

INDIANA TO SHOW 'SKYSCRAPER' STARTING TODAY

William Haines Will Be Featured in 'West Point' at Loew's Palace Starting Today—'The Sea Hawk' Opens at the Circle.

"SKYSCRAPER," with William Boyd, Alan Hale, Sue Carol and Alberta Vaughn in the leading parts and "Knick Knacks," stage show produced by John Murray Anderson, are offered at the Indiana beginning today. "Skyscraper" is a comedy of a pair of steel workers who make their living erecting skyscrapers. William Boyd and Alan Hale, the former known for his work in "The Volga Boatman," and the latter workers.

While avowed enemies, they are in reality close friends and when they meet two girls whom both try to win, the battle is on again.

Sue Carol is one of the new comers to the screen. Alberta Vaughn won her prestige in two-reel comedies.

Charlie Davis has another stage show in "Knick Knacks." Charlie and his band provide a program of popular melodies.

The Foster Girls have another group of routine dances. Mildred and Muriel Lee twins, are two fast eccentric dancers. Winfred and Mills, are two blackface comedians.

Lora Hoffman is a songstress having appeared here recently in the show, "Dance Caprice." The Keith Brothers, entertainer, are also members of the "Knick Knacks" company.

The show is produced in the usual John Murray Anderson fashion. Stuart Barrie's organ solo is "Battle of the States."

WEST POINT FILM

Cheering crowds—the thrill of the great Army-Navy football game—parade at West Point, with the cadet corps in spectacular maneuvers; the romantic old battlements of the great school for Uncle Sam's officers as a background for a romance—these are some of the ingredients of "West Point." William Haines' newest picture which makes its Indianapolis premier at Loew's Palace today.

It is said to be a story of youth, love and romance. And of course there's William Haines.

As the "wise-cracking" young football star, who comes to West point to learn, through bitter experience, what the spirit and tradition of the cadet corps means, Haines' role, the picture is a comedy in "West Point." William Haines' newest picture which makes its Indianapolis premier at Loew's Palace today.

The bulk of the picture was actually taken at West Point, with the cadets as a huge supporting cast.

Jean Crawford is the heroine and the belle of all the cadets, and Ralph Emerson and Neil Neely are Haines' cadet associates. "Reflections of 1928" is the stage show, and others seen at the Palace is produced by Mort Harris. This time, however, Mr. Harris has stated that this show will surpass all others in scenic effects. Heading the cast is Duci de Kerekjardo, concert violinist. Other acts to be seen are Frankie Morris, Gilbert and Sues and Lupow and Dupree, Emil Seidel, with Dutty Rhoades and the Palace stage orchestra, the Hoosier Rockets, Lester Huff and short subjects complete the show.

"SEA HAWK" ON VIEW AT CIRCLE

Milton Sills, who is remembered for his work in "The Sea Hawk," comes to the Circle next week in "The Hawk's Nest," as the first week of a program featured by Dick Powell's "Summer Follies."

Next week's show also marks the third week of Coleman Goetz, the "Ace of Mirth Makers." Coleman Goetz has prepared his third funny act for the new show, which will include five other acts.

Among the stars who will illuminate the "Summer Follies" are Ed and Morton Beck, dancers; Sally Sweet, harmonist; Edward Galbreath, tenor; Jones and Elliott, ballroom dancers, and Gene Sheldon, comedian.

"The Hawk's Nest" is an original story of a relentless avenging mystery man who rules an unseen world with unseen power. Forced by a terrible disfigurement to hide until he can meet the world again, this man, known as the Hawk, rules in his "nest."

To Go on Tour

The New York company of "The Desert Song," has just closed in Philadelphia after two seasons of eight consecutive weeks, about sixty of which were played on Broadway. The Chicago company, after nine months in that city, is now enjoying a summer run in Detroit. Two companies of this musical play will tour the country next season.

blossoms between the Hawk and the pampered beauty of his most deadly rival. It's a drama of a man who fought single-handed against the invisible forces of a world of shadows to save the life of a man who had once saved his. The usual shorter Circle feature will be a part of the program.

APOLLO HOLDS OVER TALKING FILM

"Glorious Betsy" will continue as the attraction at the Apollo next week. It is a spectacle in which the silent drama augments its tenses moments by the use of dialog, the interpolative symphonic accompaniment fades, and in its place comes the emotional medium of the human voice—the words end, and again the strains of the music take up the theme.

"Glorious Betsy" is the love story of Betsy Patterson, belle of Baltimore, and Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon, who separated them after their romantic courtship and marriage. Dolores Costello portrays the exquisite Betsy. The usual Movietone News Reels and Vitaphone vaudeville features will be added.

DOUBLE BILL IS AT OHIO

The Ohio Theater presents on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes in "Sailor's Wives," a so-called "lety drama. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Monte Blue is featured in "Across the Atlantic," a romance of an aviator, who flies across the ocean. In addition the Ohio is also presenting the usual shorter subjects.

"Sailor's Wives," is from the pen of Warner Fabian, who wrote "Flaming Youth," and "Summer Bachelors." This tale is said to be in the same vein and concerns the doings of a very fast group of young people.

