

LOCAL RECORD.

A Chance to do Good.—A Soldier's Home has recently been established in Indianapolis, of which Commissary General Stone is in charge. In a letter to the Indianapolis Journal Gen. Stone says that the Home is now in complete operation. Government furnishes rations to feed the soldiers with, which consists of meat, flour, coffee, sugar, rice, beans, molasses, and vinegar, but no vegetables. We know that our people have vegetables to spare, and we hope they will embrace this opportunity of doing good by sending immediately to the "Soldier's Home, Indianapolis, Ind.," a good supply. Let it be done at once. The names of the donors will be remembered in the columns of the "Home." Bring your vegetables and leave them with E. J. Patton, Esq., who will attend to shipping it.

Exemption from the Draft.—We have learned of two fellows in this County, one of whom shot one of his fingers off, and the other cut one off. The one who used powder in a pistol examination is reported as making the following inquiry of his physician, after he had amputated his finger: "Doctor, do you think this will exempt me from the draft?" Brave, patriotic boys! they may yet have an opportunity of taking their chances for the draft along with others. We hope they may draw lucky numbers.

Volunteers From Randolph County.—The following volunteer companies have been raised in this county within the past twenty days. It will be seen by the list that most of the companies are full, while the others are nearly so:

- Lieut. Bouchraque, Winchester, company full and in camp.
Lieut. Miller, Jackson and Ward town, ships, company nearly full and will leave for camp on tomorrow.
Lieut. Jackson, Spartanburg, full and in camp.
Lieut. Longfellow, J. M., full and in camp.
Lieut. Ross, Huntsville, full and in camp.
Lieut. B. Ross, Cambridge, full and in camp.
Lieut. Carter, Winchester, company nearly full—will leave for camp Monday next.
Lieut. Farley, Union City, company nearly full—will go into camp in a few days. Making in all eight companies, with an aggregate of between six and seven hundred men.

These companies, as we stated in our last issue, have been recruited in this county, during the past twenty days, and are composed of men of mettle—men who go out in defense of their country with a cheerful though fixed determination to conquer or die—men who, when opportunity offers, will fight to the death for the glorious stars and stripes. The God of battles go with them.

We request the officer in charge of each company to forward to us for publication, as early as convenient, a copy of their respective muster rolls.

Arthur's Home Magazine for September is upon our table, in advance of all other monthlies. It contains two fine steel engravings, a large amount of good family reading, parlor amusements, hints for house keepers, etc. We can furnish this magazine to the patrons of the Journal for the low price of $1.25.

Jay County has sent 500 men to war, and volunteering is still going on. We believe that Randolph and Jay have sent more men to the army, in proportion to their population, than any other two counties in the State. Bully for Jay and Randolph!

Lieut. Jesse Way, of the 8th Indiana, left this place on last Tuesday with seven or eight recruits for his regiment, which is stationed at Helena Ark.

A large war meeting was held at Portland on last Saturday. We learn that it was the largest meeting ever assembled in that County. It was addressed by Gen. Carey and Col. Stanks.

Killed.—On the 7th inst. two men named Edward Shoemaker and Adam Jack had a difficulty near Ridgeville, which resulted in the death of the former. The particulars of this sad affair, as near as we have been able to ascertain them, are about as follows:

It seems that for some time previous the two men had not been on very friendly terms with each other, and that on Monday the 7th inst., Shoemaker made an assault upon Jack, while the latter was engaged in thrashing wheat. For some reason, Shoemaker was arrested on the following day, and fined, at which proceedings he was very much exasperated. At the close of the trial, Mr. Jack left the Justice's office, and had mounted his horse to return home, when Shoemaker again attacked him in a violent manner, seizing him by the leg and striking to drag him off his horse, swearing that he would whip him to death in the attempt. At this stage of the affair, Mr. Jack, who was much alarmed, and who had vainly endeavored to release himself from Shoemaker's grasp, drew from his pocket a common pocket knife and, after several unsuccessful thrusts, finally succeeded in striking him in the neck, severing the jugular, and causing his death in less than five minutes afterwards.

Mr. Jack immediately gave himself up, and after a preliminary examination was held, he was bound over in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the next term of court.

