PATENT MEDICINES.

Some of the largest and most successful business men in the country are those who have confined their attention to the preparation and sale of Patent Medicines. It will not do to say that they have made their money by simply humbugging the people. Their medicines, in most instances, must possess merit, or they would not meet with sale for any length of time, however vigorously and systematically they might be advertised.

Dr. R. A. Armistead.

Dr. R. A. Armistead, of our city, in connection with Messrs. Cloud & Akin, wholesale Druggists, has prepared several patent medicines which promise to become as popular, and prove far more efficacious, than those which have attained to fame in the East. First, we have Armistead's Tonic Syrup, a sure cure for Fever and Ague. Next, Armistead's Universal Ointment, for the cure of all manner of ulcers, sores, burns, &c.

We, the undersigned, appreciating true dramatic genius, and the arduous efforts displayed by each of you to amuse and please the patrons of the New Metropolitan Theatre during your sojourn in our city, would, as a slight token of the esteem and regard in which you are held by our citizens, respectfully tender you a Complimentary Benefit, to be given on Friday evening, the 20th inst., if the time will suit your professional engagements.

That we may prove worthy shall be the study of our lives, as we are encouraged by your kindness, in feeling that you believe, even in our profession, where, to the thinking and intelligent mind, there is found more to enlighten than to darken—even here, dwelling in its midst, surrounded by all its allurements, we may, under His watchful eye, be sublimated into piety.
