☞ From an officer who came from Pittsburg Landing on the B. J. Adams, we have much interesting intelligence from the army of Gen. Halleck, much of which is contraband.

The general opinion in the army is, that the rebel leaders have discovered a ditch some distance in their rear, in which they prefer to die, rather than the one they dug for themselves at Corinth. They are all mutually determined to die in the "last ditch," rather than submit to the pesky Yankees; but the trouble is, they can't determine just where the last ditch is located. Tigiman thought it was at Fort Henry, and dug a beautiful ditch, but a few shells from Commodore Foote's gunboats convinced him he was mistaken, and he retired to Fort Warren. Buckner, Pillow and Floyd, the thief, with a triune mind, settled down on the now historic hills of Dover. But the irresistable arguments of the heroic Smith, the intrepid Wallace with the brave and unflinching Hoosiers, Wolverines and Buckeyes, taught them their error. Floyd and Pillow "skedaddled," and Buckner went on a visit to Tigiman. Nashville, Murfreesborough, Decatur, and Corinth were all severally selected, and all but the last abandoned, and the general impression now is that it, too, will fail to be rendered historic.

Great demoralization and dissatisfation exists in Beauregard's army, which the recent news from New Orleans will not tend mollify. It is barely possible that Beauregard is attempting to flank and surprise Gen. Pope on our extreme left. But in the langurge of a Yankee friend of ours. Gen. Pope does not surprise worth a darn, and he will fail in the attempt.

Meanwhile Gen. Halleck has in front of Corinth and in sight of the rebel camps the finest army and the best fighting material ever mustered on this or any other continent, and if the rebels stand at Corinth they will be completely overwhelmed and annihilated.

The flank movement of Gen. Mitchell, the cutting of the important avenues of supplies and reinforcements for the army of the inflated Creole Tousant de Beauregard, the fire kindled in the rear by Gens. Butler and Porter and the indomitable Com. Farragut, does not tend greatly to mitigate their condition, and Grand Junction or Columbus, Mississippi, will doubtless soon receive a visit from the terror-stricken traitors.

☞ Among the passengers by the steamer Tigress yesterday, we regretted to find our much esteemed friend, Dr. Thompson, Surgeon of the 11th Indiana, who is going home on sick leave. We say sorry, because he is sick, as when well we are always delighted to see him.

Among all the Surgeons in Gen. Grant's army, no one has performed his duty better than Dr. Thompson, and few so well. At Fort Donelson, we have it from indubitable authority that Dr. Thompson and his assistant, the late and lamented Dr. Brown, of Indianapolis, were most zealous and untiring in rendering aid to the wounded, not only of their own regiment, but to those of other regiments, whose surgeons were too prudent by far to expose their precious lives upon the field until the cessation of hostilities.

On the bloody field of Shiloh, Dr. Thompson was equally untiring and efficient, and many brave man owes his life to the fidelity of the Surgeon of the heroic 11th regiment. We hope a few weeks rest and the kindly attentions of his excellent wife may restore him to thorough health.

It would be a calamity to loose his services, in the field at this juncture of affairs.

A SIGNIFICANT LABEL.—A soldier on the field of battle had his gun bent and rendered useless by a rifle shot. He threw it away and took another from the ground, which was afterward forwarded to this city, bearing the following inscription :

A little carlessness or an awkward shot,
Has caused my gun to bend, and also me to swap;
I hope I'll be excused when the story's understood,
The swap was not a selfish one, but for my country's good,

Wounded and Sick in the City Hote Hospital.

THE PLOT IN TENNESSEE.—Among the documents filed in the office of the Secretary of State, in Tennessee, during the spring and summer of 1861, a letter from Gen. Jefferson Davis to Samuel R. Anderson, Major General of the militia of Tennessee, has been recently brought to light, and which proves, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that while the civil and military authority of the State were pretending to submit the question of separation to the voice of the people, and to allow them to choose their own political position, the result of the popular vote had been predetermined by "coercion." The vote on the decree of secession was taken on the 8th of June, 1861, and this letter of Gen. Davis to Gen. Anderson was written on the 11th of June, 1861, or only three days after the vote was cast, and before the returns could have been known at Nashville. The letter is as follows:

"RICHMOND, Va., June 11, 1861.

"GEN. SAM. R. ANDERSON—Dear Sir: I am glad to receive a letter from a well remembered and highly esteemed comrade in arms, and upon whom I have long since learned his country could safely rely.