To Randolph Volunteers.—As many of the boys who have volunteered from this County want the Journal while in the service we have concluded to let them have it at 50 cents a year, in advance. If there are clubs made up in the several companies so that we can send a fair sized bundle to each, we think there will be no difficulty about their reaching the camps regularly. If we were not all able, we would not think of asking even as much as fifty cents for the Journal, which is barely the cost of the paper—but there are many wanting it, and to send to all gratis would be impossible with us.

The election of officers for Lieut. Bouchraque's company at Richmond, on yesterday, resulted as follows: Captain—G. H. Bouchraque; 1st Lieut.—J. K. Martin; 2d Lieut.—J. S. Way.

Thos. Reese, of Windsor, has a few bushels of Alabama wheat, which he says is a superior quality and very productive. A sample may be seen at E. Martin's Warehouse. Read his advertisement in another column.

A young man by the name of Amos Wilcox, was struck by lightning and instantly killed, on the 4th inst., while driving a team near Muncie. The Times says: "Two young men were sitting near Mr. Wilcox at the time, but miraculously escaped death, although they were badly stunned. The horses were also knocked senseless."

We are under obligations to Jas. H. Stone, Co. C, 13th Ind. Vol., for a copy of the "Daily Federal Republican," dated "Georgetown, (Col.) March 20 1861.

David Kinsey, Esq., has the thanks of the "whole crew" of the Journal office, for a basketful of large apples. May he live a long and happy life.

Our markets are well supplied with fruit of all kinds. Apples and pears have not been so abundant for many years.

The addition to Neff & Teal's Warehouse is completed. This firm is buying large quantities of wheat, and is paying good prices.

Elias L. Watson, Esq., this week announces his name as a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney for the District composed of the Counties of Randolph, Delaware, Blackford and Jay. Mr. Watson is too well and favorably known all over the District to need any commendation from us.

HON. GEO. W. JULIAN.

By the bills already posted, it will be seen that Mr. Julian is to speak here to-day, (Friday,) at 2 o'clock, p. m.

We can but urge all persons to give him a hearing. If you have, in former years, imbibed prejudice against him, we ask you to lay it aside, and listen to him dispassionately in the light and teachings of the present times. If he is radical, hear his reasons for it. If you intend to vote understandingly this Fall, come and hear his speech on the condition of the country. If he is wrong, you may discredit; if he is right, do him justice.

HENRY COUNTY ALL RIGHT.

From a letter in the Indianapolis Journal of yesterday, we learn that at the primary election in Henry County on last Saturday, Hon. G. W. Julian received the nomination for Congress—nine townships or about three-fourths of the county going for him. Thus Mr. Julian has received the nomination in three of the largest counties in the District—Wayne, Randolph and Henry—which already nominates him as candidate for Congress. To these will be added three-fourths of Union county, and perhaps one-half of Delaware, though in that county the opposition are running a local candidate—who does not expect to receive the nomination of the District—for the sole purpose of defeating Julian. As it is, they have a hard race to run. The primary election in these two counties, as also in Fayette, comes off to-morrow. We will be able to give the result in our next issue.

About twenty-five more Jay County soldiers arrived here on last Sunday evening; and on Monday morning proceeded to Camp Wabash. We learn they were to fill up the company from that County which passed through here two weeks since. They were a fine lot of soldiers.

The Richmond, Jeff. says that Gen. K. Moore was in Richmond one day last week. It understands he is still a candidate for Congress, but declines going before the 10th of September Convention.

Lieut. Bouchraque's Company, which left here on Wednesday last, on its return to Richmond, were served to a splendid dinner by the citizens of New-Port, as they passed through that place.

Ben Harrison, late Register of the Supreme Court, has been commissioned Colonel of the 70th Regiment.

Edward Kizer is selling out the entire stock of dry goods, &c., at cost, for the ready cash.

A regiment of 1,000 men has been raised in Franklin County, Tenn., in two weeks.

The new addition to E. J. & Neff's Warehouse is approaching completion.

E. R. McConnell is building a new bake oven.

Indiana's quota of the 300,000 militia is 22,000.

The 19th Indiana battery—in camp at Cambridge City—is full.

J. W. Rappaport has retired from the Muncie Free Press, leaving J. P. Duckwall sole proprietor of all his "scraps." Mr. Duckwall wishes a ready pen, is an unconditional Union man, and as an editor, is doing good service in the Union ranks.
