BOWMAN IS NEW CHAIRMAN.

HE IS ONE OF THE BEST KNOWN
YOUNG MEN IN WAYNE COUNTY AND IS ABLE SUCCESSOR TO ALONZO GARDNER.

PRIMARY HELD FEB. 10TH.

An Earlier Date Was Considered, But
It Was Finally Agreed That the Event Should Be Held Later—
Resolutions.

The campaign cigar and the practice of vote buying were tabooed, new officers elected and the date for the primary election set, this morning when the new Wayne county republican central committee met at the court house for the purpose of organization.

L. S. Bowman of Hagerstown, and one of the best known young men in the county was elected county chairman to succeed A. M. Gardner, who for several years faithfully served his party in this capacity. Richard Gean of this city was chosen as vice-chairman and Edward F. Warfel, a well known local newspaper man, was elected secretary. He succeeds Judge W. C. Converse, who while secretary of the committee made a splendid record for himself. William Plummer was elected treasurer. The executive board was appointed this afternoon.

The central committee unanimously adopted a rule which provides against any candidate "treating" or offering money to voters. Any candidate violating this rule will be punished by having his name scratched from the ticket. This rule is received by the numerous candidates as a God send and there is little chance of any of them violating it. The only ones who will suffer from the enactment of this rule is that class of human leeches who make a practice of living off of men who are running for public offices.

It was unanimously decided by the committee to hold the primary election on Monday, February 10. It was suggested by one committee member that the date for this primary be set for Monday February 2, but it was decided that this date would be too early. The following is the "anti-treat and anti-vote buying" rule adopted by the committee:

"The use of money or other things of value, directly or indirectly, in any manner, for the purpose of influencing or with the intent to influence, voters in this primary election, and all 'treating' by candidates is prohibited.

"Any candidate who shall, directly or indirectly, either by himself or through others, hire or employ any person to work for him at the polls on election day, or who shall, directly or indirectly, by the use of money or other things of value, or by the promise of any reward, money or thing of value whatsoever, attempt to influence or induce anyone to vote for him, or who shall, during his canvass, resort to the common practice of 'treating' voters, is hereby declared ineligible as a nominee for any office at such primary.

"And, any candidate who shall use any such method or means as aforesaid set forth shall thereby forfeit his right to become a nominee for any office at such primary, even though he shall receive a plurality or majority of the votes cast, and in such event the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes and who has not violated any provision of this rule, shall be and become the nominee for such office.

