DUBLIN COMMUNITY FAIR ARRANGEMENTS BOOSTED AT MEETING

DUBLIN, Ind., Jan. 28.—Further arrangements for the annual community fair to be held in Dublin next fall were made at a committee meeting held in Dublin Friday afternoon. Names of possible heads of departments of the fair were submitted and decided upon by the committee. These names will be presented for approval at a mass meeting to be held Thursday afternoon of next week.

The question of formal organization, adoption of constitution and by laws, date for the fair, election of officers, directors and department superintendents, are all to be considered at the mass meeting, to which all who may be interested are being invited. All actions of the committees so far have been taken subject to the approval of this mass meeting.

Department superintendents who were nominated Friday are as follows: Nat Moore, horses; Webb Rummell, cattle; Horace Cole, hogs; Lindley Baker, sheep; E. C. Test and John Kepler, poultry; Howard Harter, fruit and vegetables; Charles McCann, grain. Art, domestic science and baby show department heads are yet to be named. In case a pig club department is conducted, as is the wish of several, John Adrien will be named as superintendent.

B street is to be hostess to the Daffodil club Thursday afternoon.

The Enterprise class of the East Street Friends' church will meet on South Sixteenth street, Friday afternoon.

The W. W. class of the New Westville Sunday school entertained with one of the most successful and enjoyable parties of the season for its members and their families. About 50 persons were present. A business session was held at which officers were re-elected and committee chairmen re-appointed, with the exception of the social committee of which Mrs. John Cox was appointed chairman.

The class president is Mrs. Agnes Watts and the vice-president Mrs. Harry Lancaster. The class made arrangements to remember several persons who are ill. Later the evening was spent in a social manner. Games were played and elaborate refreshments served to the guests. Following refreshments a flower contest was held.

The flower contest was held, Mrs. Milo Stegall and William Arnold winning the favors. Among those present with their families were: Mr. and Mrs. John Cox, Mr. and Mrs. John Watts, Mrs. Bert Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ketron, Miss Mary McWhinney, Miss Malvin Pryfoogle, Mrs. Elsie Hicks, and Miss Essie Ballinger.

The West Richmond W. C. T. U. will meet at the Community house Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

GENTER INSTITUTE WILL OPEN TUESDAY

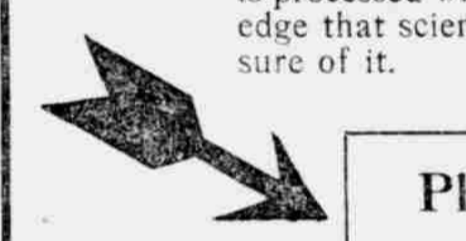

CENTERVILLE, Jan. 28.—With corn judging school, domestic science show, and special entertainments on both days, residents of Centerville and Center township are anticipating much pleasure in the annual farmers' institute, to be held in Centerville, on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

An even better program than last year's has been arranged and indications already show promise of an attendance that will far surpass other farmers' institutes of this year, all of which are arousing more interest than ever before.

The usual plan of meeting expenses will be followed by the presentation of a special program under the direction of Miss Bessie Buhl on the second evening to which a small admission fee will be charged. This evening last year was remembered as one of the most enjoyable features of the whole institute.
