

FORMER GREENVILLE MAN HELD AT REQUEST OF DETROIT POLICE

GREENVILLE, July 28.—Following advices received in a telegram from the Detroit authorities, local police have arrested Harry Johnson, former Greenville man, and confined him to the city jail to await the arrival of an officer from Detroit, where he is wanted on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense. Johnson, who is married, was in Greenville on a visit, and at first stated he would return to Michigan without requisition papers, but after a consultation with Attorney Kerlin has decided to fight the case.

First Greenville Rain.
One and fifty-three hundredths inches of rain fell here within 25 minutes yesterday afternoon, according to Government Weather Observer George Katzenberger. It is the first real rain experienced in this vicinity this summer.

Ratlift Body to Arrive.
Word has been received by Mrs. Norah Fry, in this city, that the body of her son, Denver T. Ratlift, private in the 356th Infantry, who met death in action overseas, will arrive in Greenville in the near future. Prior to his enlistment in the army, young Ratlift was well known in this city.

Witwer Asks Divorce.
A second petition for divorce has been filed in common pleas court here by Henry Witwer, against his wife, Ruth Witwer. The plaintiff some time ago asked for a divorce from Mrs. Witwer on the grounds of neglect of duty, but upon her promise of good behavior, he withdrew his petition July 9. He now alleges that she has failed to make good her promise and has failed to perform her household duties, and that their life has been one of constant turmoil. He asks for absolute divorce, and that his wife be barred from any interest in his property.

Woman is Fined.
Upon being arraigned in juvenile court here yesterday morning, Myrtle Weller, alias Myrtle Smiley, of Union City, who had been confined to the county jail pending hearing on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of three minors, Jennie and Elva Burch and Estella Abernathy, plead guilty. Judge Teegarden fined the woman $50 and costs, and sentenced her to serve sixty days in the county jail.

MURRAY
Betty Compson, whose first starring picture, "Prisoners of Love," comes to the Murray Theatre, Thursday, possesses but a single piece of jewelry—a black opal given to her by her father when she was a child. Contrary to general superstition, it has brought her the best of luck, for from a violinist in a vaudeville theatre at fifteen dollars a week, she has ascended to motion picture stardom and has her own producing company. Miss Compson declares that the belief that opals bring ill fortune is pure fallacy, and that this tale was invented by African diamond merchants who feared opals would surpass diamonds in popularity.

MURRETTE
When Otis Harlan is working in the movies he drives a small sedan flivver, the better to get about quickly and avoid accidents or possible theft. During the filming of the latest Hodgkinson release, "Keeping Up With Lizzie," Mr. Harlan was cast in one of the leading roles. One day he was hastening to location in the country and as it was very early and the road deserted he "stepped on it" in order to catch up with a car ahead which he assumed to be that of Enid Bennett, who played the star role of "Lizzie" in "Keeping Up With Lizzie." Just as he flashed past he saw that the car that he had taken for Miss Bennett's was full of traffic officers. There was a shot and call or halt, and poor Harlan pulled up at the side of the road.

Great Circus Riders Coming Aug. 5

It is unqualifiedly claimed that never before have so many of the greatest riders in the world been brought together for a single performance as in the program of Howe's Great London Circus and Van Amburg's Trained Wild Animals which will exhibit here on Friday, Aug. 5. The most expert artists from the four corners of the earth have been successfully induced to unite in the enormous bill of these supreme shows. The three rings of the huge circus are filled with equestrian acts of novelty, peril and exclusiveness from the time the arenic program begins until the ending two hours later.

"What do you mean by exceeding the speed limit like that?" asked one of the officers. "I was late to location and was just trying to keep up with Lizzie. Anyhow there wasn't anybody on the road and I thought—"

HOW HER CHILD WAS HELPED
Almost every day men and women write to Foley & Co., telling how Foley Kidney Pills have relieved them from backache, lameness, soreness, rheumatic pains, kidney and bladder trouble. Mrs. H. Stegall, Theodore, Ala., writes: "My child suffered for 12 years with weak bladder. I tried several doctors, also different medicines, with no results whatever. I tried Foley Kidney Pills. They cured my child in four months. I am thankful for it and recommend your medicine." Refuse substitutes. A. G. Lukin & Co., 524-528 Main.—Advertisement.

their hosts of friends in a national movement to fight the growth of professional puritanism.

"Our object in holding this convention in San Francisco," said Flaherty, "is to give every man attending it an opportunity to see the United States before passing upon this ambitious program for the benefit of America. The mere vision of this great country will inspire every man attending the convention with the utmost enthusiasm."

"In addition to the program already mentioned, we shall receive from Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco, $40,000,000 the knights had provided Catholic hierarchy in the United States, a call to fight lax divorce laws in this country. We have discovered in the Knights of Columbus work of securing homes for dependent orphans that children suffer greatly through lax divorce laws—to a greater extent, in fact, than through the deaths of household bread winners.

"This is an evil to which the paid reformers might well turn their energies instead of pestering the American people with foolish movements designed to restrict personal liberty."