Earle Foxe, Olive Tell, Burr McIntosh and Robert Schable are in the supporting cast. Monte Blue, Edna Murphy and Burr McIntosh are the three stars of "Across the Atlantic."

Robert Armstrong and Lina Basset are to play the leading roles in "Celebrities." The story is from a stage play of last season by the same name.

New Beery Part

Wallace Beery, character and comedy ace, prepared for his latest role in "Beggars of Life" by a vacation at his cabin at Silver Lake, in the Sierras.

New Picture

Billie Dove is preparing to start on her new starring picture in which she is to be directed by Alexander Korda. The entire action of the film takes place on the first night of the World War.

1—"Glorious Betsy," the story of the love of Napoleon's brother for the bells of Baltimore, is being held over at the Apollo. It is a talking picture. 2—Monte Blue will be seen in an aviator role at the Ohio starting today and running through Tuesday in "Across the Atlantic." 3—William Boyd and Alan Hale have the leading male roles in the story of steel workers, "Skyscraper," which will start at the Indiana today. 4—"West Point," a story of youth, love and romance, is the name of the feature picture to be shown at the Loew's Palace Theater, starting today, with William Haines in the leading part. 5—The feature picture at the Circle for the week, beginning today, will be "The Hawk's Nest," with Milton Sills as the leading actor. This is a mystery picture.

Mystery Sky Pilot at Resort

Broad Ripple Will Offer Other Attractions to Visitors.

HOW would you like to be starting into eternity with only a few yards of silk fashioned into a parachute to save you? This is what will face the "Mysterious Sky Pilot" at Broad Ripple Park tomorrow when he makes his balloon ascension and parachute drops as an added feature of the day's program.

The mysterious one appeared at the park last season. Since then he has completed a trip around the globe and later did stunt flying for motion pictures. While flying in Australia he was presented with an omen of good luck in the shape of a mounted tooth from a baby kangaroo. This he has carried since on all flights. "The pilot makes an appearance attired in a suit of white silk.

The program will include several other features, among them being a baseball game, aquatic events at the big swimming pool and in the athletic field.

The Auditorium Orthophonic, the huge music box which has the volume of ten bands and which has hooks in various parts of the park, will offer a special program furnished by the Wilking Music Company.

Added attractions will be presented at both the Moonlight Dance Garden, where music is played for the dancers by Rock Holland's Golden Oracles, and at the skating rink where music is supplied by the giant Victrola.

"Joy Lane," which is always a busy mart with its throngs of pleasure seekers, will bid for popularity with such excellent attractions as the Temple of Mystery, Bluebeard's Castle, the Ski, the long coaster ride, the Tumble Bug, the Whip, Merry-Go-Round, Shoot-the-Chutes, Kentucky Derby, Rifle Range, Doll Racks, Fairyland Flyer and others.

The management of the park will be host tomorrow to guests from Rush and Fayette Counties who will hold a joint outing.

To Direct Holt R. Richard Jones has signed a contract to direct the next Jack Holt starring western picture, "The Water Hole," based upon a Zane Grey story.

Sunday School Lesson

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 17, The Meaning of the Cross, Mark 15:22-26, 23-29.

By W.M.E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist

THE meaning of the cross may be considered in a twofold way. What did it mean for Jesus, and what does it mean for us?

What did it mean for Jesus? It meant for him what the way of sacrifice and death in fidelity to truth and right have meant for many others, both before he died on Calvary and since that tragic event.

Jesus died in the fulfillment of a law that runs through human life, a law that seems mysterious and unexplainable, but a law that is powerful, present, and persistent in human experience. It is the law of vicarious suffering, that the innocent suffer for and with the guilty, and for the sins of the world.

This does not mean that God, the righteous and loving Father, is punishing the innocent for the guilty, but it does mean that in some strange inexplicable way those whose lives are most deeply pledged to love and truth bear the burden of a world given over to sin and selfishness; and the world becomes purged of its hate and of its wrong through the suffering and sacrifice of its purest and truest souls.

This is the story of history, and Calvary is the noblest and purest expression of divine purposes wrought out through this law of vicarious suffering.

The cross meant for Jesus the way of the fulfillment of the Father's will. He was truly man; and with human weakness and human need he prayed that the cup might pass; yet with the divinity of his destiny he prayed also that the Father's will and not his own might be done.

The cross to Jesus meant the pouring out of all his love and all his life in the yearning purpose of redemption. It meant the climax of his revelation of the love of God. It is all beautifully expressed by one of the early Christian writers in his reference to Jesus "who loved us and gave himself for us."

When Jesus said upon the cross,

Character Part

Nelson McDowell, character actor, has been chosen to play the role of the famous trapper, Jim Bridger, in Fred Thomson's special, "Kit Carson."

Added to Cast

George Kotsonaros and Robert Brown have been added to the cast of "Beggars of Life," the Jim Tully story, in which Wallace Beery has the leading role.

Convalesces

Richard Dix, convalescing from his recent operation for appendicitis, has gone to a seashore resort in northern California for a rest before resuming activities in Hollywood. His next picture, will be a special production called "The Redskin."
