EARLY RETURNS SHOW ELECTION OF HARDING

FIRST EXTRA

G. O. P. NOMINEE CAPTURES EASTERN STATES AND FAR IN LEAD IN MIDDLE WEST

DAYTON, O., Nov. 2.—The Daily Daily News, Governor Cox's paper, is getting out an extra edition,憧憬ing the election of Senator Harding.

Shortly after 10 o'clock Will H. Hays, Republican national chairman, said: "Precisely as has been the case in every instance since the founding of the republic, the American people, when confronted with a grave decision, has decided right. The returns are overwhelming in favor of unimpeachable purity. It is an extraordinary degree of agreement on the part of the people as to who they want to conduct their common affairs and the course they want them to take."

The few score watchers not driven away by the rain, but who -almost immediately to the Finish line of the world-the New York World building suddenly illuminated with red lights—the signal that the newspaper, a staunch supporter of Governor Cox, had conceded the election of his rival. About the same time the New York Sun, which had championed the Republican banner, admitted defeat as the papers in the hoard that had been re-elected.

The New York Times, however, has supported the Democratic presidential nominee, as 9 o'clock has not accepted early returns as indicating his victory.

At 9 o'clock eastern time no single state had reported complete returns, but all over the east the cities were reporting heavy returns in favor of Harding.

Just before 9 o'clock the New York World, which supported Cox, flashed a signal that Harding had a landslide in the east. In New York and New England, as in Ohio and Indiana, the majority being reported indicated a landslide in the east.

Chairman Hays of the Republican committee, at that time had issued no statement, but John T. Adams, in charge of Republican western headquarters, proclaimed a landslide for Harding and buried the Wilson league of nations.

Chairman White of the Democratic national committee here, had said he had every reason to predict that Cox would be elected by the states west of the Allegheny mountains.

"He had a less ample set of voters than Cox to do everything," the chairman said.

"Congressional returns at 9 o'clock were meager and in no case of sufficient volume to indicate which party would have control. In Indiana, which breaks the first was from New York, but they were not sufficient to indicate the result."

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—John T. Adams, in charge of Republican western headquarters, in a statement to The Associated Press at 8 o'clock said: "The landslide is here. It is a triumph for Americanism, a triumph for the vindication of the American people. Early returns indicate the American people have spoken plainly."