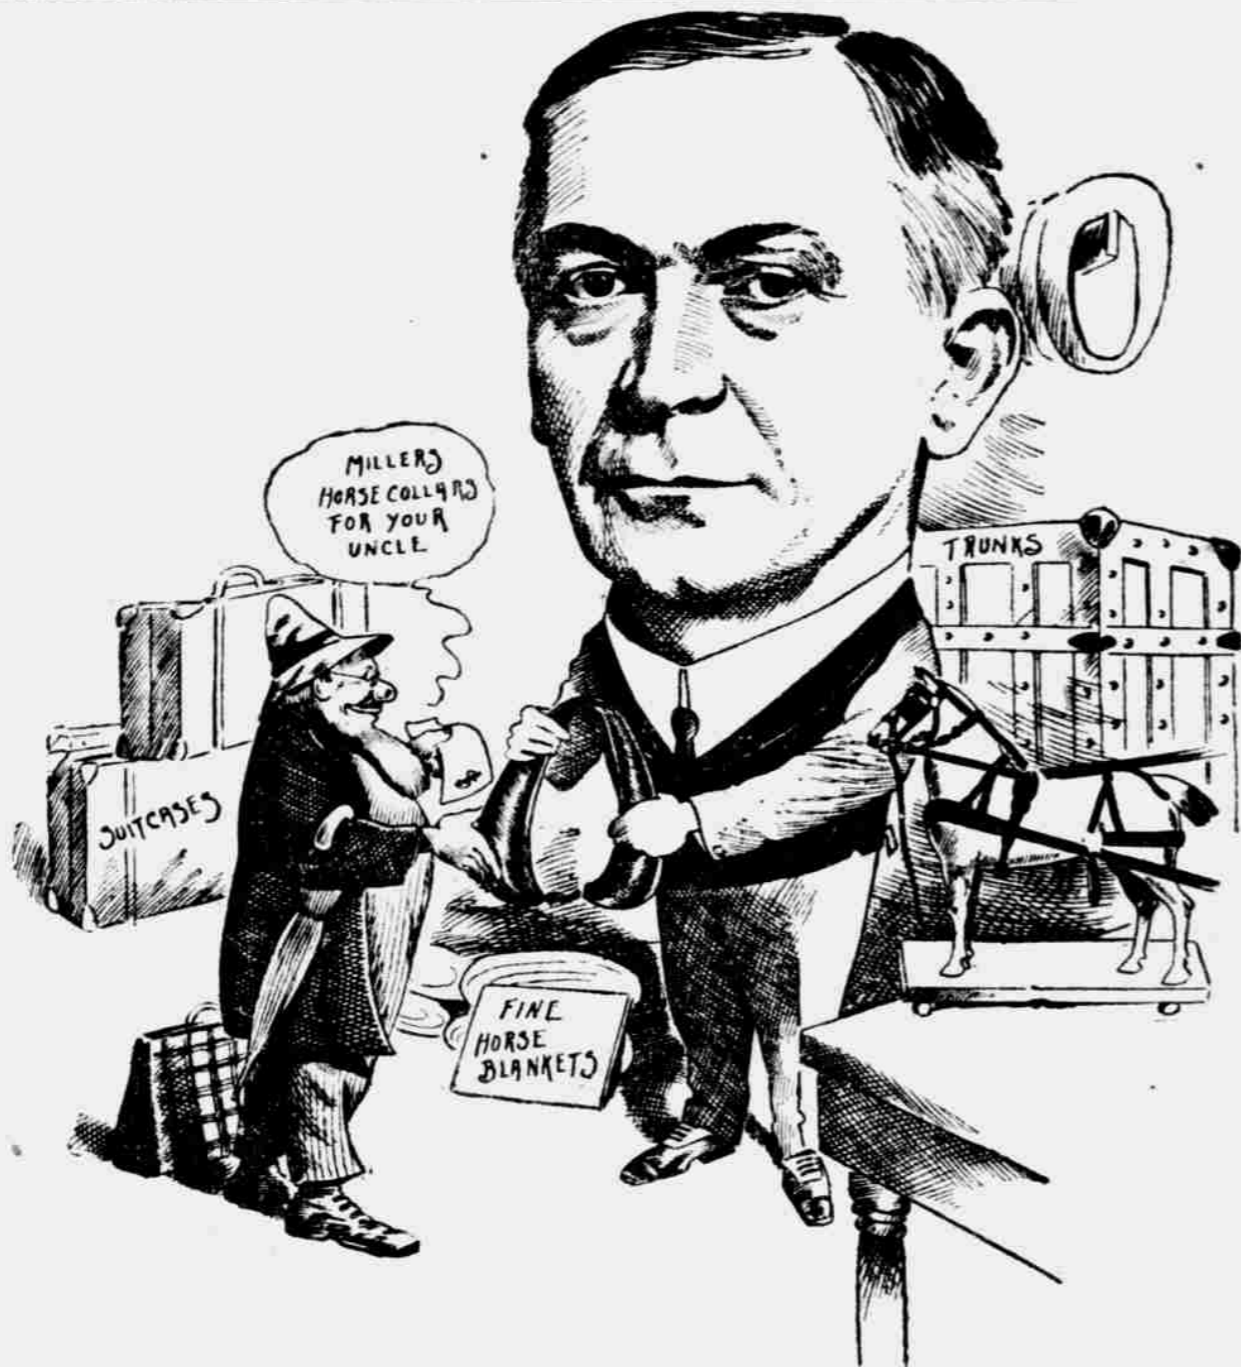

"This committee shall determine all questions arising under this rule, or the violation thereof, and the decision or finding of this committee shall be conclusive.

