LOST IN THE SHUFFLE

HARRY STARR HAS SOME EXPERIENCES

AT NATIONS CAPITAL

About to be Admitted to Practice Before the Supreme Court, But Was Lost.

Washington, Jan. 30.—James P. Goodrich, of Winchester, arrived yesterday. Last night he called on Senator Fairbanks and other members of the delegation. Today Mr. Goodrich, accompanied by Harry C. Starr, of Richmond, conferred with President Roosevelt.

Attorney R. F. Davidson, of Indianapolis, was admitted to practice before the United States supreme court yesterday on motion of Senator Fairbanks. Harry Starr, of Richmond, accompanied Senator Fairbanks and Mr. Davidson and made up his mind at the last moment to take advantage of the opportunity to be admitted to practice before the tribunal. He made an effort to approach the court and was stopped by an attendant, who asked him if he was a member of the bar. The reply was in the negative. Mr. Starr thereupon was invited to take a seat among the spectators. When Senator Fairbanks was about to make the motion in Mr. Starr's behalf he was unable to locate him. Mr. Starr will make the attempt again at a later date.

A PANHANDLE OPERATOR

AT THE UNION STATION ARRESTED HERE THIS MORNING.

ON CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Sum of Money Missing at Kendallville and King Charged With Taking It.

Two Panhandle detectives arrived this morning from Kendallville, Ind., with a warrant for the arrest of Joseph W. King, on a charge of embezzlement. Until about two weeks ago King was a G. R. & I. railroad operator at Kendallville and was supposed to be an honest and good young man. Then he suddenly left Kendallville and came to Richmond, where he accepted a position as night operator at the Union station. A few days ago it was discovered at Kendallville that quite a sum of railroad money was missing there and that King must have taken it. The night operator there is also ticket agent and this is how King got the money. It is not definitely known exactly how much was taken but at all accounts it was a considerable sum. The detectives left for Kendallville this afternoon with King in charge, where he will be tried on a charge of embezzlement.

MME. SCHUMAN-HEINK.

One who has heard Mme. Schumann-Heink, recently, says:

"To commence with Mme. Schumann-Heink has really a majestic voice, and her command of it is well nigh perfect as her flawless execution of the two octave jump in the famous 'Brindisi' proves. In all passages that lie between the natural range of her voice her emission is smooth, sonorous and productive of unfailing beauty of tone. Her phrasing is almost invariably the perfection of art and enunciation of the text shows a perfect command of vocalization. These features of her method enable her to sing such things as the 'Brindisi' area with all the beauty of color ever imparted to it by an Italian singer, while with her keen intelligence, her glowing temperament, her subtle humor and her winsome personality enables her to fill the hollow melody with a wealth of vitality, unequalled by any other singer now before the public. She is gifted with true artistic temperament."

This great artist is now making her "farewell" concert tour in America and she is engaged to give a recital here on Thursday evening, February 11th at the Coliseum. Though this concert is announced as her "farewell" it does not mean that she is to retire from the stage, but in the future is to devote her time to opera solely.

AN OLD MAN MEETS DEATH

IN A HORRIBLE MANNER ON THE PANHANDLE RAILROAD.

HURLED FIFTY FEET

Mr. Wolf, the Victim, Was a Farmer, About Sixty-Five Years of Age.

A very shocking accident was witnessed yesterday morning by the passengers on No. 14, which leaves here for New York at 9:50 a. m. Near Air Hill, about thirty-five miles from here, the train struck and killed Mr. Henry Wolf, a farmer about sixty-five years old. Mr. Wolf is very deaf and did not hear the train coming.

He was walking with his head down against the wind and his hat pulled low over his eyes and the train, suddenly rounding a curve, struck him full and hurled him fifty feet in the air. Every bone in the man's body was broken. He was lifted into the train and carried to Dayton, where the train conductor held an inquest over the dead body. No. 14 was an hour late and was striving to make up the lost time, and the engineer, on account of the curve, was not able to apply the brakes soon enough to prevent hitting the man.

TO SELL OUT

His Stock and Retire From Business.

(Special to Palladium.) Cambridge City, Ind., Jan. 30.—S. B. Fisher, one of our worthy business men will soon have a closing out sale of his stock of shoes. Mr. Fisher came here from Dublin in 1872, accepting a position as clerk in Frank Mattis' shoe store.

In 1874 Mr. Fisher began working as repair man in the shoe store of S. L. Wheeler. He worked there a few months then he and Mr. Wheeler went into partnership. In 1882 the partnership was mutually dissolved and each began business for himself. Mr. Fisher occupied the building now used as J. W. Marson's furniture department until 1900. Since then he has occupied the new building of C. T. Wright. By his genial ways he has won many friends, and the public regrets very much to lose him. It is hoped that Mr. Fisher will remain in Cambridge City and will still be an active business man as heretofore.

EARLHAM'S ORATORIO SOCIETY

GREAT INTEREST TAKEN IN THE APPROACHING CONCERT.

DIRECTION PROF. CHASE

A Complete Performance of Haydn's Famous Imperial Mass, to Include "Inflammatus."

Great interest is being felt in college and musical circles in the approaching concert of the Earham Oratorio society, which is set for sometime about the middle of March.

It is expected by the director of the chorus, Prof. Chase, that the standard set by the rendition last year of "The Creation" will be equaled, if not surpassed, by the work of this year. Last year the management was fortunate in securing some of the best soloists in the United States and it is believed that the quartet of singers brought to Richmond this year will insure even better results.

The main feature of the program will be a complete performance of Haydn's famous Imperial Mass; this is considered by musicians to stand among the very first of the great religious choral compositions and a satisfactory rendition of it is an event. The second part of the program will include the "Inflammatus" from Rossini's Stabat Mater, by Miss Blamere, of Chicago, and the chorus, and the "Sanctus" from Gounod's Messe Solennelle, containing one of the finest arrangements for tenor solo and chorus ever written; each one of the soloists will have an opportunity in this half of the program to be heard in some great aria.

The exact time of the concert will be announced within a couple of days, but the date is set early so as not to conflict with the performances of the May Festival chorus. This concert by the Earham society is coming to be looked upon as an annual event and much enthusiasm is shown among the members of the chorus, which undoubtedly surpasses that of last year.
