A NEW IDEA IN PARTIES.

An Anderson society woman who is much interested in the Industrial school of that city, entertained, not long ago, in a novel manner that not only gave her guests a pleasant afternoon, but gave pleasure to many others beside.

Mrs. B. has a particularly warm spot in her heart for the "infant" and the "intermediate" classes of the school and was helping to plan, at the time of her own party, an entertainment for those little people, who have so little but poverty and squalor in their narrow lives.

When the guests arrived — among them several of Mrs. B.'s co-workers in the school — their eyes were greeted with a number of small tables, each containing four pairs of scissors, four small paste pots with brushes, a box of paints and four brushes, and a neatly arranged pile of gilt, colored tissue and colored crepe papers. When all had assembled, the hostess brought in a salver of large, very large envelopes, and distributed them among the mystified guests, who soon found their places by the numbers in the corners of the envelopes.

When the ladies had discovered that the envelopes contained pretty, jointed paper dolls—you have seen them—it was explained that each was to dress her doll to the best of her ability.

When all had finished—and it was surprising how very interested all had become and how fast the time had gone—the array of beautiful dolls—indeed many of them were truly beautifully dressed—was collected and a committee awarded prizes. A pretty little water color was given for first prize, and a bunch of paper roses served for "booby."

A tea was afterward served buffet in the dining room, which was decorated with papers. A bunch of real pink roses decked the table and real ferns garnished the cloth, but pink paper streamers floated from the chandelier to the corners of the table, where large paper bows were tied. Paper doilies, paper ramekins and paper napkins were used. Pink roses were used for favors, and the ladies were asked to leave the dolls they had dressed, to be used as gifts to the little girls in the Industrial school at the party for them given the next week.

Yesterday being Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent, was dead socially. There is such a large per cent. of Richmond society people who observe Lent, that many of the clubs have closed for the season, and few parties or entertainments are on the calendar for that time.

Services were held yesterday in St. Andrew's Catholic, St. Mary's Catholic, St. Paul's Episcopal and the First English Lutheran churches and will be held regularly until Easter.

One of the few public entertainments that Lenten observers may attend is the sacred concert to be given next month by the Earlham chorus.

The presentation of Haydn's "Creation" last year, under the direction of Prof. Chase, was such a large success that it was decided to give another concert this year, and musical people of both the college and city are looking forward to the event.

The series of special Lenten services for the ladies will begin with a meeting at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the First English Lutheran church.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church tomorrow, the president, Mrs. Earhart, will appoint the nominating committee for the annual election, which will occur the week of March first.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the East Main Street Friends' church will give a valentine social this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Folger Wilson, 116 south eleventh street. A musical program and a number of games have been planned for the evening's entertainment.

In this city of churches and at this Lenten season, when members of some of the churches have begun a vigorous abstinence from social functions, and all of the churches and church societies promise increased activity, there are probably few people acquainted with the quiet, systematic, undenominational work of the North Fourteenth Street Mission, conducted under the auspices of the Mary F. Thomas Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The work is carried on principally through the Sabbath school which at present is said to be one of the most flourishing in the city. This is largely due to Supt. Jacob Ward and his corps of efficient teachers. Besides the school there are four Gospel meetings weekly. This includes the Christian Endeavor meetings, which, since the departure of Miss Mary Dennis, to the Western Missionary field, has been conducted most ably by Mrs. Elizabeth Candler, General superintendent of the Mission. She has been assisted by her husband, Mr. Theodore Candler.

A series of meetings just closed, which were conducted by Rev. Thomas Chappel, resulted in about thirty new workers being added to the mission. These were principally parents of the Sunday school children, and young men and women of a matured age.

The members of the Union feel a justifiable pride in the progress of the mission work.

The wedding of Mr. Joseph Morford and Miss Mabel Black, both of Connersville, occurred here last evening. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. M. E. Netherent, at the First Methodist Episcopal parsonage, south fourteenth street. Mr. and Mrs. Morford left last evening for Connersville, where they expect to surprise their friends, with their news.

Of the series of "dime receptions" being given by the ladies of the United Presbyterian church, that for tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Sharon E. Jones, 104 south thirteenth street, promises to be one of the most interesting. No formal program will be presented, but the reception will be in the form of a "Washington" entertainment. The ladies receiving will be in costume.

Mrs. Wheeler, of Cambridge City, was a guest of friends here yesterday en route to Cincinnati.

Mrs. Schuyler Duryea, of Cincinnati, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dill, of north D street, returned home yesterday.

Mr. C. L. Wayne, of Indianapolis, arrived last night to spend the remainder of the week with Mr. and Mrs. George R. Dilks, of Spring Grove. Mrs. Wayne has been visiting Mrs. Dilks several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Booth, of St. Louis, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Moore. Mr. Booth was formerly a resident of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lantz left yesterday for Anderson, where they will make their future home.

Miss Eva Worl and Miss Leona Halderman, of Hagerstown, were the guests of Miss Hazel Williams yesterday.

TO INSURERS.

The Baltimore fire losses of the four companies represented in this agency aggregate about $1,300,000. These losses are now being paid as fast as proof can be made, from a net surplus of $12,000,000, leaving over $10,000,000 for the protection of your policies. No room for worry if your policies are signed by Ostrander & company.

OSCAR F. TOUSEY DEAD.

The above named gentleman was a commercial traveler and often visited Richmond. He died last evening at his home in Indianapolis, after a short illness. His age was seventy-two years. Funeral tomorrow.

Nothing Equals Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. P. B. Spears, of Pinchard, Ala., has become acquainted with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and uses it in his own family and in his practice. He says: "It beats any preparation I have ever seen for all bowel complaints. I do not think of recommending any other, and also use it with my own children." This remedy is for sale by A. G. Luken & Co. and W. H. Sudhoff, corner fifth and Main streets.

WEBSTER

There is quite a good deal of sickness among the people of our community.

George Moore lost a valuable horse last week.

Mrs. C. D. Brown returned last Saturday from Indianapolis where she had been visiting her parents, who will leave for a trip to California about the first of March.

The lecture went off very quietly in this place last week.

Joseph Johnson, who has been living on the Jehiel Bond farm, moved this week to a farm which he recently bought, two miles east of Fountain City.

Cyrus Beeson, who has been living on the Horton farm, will move to the Davis farm on the Union pike one mile and a half west of Chester.

The public sale of Viola Clark occurs on Thursday of this week. She has bought property in Richmond and will move there soon.

What Will Bring On Rheumatism.

Excess of Uric Acid created through faulty digestion.

According to the doctors there are twenty-eight causes of Rheumatism, whereas, as an actual fact, it is only caused by an excess of Uric acid in the blood. Few people know that Uric acid is formed by Uric acid crystals through faults of digestion. We can also tell you that Athlophoros will directly dissolve Uric acid and drive it out of the system. It corrects errors of diet, removes the cause of Rheumatism and thereby stops all pain and suffering.

We can cure your Rheumatism and prevent its coming back. Send four cents for our book, "Rheumatism—Its Cause and Cure," which tells all about it. Athlophoros Co., New Haven, Conn. If your druggist doesn't sell it, let us know.