"Each candidate to be voted for in this primary, in consideration of having his name printed upon the ballot, must give his assent to this rule, in writing, and agree to be bound by its provisions."

WAVED GREETING TO HIS BROTHER THEN WAS KILLED

While Greeting His Brother, an Engineer on Approaching
Train, John C. Ullery Was Thrown Beneath Own Train

RELATIVE SMILED JUST BEFORE ENGINE STRUCK

Engineer Stopped His Train
Immediately and Ran to Pick Up the Lifeless Remains of His Brother.

About 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, John C. Ullery, conductor of a west bound Panhandle freight train, was struck by an engine on an east bound train and instantly killed. William Ullery, a brother was driving the engine which killed the man. This terrible tragedy occurred in the east railroad yards a few miles east of the city. Both trains were stopped immediately after the accident and William Ullery almost frantic with grief, jumped from the cab of his engine and ran to where the mangled remains of his brother lay. The body was picked up, placed on the west bound freight and brought into the city.

Day after day it had been the custom of the two brothers to exchange greetings with each other when their trains passed in the east yards. Sunday, John Ullery stood on the running board of the west bound freight train. He saw the train of which his brother William was engineer, rapidly approaching from the west. He gazed down the line of cars of his train to see whether any of them had come detached in the descent of that part of the yards known as "the hump."

Seeing that the cars were alright the man leaned far out from his place on the running board of the engine to wave at his brother William, who smiled at him as he sat at the throttle. John, however, leaned to far out, and in the fraction of a second his brother's engine struck him, hurrying the unfortunate man under the rapidly moving wheels of his own train. When the body was found it was cut and bruised almost beyond recognition. John and William Ullery resided in Indianapolis. The body has been taken there for burial. It was accompanied by William Ullery and the father, B. J. Ullery, who resides at Bradford, O. Funeral services will be held at the Ullery home, 202 North Temple avenue, tomorrow morning.

EGGEMEYER "FRAT" MAN.

When the many new students entered Indiana University the present semester, Carl Eggemeyer of this city was one of the number. "Mugs" as he is known by his close friends and associates here was picked as a likely fraternity man by the older collegians and he was rushed with a vengeance. Announcement is made that he has decided to throw his lot with Sigma Chi, one of the strong national college fraternities.

GEORGE ADE NOT CONVENTION DELEGATE Has Decided to Withdraw From Race.

Washington, Jan. 12.—George Ade has withdrawn from the race for delegate to the republican national convention. His decision not to permit the use of his name was communicated in a telegram from New York, where the author is now staying, to Congressman Crumpacker.

WILLIAM DUDLEY FOULKE TO SPEAK

Will Address the Members of
The Indiana Society at Annual Banquet.

"THE COUNTY LAWYER."

MANY OTHER CELEBRITIES IN INDIANA AUTHORITY WILL ALSO MAKE SPEECHES ON THIS MEMORABLE OCCASION.

On occasion of the third annual Indiana society banquet, which will be held in Chicago Jan. 28, William Dudley Foulke of this city will make an address to the unique organization composed of Indiana's prodigal sons. Invitations to the event have been issued and several Richmond boys row in the "windy city" will be in attendance. In speaking of the banquet a Chicago dispatch says:

"A state song, written by an Indiana poet, to be used as an official ballad at the banquet, is one of the features that is planned and Hoosier poets are asked to trim their pencils and get busy.

"The society at its first banquet had Senator Beveridge as its chief guest and speaker. Last year James Whitcomb Riley was the star. This year William Dudley Foulke of Richmond, Ind., is to deliver the principal address of the evening. Mr. Foulke will, for this occasion, lay aside his civil service reform slogans and talk of Indiana's output, endeavoring to show that the Hoosier state produces other excellent things than literature. Booth Tarkington, Meredith Nicholson, Charles Major, George Ade, George Parr McCutcheon and other climbers of the hill of Parnassus will be among those present and doubtless will enliven the occasion with a few well chosen remarks.