No Expense to Service Men
Flaherty added that the Knights of Columbus record showed that with one of the leading members of the Knights of Columbus and free creature comforts for 5,000,000 men during the war, secured employment for more than 300,000 after the war, technical training for 130,000 former service men and women, college education for 500 veterans, and that now the Knights were maintaining an educational system of 128 night schools throughout the country and providing recreation and creature comforts for 25,000 men in 62 military, marine and government hospitals.

All this work, he concluded, had been done without costing a cent to any service man. The Knights of Columbus convention will vote to continue the work until the last man is cared for.

Sow Turnips in Garden to Follow Early Vegetables

As a crop to utilize garden space after early vegetables have been harvested, nothing is better than the turnip. Turnips should be planted in most parts of the country about July 25, but in the extreme South as late as the last of August and can be left in the ground until after several light frosts or all winter in the South. They are useful as a table vegetable and to a limited extent will supply the place of potatoes. It is the general opinion of specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture that the American public could consume many more turnips than it does, a fact of particular interest this year when there seems every indication of a curtailed potato crop.

For field sowing, turnips are usually broadcast. The particular requirement is a reasonably rich soil finely raked and leveled off to avoid water collecting in pools. The seed should be sowed sparingly. One homey rule is to take the quantity which seems sufficient and divide it in half. After the seeds have been scattered on the surface of the ground, they should be well raked in. This may be done by dragging a piece of brush over the ground. The surface should be well smoothed. It is a good plan to sow turnips just after a rain, giving them opportunity to sprout before a crust forms. After sowing they will need little attention until harvest.

IT DOES PAY TO FEED TANKAGE

A hog feeding demonstration forcibly brought out the fact that under dry lot conditions, it takes 13 bushels of corn to make 100 pounds of pork. By feeding tankage with the corn, it required but 7½ bushels of corn and 33 pounds of tankage to make 100 pounds of pork. By applying local prices, any one can tell whether it pays to feed tankage. We do not recommend feeding in dry lot; nevertheless, many folks are feeding that way. No one claims that tankage is the best high protein supplement there is. Skimmed milk is better and in the feeding trials conducted at Purdue University, fish meal showed up a little better. We aren't arguing for tankage; we are saying that fattening on corn alone without a high protein supplement is not a paying business. Nevertheless, tankage is more available than most of the others. The dairyman selling whole milk has to feed tankage as well as the professional hog producer.

TIMELY HINTS

If you want fine looking muskmelons, place a shingle under each ripening melon to keep it clean and so there will be no yellow blotch on the underside.

Morning is the time to weed and cultivate (except with beans, when covered with dew), because the weeds can be thoroughly baked by the sun all day and thus prevented from taking root again.

Summer pruning of fruit trees is now in order. It should be nothing more than a light shaping process.

Black raspberries may be multiplied by bending over the canes, holding them down with a stone or peg and covering the tips with earth. New plants will be formed by fall. Gooseberries are increased by rounding up earth around the base of the bush. Later, the branches that have formed roots may be removed as cuttings.

If your catalpa trees are being ravaged by the catalpa sphinx, a yellow and black worm about two inches long, spray the trees thoroughly with arsenate of lead, one ounce to two gallons of water. If in small numbers, the worms may be shaken from small trees and crushed under foot.

Windbreaks are in many ways a farmer's asset. They tend to prevent the soil from drying out quickly and they protect grain and orchards from injury by the wind. A belt of trees near the farm buildings protects them from extreme cold and from summer's heat. Trees make the farm a pleasanter place in which to live. The windbreak may be also a source of wood supply for fuel or for sale.

Don't Stop Feeding Chicks

"When can I quit feeding the chicks?" wrote a farm woman recently to the poultry department of Purdue university. Like many others this woman believed that the chickens would grow satisfactorily if allowed to shift for themselves after they were big enough to get around. This is a mistake. Feeding of grain and a dry mash, containing meat scraps or tankage, is desirable throughout the season so that the pullets may be matured and started to laying before cold weather.

GOOD RATION TO FEED BROILERS FOR MARKET

Many farm men and women in Indiana will be getting broilers ready for the market during the next few weeks. The ration fed for several years on the Purdue university poultry farm which has given best results consists of two pounds of corn meal, one pound of shorts, one pound of ground oats, eight pounds of buttermilk.

This should be mixed and allowed to stand and sour for 24 hours before feeding, and then placed in a trough in front of the birds, only outside the crate. The birds always appear ravenous and eat greedily. If they do not, something is wrong and they should be taken from the crate. Give them all they will clean up in 30 minutes twice daily and no more. After feeding, clean and dry the trough so that it will be ready for the next feeding.

Water is not necessary except in hot weather, and grit should be fed every few days. Two weeks is the average length of time to feed. The greatest gain is made the first week but in most cases it is profitable to continue another week.

LET'S TALK "GOOD TIMES"

We all think we have the hardest time in life of anybody on earth, but if we compare notes with other folks we will find that every one thinks about the same way. Foolish business to look at it that way, though. Let's talk good times. It will help us to have the best time ever.
