FIGHT FOR MILLIONS

Another Injunction Granted in Northern Securities Case.

Trenton, N. J., April 21.—Suit has been begun in the United States circuit court for the district of New Jersey against the Northern Securities company by Edward H. Harriman, Winslow S. Pierce, the Oregon Short Line railroad company and the Equitable Trust company of New York, trustee under the Oregon Short line participating mortgage, to restrain the Northern Securities company from carrying out the plan adopted by its directors for the distribution of the stocks of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railway companies held in the treasury of the defendant company. The facts in the case as recited in the bill of complaint cover substantially the same ground on which was based the intervention suit in the United States circuit court for the district of Minnesota, which was decided on Tuesday adversely to the Harriman interests. Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick has issued a temporary order restraining the carrying out of the plan of distribution. The court has fixed next Monday, in Trenton, for the hearing of the motion to make the injunction permanent. It is stated that this injunction will operate to prevent the proposed meeting of stockholders of the Northern Securities company called for today at Hoboken, to vote on the Northern Securities directors' plan of distribution of the treasury stock.

TORONTO UNDAUNTED

Plucky Canadians Will at Once Rebuild Burned District.

Toronto, Ont., April 21.—Although the business interests of the city have been shaken to their foundations by the disaster, no time will be lost in beginning the work of reconstruction. A meeting of the bankers' association was held last night to discuss the situation. It was decided that there is no danger of a financial panic and that no action to avert such a contingency would be necessary. The principal sufferers from the disaster are firms of high financial standing who can reestablish themselves without assistance. Most of them were well covered by insurance, a large percentage of which would fall upon foreign concerns. The total loss will, according to most conservative estimates, reach $12,000,000 and the total insurance $8,360,000. The area swept by the fire embraces fourteen acres and from 5,000 to 7,000 persons are thrown out of employment.

The Hazard of the Rail.

Washington, April 21.—The interstate commerce commission has issued a report showing that in the United States during October, November and December last the total number of railroad casualties aggregated 14,485, a decrease of 702 as compared with the preceding quarter. There were killed 175 passengers and 991 employees and 1,937 passengers and 11,382 employees were injured. The damage by these accidents to cars, engines and roadways amounted to $2,527,000, a decrease of $57,348.

Boston, April 21.—The Democrat State Convention adopted resolutions instructing the delegates to vote for Richard Olney for President.

REGAINED HEARING.

Young Lady Had a Tooth Pulled and Aural Faculties Restored.

(New York World.)

The joy of losing an aching wisdom tooth and regaining the hearing of her right ear in one operation has come to Miss Louisa Fischer, of No. 1674 Madison avenue.

Today, instead of sailing for Bremen to consult eminent aural specialists about her deafness, she will take a train for St. Louis to be at the opening of the fair and celebrate her deliverance.

Miss Fischer is a musician. She lost the hearing of her right ear a year ago and suffered intensely from pains in the drum. She could neither play nor sing, and her life was made miserable. She went to aural specialists, but all of them shook their heads and gave her no hope. They advised that she go to Bremen. So distressed was she that she decided to undertake the long trip and test the slender hope they held out to her. She engaged passage on the Belgravia, which is to sail this morning. Trunks were packed and everything was in readiness.

As a last thought she dropped in on a dentist only two doors away to have him attend to her teeth. She told him about the troublesome wisdom tooth that jumped and jerked at all hours of the day and night.

"Pull it," he said. She consented, and out it came.

"Why, the pain in my ear is gone!" cried the astonished girl as she got up from the dentist's chair.

She went home to finish preparations for her departure. The noises in the street were no longer muffled, her own voice was clear and distinct again. She sat down to the piano and once more felt the joy of listening to harmonizing notes that came clear and strong.

She was no longer deaf. The girl ran back to the dentist when she at length realized what had happened. Dancing for joy, Miss Fletcher decided on the spot to give up her trip to Europe.

"I will celebrate my deliverance by going to St. Louis and hearing the band play," she decided.

AERIAL TOBOGGAN.

A New Sport With the Necessary Element of Danger.

(Philadelphia Record.)

The gilded youth of Paris have lately gone in for a new fad, called "aerial tobogganing," which is nothing more or less than sailing through the air by the means of aeroplanes. These winglike constructions enter largely into the make-up of some flying machine. Many investigators who have been engaged in the conquest of the air contend that the aeroplane offers the only solution of manflight, and that the use of the balloon as a means of buoyancy is all wrong, as it presents too much surface to be acted upon by the wind, making the machine uncontrollable. With the aeroplane it is contended that man will eventually be able to fly as the eagle and the buzzard, which can be seen sailing in the air with outstretched wings for minutes at a time without the movement of a muscle.

Aerial tobogganing is a new, hardy sport, not without danger, which will doubtless soon be better known to the world, as the men who have taken it up are of unusual wealth and prominence. These are: Ernest Archdeacon, Jacques Balsan and the Comte de la Vaulx, who "risk their skin," as the French say, willingly for the excitement, seconded by experts of the type of Millet, the balloon constructor and fearless aeronaut; Girardot, the automobile constructor and break-neck racer; the electric Henri de Rothschild, doctor, bone-setter and multi-millionaire, and George Dargent, the model maker and general aeronaut specialist of the French army's balloon park at Chalais-Houdon, these young Parisians are in a state to do some very lively sporting.

"The aeroplane has come to stay. Chanute and Herrin, improving on the unhappy Lilienthal, obtained results which encouraged Wilbur Wright and his brother to undertake what have turned out such brilliant experiments. Nothing could be imagined simpler than the Wright aeroplane.

"The American brothers Wright have demonstrated that, roughly, for sporting purposes, the tobogganing will be as 100 to 8 in proportion to the height from which one starts with a box-like aeroplane to the height of a dune overlooking a wide flat expanse of land below. The sport gets in his aeroplane and holds tight, lying flat. Four men take each a corner and run with the aeroplane against the wind—to the edge of the dune. Then they throw it out and it goes 'plane-ing,' as the French say, sustained by the air, sliding down the air so to speak. The formula 100-8 means that if you start from a height of 8 yards you will toboggan diagonally down to a distance 100 yards from your point of departure, while if you start from a height of 80 yards your trip will be 1,000 yards."