"If my ability equalled my will Tennessee should have as many arms as her sons desired to bear. I had hoped before this to have been able to meet your immediate wants, and am still expecting to receive supplies, though the difficulty of getting them is greatly increased. Those to which you refer as being in hand and not injured, are some, I think, sent to Nashville for a special purpose. By this time it may be that the Governor has twelve hundred, which I authorized him to take. Please confer with him, and I will be content with the disposition you make. The condition of Kentucky is embarrassing enough. Were she with us, our power to repel invasion and to maintain a long war would be greatly increased. Hoping for better things than to-day promises,

"I am, as ever, faithfully your friend,
"JEFF. DAVIS."

Union Meeting.

At a meeting of the Union party, of Union County, Ky., held in Morganfield, ont he 27th of April, 1862, Geo. W. Simpson in the Chair, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That the object of this meeting, being to express our choice for the office of Appellate Judge, for the 4th Appellate District of Kenthcky; we heartily approve of the Convention to be held in Henderson, Ky., on the 1st day of May, 1862, to select and nominate a candidate for said Appellate District.

Resolved, That Judge Rufus R. Williams is our first choice for said office, and that the delegates hereinafter appointed, be instructed to vote for him as the first choice of the Union men of Union County.

Resolved, That E. A. Byrne, Sam C. Hugh, W. W. Gardner, D. S. Berry, Geo. W. Simpson, James Bauch, Jos. Sprague, and L. S. Berry be appointed to said Convention.

Resolved, That the editors of the Louisville Democrat, and Journal and the editors of the Henderson Mail and Evansville Journal be requested to publish these proceedings.

GEO. W. SIMPSON, Chairman,
E. A. BYRNE, Secretary.

☞ We are indebted to a returned soldier for a copy of the Cumberland Almanac, containing the Constitution of the late Confederacy.

FIRE.—The Transfer freight depot at the crossing of the O. & M. and the E. & C. R R., were destroyed by fire on Wednesday night.

River News.

The river, after reaching a point nearly as high as it has been for several years, has commenced falling, and the fall may be expected to be as rapid as the rise.

We note the following arrivals and departures during the 24 hours up to last evening.

The Charley Bowen from Cairo with a fair trip.

The Leonora from Nashville with a partial load, which was completed at this port.

The B. J. Adams from Pittsburg Landing for Louisville. She expected to load above.

The Fred Lorenz, with a coal barge in tow from Pittsburg, destined to the gunboat fleet and St. Louis.

The Poland came in from the Tennessee with 300 hogsheads of tobacco.

The Storm came out of green river with a big trip.

The Bowen went out with a heavy cargo of freight and crowded with passengers.—In addition to her regular passenger list she took down near 100 soldiers. Among her freight was upwards of 60,000 rounds of cartridges and a large lot of clothing for the troops at New Madrid and Fort Pillow. Capt. Howard and Billy Lowth are sure to attract a large list of passengers.

The calliope Grey Eagle come down yesterday afternoon with a crowd of passengers, and returning from Henderson left for Louisville last night.

The fine, fast steamer Atlantic, will leave Louisville, this evening, for Nashville, and will be here early to-morrow morning.—This will be an excellent opportunity to ship freight, or to make a pleasant trip.—Cox & Humphrey are her agents.

The May duke from Louisville with a heavy load enroute to Nashville came down yesterday afternoon.

The Tigress arrived yesterday afternoon from Pittsburg Landing with a good load of tobacco, shingles &c., which she picked up by the way.

Local News.

SICK AND WORNDED SOLDIERS.—The Charley Bowen brought up yesterday morning, from the Mound City Hospital the following sick and wounded, who were transferred to the Leonora at this point, and proceeded on to Cincinnati :

Capt. R R Henderson co H, 13 Ohio, hip bone broken.

Capt J R Gardner co F, 13th Ohio, wounded in pelvis.

Capt. Leslie co F, 41st Ohio, sick.

Capt Morgan co H, 41st Ohio, sick.

Lieut Parcost, Adjutant 41st Ohio, wounded in leg.

Walter Blythe, 2d Sargeant, 41st Ohio, sick.

Lieut Burton 5th Ohio battery.

W Waters 14th Ohio battery, wounded in thigh and shoulder.

H T Gaylord 14th Ohio battery, right arm amputated.

H H Gaylord 14th Ohio battery, sick.

C R Waters 14th Ohio battery, sick.

