

BUILDING SUPPLIES
PRINCIPAL PRODUCT OF INDIANA QUARRIES

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 15.—Indiana's rich endowment of structural materials and ceramic resources is set forth in a pamphlet written by Dr. W. N. Logan, state geologist in the department of conservation. In case of extreme isolation, Dr. Logan declares Indiana could produce for her own needs enough coal, petroleum and its products, gas, iron, building stones, lime, cement, salt, fertilizers, except phosphorus, paint pigments, mineral dyes and by an expensive process, aluminum. She would be without copper, nickel, lead, silver, gold and platinum.

Structural materials compose one of the state's most valuable natural resources, the underlying rock including an abundance of limestones and sandstones, shales and gravels, lime forming limestones and marls, shales, clays and marls, for the manufacture of cement.

His great-great-grandfather had died of heart disease at the age of ninety-seven, so his mother felt considerably worried over his condition. He was only twenty-one, so she hired a physical trainer and lung fever thermometers all over the place. And then he saw Dorothy. The story is "Turning the Tables," by W. H. Hast.

MURRETTE
"Peaceful Valley," the well known Sel Smith Russell success, which has a record of 5,207 stage performances, was at last transferred to the screen with Charles Ray, the popular young actor, playing the leading role.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medicine Co., (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Big improvement in local man since he took Dreco, the root and herb remedy.

The plan of advertising the new medicine, Dreco, is so open and above board and shows such honesty of purpose on the part of the owners, it is small wonder that Dreco has sprung into such popular favor everywhere it is introduced.
