IMPORTANT DECISION

Congressional Candidates Must Not Name Their Own Delegates.

Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—The decision of the Republican state committee that no candidate for congress or other office will be permitted to name his own delegates is liable to have a most disastrous effect on the candidacy of Fred Landis of Logansport for re-nomination.

The statement was made here today on what was apparently reliable authority that Hugh Th. Miller of Columbus has finally determined to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor and that he will make a public announcement to that effect within a few days, possibly this week.

"Billy" Taylor, the Indianapolis candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, is full of enthusiasm over his prospects of winning. He took occasion today to contradict a story that is going the rounds that he lost in the Rush county primaries for the selection of delegates.

The stock of Harry S. New of Indianapolis as a candidate to succeed himself as national committeeman has gone way up since he was endorsed at the Twelfth district convention. The action there was a surprise to most leaders, as it has been reported for some time that Senator Fairbanks and what is termed as his "machine" intend to elect Charles L. Henry as committeeman.

Governor Durbin and his party did not get away last night for Cleveland but will leave tonight at 6:25 in a special car over the Big Four. He will be accompanied by members of his staff, Secretary of State Storms, Auditor Sherrick, Reporter of Supreme Court Remy, United States District Attorney Kealing, Chairman Goodrich, of the state committee, H. C. Starr of Richmond, and other well known Republicans who held the late Senator Hanna in highest regard.

VALUABLE LESSON

Will be Drawn in Building Construction From Baltimore Fire.

Baltimore, Feb. 18.—As indicating that the situation in Baltimore is easing up, the civil and military authorities express the opinion that it will be safe to withdraw all the troops from the burned district at the end of another week. Another significant indication is the announcement that the issuance of permits to rebuild on the streets that are not to be widened will begin within two or three days.

A committee composed of nine members of the national board of underwriters is here to prepare an exhaustive report on the conditions of alleged fireproof buildings after the fire and to make recommendations as to those who propose to rebuild. It is agreed by these experts that the most advanced ideas of fireproof construction have undergone their first real test in the Baltimore fire and the purpose of the present investigation is to make the most of the lesson. All the insurance experts here say that the data to be gleaned from the recent conflagration here will compensate in a measure for the loss sustained and they are making extensive preparations to study the effect the fire had on what was supposed to be absolute fire proof construction and to draw valuable deductions.

Baltic Fleet Passing Out.

A CAUTIOUS FOLK

Japan Is Most Successfully Keeping Her War Plans Secret.

ENEMY KEPT IN DARK

Not a Single Item That Would be of Service to Russia Has Been Permitted to Leak Out.

The Opinion Prevails That Third Battle Has Taken Place at Port Arthur—Cable Cut.

Sasabo, Japan, Feb. 18.—The opinion of Japanese naval officers here is that a third fight has occurred off Port Arthur. Some of the Russian war vessels have been reported as leaving that place.

Harbin, Manchuria, Feb. 18.—The Manchurian newspapers publish a manifesto by the Czar, countersigned by the high mandarins which recalls the benefits China has derived from the friendship of Russia.

Che Foo, Feb. 18.—The Port Arthur-Che Foo cable was cut yesterday.

London, Feb. 18.—Japan is most successfully keeping her plans secret. Not a single item of news which could be of possible service to the enemy has been permitted to leak out. The belief is prevalent in London, based on hints in dispatches from correspondents, is that her main object will be found to be the Liao Tung peninsula, but that nothing of a military nature will be attempted until Russia's naval squadrons are effectually disposed of.

Dispatches published in London newspapers continue to give alleged descriptions of the embarking of Japanese troops. Instead of this embarkation occurring secretly from Ujina, as was the case during the China-Japanese war, the transports, according to published dispatches, are openly embarking troops from Nagasaki, Moji, Kobe and elsewhere.

A cablegram from Nagasaki says troops are clearing every night from these ports for Korea and ten large steamers were embarking troops at Nagasaki last Monday. All arms of the service were represented, but the cavalry horses were such scrubby ponies that they hardly seemed worth transporting. The embarkations were all remarkably well managed. Numerous shallow sampans (small harbor boats), as well as ordinary boats suitable for being rowed or towed in shallow water or through a heavy surf are taken on the transports. In conclusion this correspondent says the harbor of Nagasaki has been mined.

Cabling from Shanghai under date of Feb. 17, a correspondent declares that a combined movement between a Japan fleet and a large landing force from Nagasaki is now proceeding.

The reports that the Japanese have captured the Asiatic company's steamer Manchuria, as well as the Siberian railway's steamer of the same name, are confirmed.

AN ABLE ALLY

Winter Will Help Russians as it Did in Napoleon's Time.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—The rigid censorship imposed here upon all news from the far East completely masks the movements of Russian troops and the plans of those in command; but what is being done is evidently satisfactory to the authorities here as they manifest the utmost confidence that when the proper time arrives the enemy will be crushed. They say that the preliminary sea victories of the Japanese will then be speedily forgotten. Russia was taken unawares at the outset, and some little time will be required to complete the mobilization of Russian troops. There will be no disposition to meet the evident wish of the Japanese to rush matters to a decision.

"Russia can afford to wait," is a common expression heard here, and time and patience always have been strong allies of the empire of the North. Moreover, the excessively severe winter weather at the scene of war, it is averred, also fights on the side of the Czar's legions as it did in the days of Napoleon, when the Russian proverb "January, February and March are among the emperor's ablest generals" was coined.

At Port Arthur the thermometer registers two degrees below zero. The concentration of Russian troops will proceed as rapidly as possible, but it is fair to assume that Viceroy Alexieff will not take the aggressive until he feels certain of his ability to administer a decisive defeat. Therefore, in spite of the extensive landing operations of the Japanese in Korea, an important land fight is not considered here to be imminent, although it is believed that the passage of the Yalu river by the Japanese will be disputed.

A government communication published in the official Messenger warns the public that it must wait patiently for news of Russian victories and says it is useless to waste men in seeking overhasty revenge.