Other Celebrities to Take Part.

John T. McCutcheon is to be the toastmaster. Daniel Frazier Fowler, Indiana's legal light, who is renowned as a plucker of the tall feathers of the bird of oratory, will follow Mr. Foulke with an address on "The County Lawyer," and Wilbur D. Nesbit is to be on the program with a response to a toast.

COTTAGE PRAYER MEETING.

A cottage prayer meeting will be held Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mount, 415 Richmond avenue.

L. ERT SLACK WILL NOT SPEAK BEFORE THE CLUB

Forwarded Regrets to Sec'y
Haas, Sunday, and It Was Impossible to Secure Another
Speaker.

STRENUOUS EFFORTS TO LOCATE MAN, FAILED.

Addison C. Harris Accepted, and Afterward Declined, as
He Was at First Laboring
Under Misapprehension.

"Illness prevents me from filling my appointment. Very sorry.—L. Ert Slack."

The above telegram was received by Secretary Haas of the Richmond Commercial club yesterday. It meant that Mr. Slack would not be able to make an address before the club tonight, so immediately, Mr. Haas got busy and tried to secure some other speaker in place of the young senator. Mr. Haas's efforts, however, were fruitless, and the Commercial club members and their invited guests will hear no address this evening. There will be a regular meeting of the club and some important business will be transacted, so all members are urged to be present.

After receiving Mr. Slack's telegram, the local club secretary telephoned to A. F. Potts, one of the best known residents of Indianapolis who is actively identified with the Citizens' Gas company movement, but Mr. Potts said that it would be impossible for him to come to Richmond.

Mr. Haas then telephoned to Addison C. Harris at Indianapolis and asked him to appear before the club Monday night. Mr. Harris accepted. This morning Mr. Haas again telephoned Mr. Harris and asked him on what train he would arrive.

"What are you talking about?" asked Mr. Harris. "I have no intention of taking a train."

"You don't expect to walk, do you?" asked Mr. Haas.

"Who is this talking?" answered Harris. Mr. Haas then told him that it was the secretary of the Richmond Commercial club. With a laugh, Mr. Harris replied that he had been laboring under the impression that the invitation had been extended to him by the Indianapolis Commercial club. Mr. Harris then said that, much to his regret, it would be impossible for him to come to Richmond today.

After this disappointment Mr. Haas telephoned to ex-Governor Durbin at Anderson, and invited him to speak here this evening. Mr. Durbin also said that it would be impossible for him to come as he had to deliver an address this evening at Anderson.

REDS RAGE IN BERLIN STREETS DURING THE DAY

Thousands of Socialists Parade and Hold Monster
Mass Meetings Declaring
Against Decision.

POLICE CORDONS CUT OFF
HOME OF BUELOW.

Officers Charged Mobs With Their Sabers and Many of The Demonstrators Were Injured in the Rush.

BULLETIN.

Berlin, Jan. 13.—The police this morning acted as mounted guards in all the principal streets and began dispersing the socialists who have been protesting against the refusal of universal suffrage. The situation is serious. Great crowds shouted their abuse at Chancellor Von Buelow, who recently curtly refused to grant the right of suffrage. One hundred casualties have occurred, over twenty people being seriously injured. It is reported that troops will patrol the streets of this city.

Berlin, Jan. 13.—The determination of the socialists to secure direct universal suffrage, combined with their indignation against Chancellor Von Buelow's curt declaration refusing their demand gave rise Sunday to an unusual scene and a monster popular demonstration accompanied by disorders in the streets of the Prussian capital, in which 30,000 organized socialists paraded while 30,000 sympathizers from time to time actively joined in the manifestations.

