Business would flow in from the most unexpected quarters, and when we took time to investigate we could always trace it direct to some of our advertising.—Col. Geo. Merritt, of Waterbury Watch Co.

THE TWO EXTREMES.

A noted politician of Indiana once said, "The fewer you have in politics, the better." Another and very old expression for the opposite view is, "Vox populi, vox Dei." The voice of the people is the voice of God. The one is centralization, the other is democracy and is opposed to the so called class in either legislation or dictation.

It often happens that the representatives from a state, both congressmen and office holders, at Washington, determine the destinies of some of the various candidates at home and select those who are to serve the dear people. In other words a candidate for a state office must go down to Washington to determine whether or not he may present himself to the people for an office. This may be regarded as an extreme statement but it is not intended for such. The practice is a kind of disfranchisement, not of the individual but of the people.

Now comes another phase of this same question. We refer to the action of certain labor leaders who presume to dictate to the members of their unions as to whom they shall vote for. We believe that labor unions have done much good for the laboring people by securing for them their rights against the greed of the capitalist. This is their legitimate function and seems to have been the purpose of their organization. So far, so good. But when these leaders assume to dictate the way a member of their union shall vote, they are assuming functions not contemplated when the unions were organized and would at once make the word "union" a misnomer. John Mitchell has shown himself a wonderful leader, as well as arbiter, in the late trouble between operator and miner. He did not order a strike nor did he order the men to go to work. He said: "Settle it yourselves by ballot," and they did. This is a pointer for some labor leaders who are filling a smaller sphere than is Mr. Mitchell.

If a candidate is known to be opposed to the laboring man, the laborer himself ought to investigate and then choose for himself the candidate he wishes to vote for.

THE NAMELESS KOREAN WOMAN.

Though the Korean woman has not even a name of her own, and in youth is simply called "the daughter of So-and-so" and after marriage "the wife of So-and-so," and if she has sons "the mother of So-and-so," still she has one rare "woman's right," which the women of the rest of the world might be glad to get even in exchange for a multiplicity of names.

For the woman of Korea has a safe grip upon her man. He may not be much of a man, but such as he is she has him for her own.

In the towns of Korea no men are allowed on the streets after 8 o'clock at night. When that hour strikes every male must be within doors.

What wife and mother, sitting alone at night amid all the blessings of civilization and more rights than she can enumerate, while her husband is gone out to his club and her son is gone out she knows not where, can help envying the nameless woman of Korea?

In our own country particularly women have more name than they need or is comfortable to carry. Especially is this the case after a series of divorces. And the divorces are very largely a result of the men's unchecked liberty to run around at night.

No doubt many an American woman has sighed from her heart with the wish that she had less name and more husband.

The South Dakota Delegation to the Democratic national convention will support Hearst. This delegation is led by ex-Senator Pettigrew who is a bolter from the Republican party. It is just such men as Pettigrew of South Dakota and C. S. F. Neal of Indiana that are supporting the millionaire candidate. Some of these political apostates are barred from both the old line parties and some of them are after the "loaves and fishes."

QUEEN OF ACTRESSES PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

MISS JULIA MARLOWE.

In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Miss Julia Marlowe of New York City, has the following to say of Peruna:
"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna, as a nerve tonic. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.
Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemic nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoirs of nervous vitality. These centers become bloodless for want of proper nutrition. This is especially true in the spring season. Every spring a host of invalids are produced as the direct result of weak nerves.
This could be easily obviated by the use of Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by correcting the digestion. Digestion furnishes nutrition for the nerve centers. Properly digested food furnishes these reservoirs of life with vitality which leads to strong, steady nerves, and thus nourishes life.
Peruna is in great favor among women, especially those who have vocations that are trying to the nervous system. Peruna furnishes the lasting invigoration for the nerves that such people so much need. Thousands of testimonials from women in all parts of the United States are being received every year. Such unsolicited evidence surely proves that Peruna is without an equal as a nerve tonic and a vital invigorator.
Buy a bottle of Peruna today. If you do not receive all the benefits from Peruna that you expected, write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.
$10,000 forfeit if we cannot produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial which well demonstrates its full genuineness.