They were accomcompanied by Doct. D. W. Henderson of Maysville, Ohio, and W. H. Justice of Newport, Kentucky. who were assiduous in their attention to the sick and wounded. These gentlemen express much gratitude to Drs. Dunning and Vail of the Mound City Hospital for the kindnesses and courtesies extended them and their sick and wounded friends. They also desire us to express their deep obligations to Capt. Howard and Wm. A. Lowth, clerk of the Charley Bowen, for the humane and kindly treatment extended to them on their way up.

☞ The soldiers who came down by the Wednesday night's train were a portion of the 10th company 59th Regiment, Col. Alexander, commanded by John E. Simpson. They muster 45 strong, and have more men in the regiment. Capt. Simpson raised a company for the Mechanic Fusileers of Chicago, and when that swindle exploded he enlisted a company for the 59th Indiana. Capt. Simpson bears with him the most flattering testimonials from his former company, exhonerating him from all responsibility for the deceit practiced in raising the famous "Mechanic Fusileer Regiment" of Chicago.

The men under Capt. Simpson are a fine looking set of fellows.

☞ The amount of travel through and to this city for the last few weeks has been unprecedented. The American House has been compelled to turn away scores of people daily, being unable to accommodate them after exerting themselves to their utmost capacity.

The Washington and Sherwood houses have also been unusually crowded, and the other hotel, have also been heavily taxed to afford accommodations.

A new hotel of the capacity of the Bates' House at Indianapolis, or the Terre Haute house at Terre Haute, would be a finely paying institution in this city.

ARRESTED.—A man named McCormick, was arrested in this city a day or two ago by a United States officer, assisted by our police officers for fatally cutting a soldier at Paducah. While waiting for a boat he made a desperate attempt to escape, but was recaptured and taken on the Bowen to Paducah yesterday.

STRAYED HORSE.—Strayed from the stable of the undersigned, on Wednesday, April 30th, a dark, Saddle Horse, about fifteen hands high, and seven years old. He was last seen on the Princeton and Millersburg Road. A liberal reward will be paid for his recovery. GEO. FOSTER & Co.,
Corner Locust Street and Canal.

GEN. W. F. SMITH.—The New York Journals, without exception, defend Gen. W. F. Smith from the charge of having been drunk during the late battle at Lee's Mills, in Virginia. The Commercial Advertiser says:

"It would seem as if there must be some mistake in this matter. Gen. Smith is known to be a temperate man."

A telegraphic message from Gen. McClellan, dated April 16th, to a friend in this city, says: "He (Gen. Smith) has gained a great advantage for us this morning, silencing the fire of a battery. It was splendidly done, and with little loss on our side."

A private letter from Gen. Smith to his family, dated the 17th, says: "I had a severe fall from my horse, going at a very fast gait, and was stunned and jarred, se that I am still lame. A second fall she gave mé, while Ayres was playing on the works with eighteen pieces of artillery. Without any warning, she reared with me, and the girth breaking, of course I went down."

"A letter from one of the General's aids, speaking of the battle, says incidentally, "everybody behaved splendidly except the General's horse."

HOME INTERESTS.

☞ It rarely happens that in our editorial capacity our readers find us premeditatedly and with malice aforethought engaged in puffing any patent medicine, but during our recent trip to the melancholy scenes of Pittsburg Landing there was one medicine which we found in the hands of nearly every soldier, giving relief wherever applied, whether internally or externally. We refer to Perry Davis' Vetetable Pain Killer. All spoke loud in its praise, and the kind hearted Surgeon of one of our Indiana regiments informed us that he believed it was the only thing that saved at least half of his regiment from dying of dysentery during a recent long march, and we cannot help suggesting to our friends among the army sutlers that it is one of the articles they should never be out of. It is packed in saw dust, two dozen in each box, and can be forwarded over the roughest road without danger of breaking. Is sold in Evansville by Keller & White, Preston Bro's, P. Veirling, Leich & Carlstedt, and S. E. Gilbert & Co.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES

A Slight Cold, Cough, Hoarseness or Sore Throat, which might be checked with a simple remedy, if neglected, often terminates seriously. Few are aware of the importance of stopping a Cough or Slight Cold in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if not attended to, soon attacks the lungs. Brown's Bronchial Troches were first introduced eleven years ago. It has been proved that they are the best article before the public for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, the Hacking Cough in Consumption, and numerous affections of the Throat, giving immediate relief.

Public Speakers & Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice.
