"Digest's" 11,000,000 Poll

WOOD JOHNSON HOOVER
McADOO WILSON EDWARDS

THE LITERARY DIGEST'S national presidential poll of 11,000,000 voters is now in its seventh week, and the results are of more than usual interest as the date for the Republican National Convention approaches. More than a million and a half votes have been counted up to date, and they sound the depths of political feeling in every part of the nation. The votes, state by state, of thirty-five candidates are tabulated in this week's DIGEST. In scanning this tabulation it is noticeable that since the Southern states have become more adequately represented in the balloting, the disproportion between the total number of declared Republican and Democratic voters is not so great.

Don't miss reading THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, May 29th, not only because of the article showing how more than one million and a half voters have declared their choices for the Presidential nomination, but for the additional satisfaction you will derive from reading these articles:
