it is possible to dim them. An ordinance requiring auto lights to be dimmed inside the city limits was discussed in the city council, but no action resulted. Street cars are required to have their lights dimmed while in the city limits. Mayor Keller said Thursday morning that he would like to see a state law passed requiring auto lights to be dimmed. He said that unless it was a state law it might be hard to enforce, because drivers coming here from other cities might not know of the existence of such an ordinance. Charles Frazier, president of the South Bend and Mishawaka Auto Dealers' association, said that an ordinance of this kind would be one of the best things possible, both from the standpoint of the motorist and the general public. Mr. Frazier said that South Bend should have an ordinance similar to the one in Chicago, which requires auto lights to be dimmed all of the time the machines are in places where the traffic is heavy. Illinois has a state law requiring dimmers and so has New York. A. K. Sy'ev, assistant secretary of the Northern Indiana Motor club, said he hoped that some agitation would be started for either a city ordinance or a state law requiring the use of dimmers.

BEGIN WORK ON CONVENTION ROLL

Republican National Committee Takes Up Unimportant Contests For Seats.

International News Service: CHICAGO, June 1.—The machinery of the republican national convention was started here today. The national committee began its work of making up the temporary roll for the convention which will assemble next Wednesday at noon. For the first time in more than 20 years the contests were comparatively unimportant. They dealt chiefly with personal questions peculiar to the localities from which they sprang and in no instance were expected to have any serious effect on the plans of the convention for the presidential nomination. The contrast between today's meeting and that of four years ago was strongly marked. Then the ante chamber of the national committee room was jammed with a seething mass of excited delegates and their friends, all demanding the opportunity to present their case to the committee. The committee itself was divided in loyalty to William Howard Taft and Theodore Roosevelt and strong language was the rule from the outset. Demand for Harmony. Today the overwhelming demand was for harmony. The committee men discussed the question of credentials and which was and which was not the proper delegation whose names should be placed on the temporary roll, quietly and with a very evident spirit of conciliation. The first contest disposed of was that from the fifth and sixth Virginia districts where double the number of delegates and alternates had been elected. This question was referred back to the Virginia state committee with a request that the state committee settle the question. Then Chairman Hillis called attention to the fact whereas the 13 districts of Texas had each elected two delegates under the call for the convention, they were entitled to only a single delegate each. Hillis recommended that inasmuch as Texas had acted in good faith all the delegates be seated with one-half a vote each. There was considerable opposition to acting forthwith and finally the entire question was sent to a committee comprising Committee-men Smoot and Warren. The committee then ordered all uncontested delegations placed on the temporary roll and then directed that all contests be taken up alphabetically. Chairman Hillis then sprang another innovation when he suggested that in all contested cases the committee-men from that state be requested to refrain from voting on that contest. This was agreed to without protest.

Say Higher Wages Cause a Serious Economic Loss

International News Service: WASHINGTON, June 1.—A serious economic loss has resulted from the general wage increases granted by employers in the United States, according to reports of a general investigation into labor conditions made by federal reserve agents. The reports made public by the federal reserve board today state that as the men can now get as much money by working short hours as they did formerly by working longer, they are laying off and therefore retarding production at a time when the United States is on trial to determine whether or not she can serve the world industrially. "There is almost universal complaint," says the report from the Philadelphia reserve bank, "that as wages are increased a large class of wage earners become less productive and the failure of industrial plants to make sufficient or reasonable output is preventing the realization of much, if any, profit from operations. Instead of taking advantage of the present wonderful opportunity to make large earnings, they are apparently not netting much more than formerly when wages were so much lower. The whole country is suffering economic loss."

Hope is Evident In Irish Situation

International News Service: LONDON, June 1.—Despite the announcement of the government press bureau that the report of a reconciliation between the hostile political factions in Ireland was premature, the utmost hopefulness was felt today. The press regards the situation in Ireland as more satisfactory than at any time since the Sinn Feiners rose in revolt in Dublin. David Lloyd-George, the pacificator, has held conferences with John Redmond, of the Irish nationalists, and Sir Edward Carson, of the Ulster unionists, and that he has made progress toward the pacification of the island is evident. It was reported that King George has advised to go to Ireland. Many persons believe that a visit of the king would arouse the loyalty of the people and go far toward allaying the high feeling which naturally accompanied the insurrection.