One of the most remarkable features of today's uprising was the number of women who engaged in the demonstration, and they appeared even more earnest in their activity than the men. The authorities took the sternest measures to prevent disorders and the strictest precautions to protect the Assembly Public Building and Prince Von Buelow's residence against the outbreak of fury.

Groups in the streets were dispersed in the most vigorous manner and the collision between processions of manifestants and the police resulted in the injury of a considerable number of the demonstrators, but so far as is known no fatalities occurred in this city. The police refrained from making arrests except in cases of extreme violence.

The movement extends throughout Prussia, where the socialists are exceptionally numerous. Reports received from other cities, however, do not indicate that the demonstrations there were accompanied by violence.

Notwithstanding the police warning that repressive measures would be applied, many thousand socialists gathered in the morning at the 600 local headquarters of the various districts of the capital and thence proceeded in groups, singing revolutionary songs, toward the eight halls in the city where mass meetings had been announced.

Chancellor Von Buelow's palace on Wilhelmstrasse was entirely cut off by cordons of police, as violent manifestations against the Prince were feared, while the environs of the imperial palace, with the square in front, were closed to the public. Squads of police, both on foot and mounted, patrolled the central thoroughfares.

The socialists showed great determination in their attempt to hold processions, although the police made energetic endeavors to prevent this. Long before the hour of noon the time fixed to begin the meetings, all the halls were completely packed and the police drew up in force around the doors to hold the crowds in check.

Resolutions favoring universal suffrage and a secret ballot were adopted by acclamation, after which the audiences streamed into the streets. The police immediately attempted to disperse the throngs, which showed an evident intention to march in procession toward the palace square. In most cases the processions were soon broken up, the police displaying the utmost energy.

DOG WITH HUMAN INTELLIGENCE DIES.

Hagerstown, Ind., Jan. 13.—Jeremiah E. Myers, a big stock raiser and shipper had a valuable Scotch collie dog to die. The dog was valuable because of its almost human intelligence in herding and driving stock from one point to another, often saving the labor of two or three men. Mr. Myers could send the dog to guard a cross-road until the stock passed. The owner had been offered large sums of money for him by stockmen but could never be induced to part with the animal.

Mrs. Bryan will be received at the Vatican with all the honors due to her position. The Pope will go out of his way to do honor to the lady, whose husband, according to Roman ideas, may some day be president of the United States.

Mrs. Bryan is stopping quietly at a hotel.

CITY NOT LEGALLY PARTY TO SUIT FILED BY CHARTERS

City Attorney Study Holds that Richmond Could Not Be
Bound by a Contract Drawn
By the County.

CASE OF IMPORTANCE
TO CITY AND COUNTY.

ULTIMATE RULING OF MORE IM-PORTANCE TO CITY THAN THE
COUNTY—WILL BE APPEALED TO SUPREME COURT.

In filing a demurrer to the complaint of W. F. Charters against Wayne county and the city of Richmond, to collect fee on the city's share of omitted taxes, City Attorney T. J. Study this morning in the circuit court, argued before Judge Fox that under the charges made in the complaint the city could not legally be made a party to the suit. Mr. Study based his argument on the ground that the county commissioners had no authority to draw up a contract with Charters which would in any way bind the city.

County Attorney J. F. Robbins disagreed with Mr. Study on this point and insisted that the city should be made a party to the suit. Mr. Robbins argued that the result of the case was of more importance to the city of Richmond than it was to Wayne county. He held that if the case was decided in favor of Charters, the city would lose money, not the county. If the case was decided against the plaintiff the only advantage the county would obtain would be a ruling on which it could base its actions in the future.

After hearing the arguments of the city and county attorneys, Judge Fox ruled that the Charters complaint should be properly amended so that the city could be legally made a party to the suit.

No matter what decision Judge Fox makes in this case his ruling will be appealed to the supreme court. "The final outcome of the case will be of much general importance. The City of Indianapolis has always paid Mr. Charters a fee under a contract he holds with Marion county for omitted taxes collected each year. If the supreme court rules that this action is illegal, Mr. Charters will have to return to the City of Indianapolis several thousand dollars.

