

MAJOR GENERAL WOOD SCHEDULED TO SPEAK AT LEGION MEETING

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 1.—The program for a state conference of commanders and adjutants of Indiana posts of the American Legion, to be held at Culver Military Academy, Saturday and Sunday, November 6 and 7, will include an address by Major-General Leonard A. Wood, according to announcement by L. Russell Newgent, state adjutant.

Approximately 500 Legionnaires will attend the conference. They will go to the conference at reduced railroad rates. Commanders of the state departments of Illinois and Ohio will be present.

The first session of the conference which will begin Saturday afternoon at 2:30, will open with music by the Culver cadet band. First call and assembly will bring the Legionnaires to attention, and they will sing "The Star Spangled Banner." The Rev. J. A. Lord, of Hebron, department chaplain, will give the invocation, and L. R. Gignilliat, department commander, who is commanding officer of the Culver Academy, will be host at the meeting, will call the Legionnaires to order.

Dr. John H. Gilpin, Ft. Wayne post commander, and Ross Hutchinson, Arlington post commander, will lead a discussion on stimulation of post attendance and social activities. Frank McHale, Logansport post commander, and Joseph D. O'Neal, Muncie post commander, will talk on plans for raising money for and equipping club rooms.

Plans for a state Legion basketball league, and district and state tournaments to determine the state championship, will be made following a discussion led by James H. Mason, of Gary, department athletic officer. Walter H. Unversaw, Kokomo post commander, will lead a discussion of auxiliary activities. Plans will be made for a state auxiliary membership drive, and for the formation of a state auxiliary organization. A state convention for the auxiliary will probably be held in December.

Witness Legion Ceremonial. At 7:30 p. m. the Legionnaires will witness a demonstration of the tableau and ceremonial to be followed by local posts in Armistice day celebrations for presentation of Victory medals. Music by the saxophone sextet of the 150th Field Artillery, moving pictures of Indiana Legion activities, and three 3-round boxing matches will be included in the program, which will close with a swim for the visitors.

The Sunday morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock, with an address by Dr. Don D. Tullis, educational director of the Indiana Y. M. C. A., who will talk on "The General Scholarship fund of the National War Work council of the Y. M. C. A." Judge Robert Marx, of Cincinnati, president of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, will talk on "Service to Our Disabled Comrades." Gerald J. Murphy, director of the national service division of the Legion will discuss a "Clean-up Campaign."

To Review Cadets. At 3 p. m., Major General Leonard A. Wood and F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the Legion, will review the infantry, cavalry, artillery and aviation corps of Culver cadets. Exhibitions will be given by the Black Horse troop and infantry corps in the gymnasium immediately afterward. The closing session will be held at 4:30 p. m., when addresses will be made by Judge Raymond S. Springer, on "The Legion's Americanization Program," and Major General Wood. Music by the cadet band will close the conference.

The Theatres

MURRETTE.
A company of extraordinary strength appears in "The Untamed," a big Tom Mix feature produced by William Fox, now playing at the Murette Theatre. Pauline Starke, who has played in many of the biggest productions in the history of the motion picture art, supports Mix in the role of Kate Cumberland. She will be remembered for her appealing pictures as "Soldiers of Fortune," "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" with Jack Pickford, "Eyes of Youth" with Clara Kimball Young, "Shoes that Danced," "The Courage of Marge O'Doon," and many other pictures of importance. She began her career as an extra girl with D. W. Griffith, and soon rose to star parts with the Triangle Company. George Seligmann, who plays Jim Silent in the picture, is perhaps the best known portayer of screen villains and "bad man" parts in the motion picture industry. He will always be remembered as the negro henchman in "The Birth of a Nation." Later he had similar roles in "Intolerance," "Hearts of the World," "The Little Yank," "Mother of Love and the Law" and "The Grafters." Seligmann also is a director of considerable distinction.

This Feeble, Aged Woman Tells How She Built Up Strength and Vitality.

She says: "I am seventy-three years of age and suffered from a weak, run-down condition, and was so feeble I could hardly get around, my daughter induced me to try Vinol, and it gave me a good appetite, I sleep well, am stronger and healthier in every way, so I can get around and do all my house work."

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the tissue building and medicinal elements of cod liver oil, beef peptone and glycerophosphates. If feeble, old people only realized the good Vinol will do them, our druggists would not be able to supply the demand.—Advertisement.

'The Untamed'
By MAX BRAND

A super-man, a demon horse and a devil dog—the strangest companionship ever seen. The savagery of thousands of years flowed in their veins and made them superior to others of their kind. Their leader was Whistling Dan. Tom Mix as "Whistling Dan" is a mystery man of the western desert. His shooting is beyond human comprehension. He shoots by instinct instead of training. His whistling was like the magic of wild things, the cry of the banshee—wild, soft and beautiful. That's why people loved him, feared him, and called him "Whistling Dan." He tasted his own blood and his eyes glared yellow like those of a wildcat in the dark. The instinct of thousands of years aroused "Whistling Dan" to savagery. People knew that only a man's death would appease his fury. See Tom Mix as "Whistling Dan" in Max Brand's own story, "THE UNTAMED."