MONEY BEGINS TO SWAMP BANKERS

The Weekly Bank Statement
Shows Deficit Wiped Out
And There Is Surplus.

BETTER THAN EXPECTED.

BANKERS SAY THERE COULD BE
NO BETTER WAY TO SHOW
RAPID RESTORATION OF PUBLIC CONFIDENCE.

New York, Jan. 13.—For the first time since the beginning of the financial stringency in October the Clearing House statement today showed that not only had the heavy bank reserve deficit been entirely wiped out, but that a surplus of $8,064,505 above the 25 per cent legal requirement had been established. The figures made known today exceeded the most expectant hopes of bankers and brokers, and when the statement appeared on the stock tickers, it was greeted with a round of cheers in practically every banking house in Wall street.

Bankers declared that no better evidence could be obtained to show the rapid restoration of confidence and the tremendous outpouring of hoarded money.

THAW FOR SECOND TIME
FACES MURDER CHARGE.

Attorney Garvin Opened for State and Declared Insanity Plea to Be Presented

WITNESSES TELL TRAGEDY

ON THE NIGHT WHEN STANFORD
WHITE WAS SLAIN BY THAW,
THE YOUNG MILLIONAIRE ACT-
ED QUEERLY.

JURORS KEPT IN SUNDAY.

The Slow Drizzling New York Rain
Kept Them in a Greater Part of
The Day—Attended Church in the Morning.

New York, Jan. 13.—Henry K. Thaw went on trial for the murder of Stanford White for the second time this morning. Attorney Garvin opened for the state. He reminded the jury that no one could break the law with impunity. The defense to be given is insanity. The material facts are practically admitted. Garvin agreed that insanity excuses crime, only when defendant is suffering from such unsoundness of mind as not to know the nature or the quality of his act or that it is wrong. "That is the only definition you have to go with," the state's attorney said. He then reviewed the tragedy on Madison Square roof garden and concluded by saying that the defendant committed cold blooded, premeditated murder and he expected to prove it. The court has ordered all witnesses, except medical witnesses, to withdraw from the court room. The order will cause Evelyn Thaw to remain out of sight of her husband during the entire trial. The first witness to be examined was Walter Kolshagen, a draughtsman, who described the situation of the roof garden.

John Clinch Smith, a brother-in-law of White, who witnessed the shooting, in testimony, told of the conversation with Thaw on the roof garden the night of the tragedy. When it was offered to him, Smith said Thaw declined a seat, saying "I am going to stroll." Shortly afterward the shooting occurred. Smith described the scene following the tragedy in detail. The cross-examination brought out little.

Jury Kept Indoors.

Sunday's rain affected the Thaw jury and made their first Sunday in confinement a stupid one. A majority of the twelve slept late, and then, when breakfast was over, preceded, flanked and followed by Capt. Price and his six officers of the court squad they walked up Broadway from the hotel Knickerbocker to the Broadway tabernacle at Fifty-sixth street, where seats had been reserved for them in the balcony.

They listened to a sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, pastor of the church and then walked back to the hotel for dinner.

Capt. Price had arranged to take the jury for a drive through Central park and up Riverside drive in the afternoon, but the rain prevented this and the men remained all afternoon in their rooms on the third floor of the hotel, sleeping, reading, smoking and visiting with each other. After supper they returned to their rooms and pursued the same program until bed time. The members of the jury are well and so far as could be learned were content to loaf and rest preparatory to the real work of the trial which began today.

Grip Brings to HALT BIG REVIVAL

Useless To Hold Meeting When People Are Ill.

Milton, Ind., an. 13.—The grip is increasing in Milton. The attendance at the public school, Sunday schools and churches yesterday having been much reduced by the prevalence of the ailment. Until it subsides somewhat the revival services which have been in progress at Milton M. E. church, have been discontinued. It is useless to hold meetings when so many people are ill, members of the church claim.
