REV. LYONS WILL LEAVE FOR EUROPE

AS DELEGATE TO P. A. CONVEN-TION AT LIVERPOOL—HE LEAVES TONIGHT.

PLANS FOR JOURNEY

Will Visit in Ireland for a While and
Will Tour the Continent—Gone
Two Months.

Rev. S. R. Lyons, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of this city, will be sent by his congregation to Liverpool, England, as a delegate to the Presbyterian Alliance convention, which meets in that city June 28. Rev. Lyons leaves this evening on No. 26, at 8:45 p. m. for Philadelphia, from which port he will sail for England at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of June 4. The steamer that he has chosen is the Haverford, a vessel that is very popular with tourists, but which is slower than the fast Cunard liners, as it takes ten days for the trip. When Dr. Lyons arrives at Liverpool, his first stop he will sail as soon as possible for Belfast, Ireland. From Belfast he will go to Newry, a town near there, where he will spend a week as the guest of his cousin, Rev. S. A. Lyons. Another thing takes him to Ireland, though, beyond the fact of his desire to see his cousin. He wishes to make an effort to locate if possible the old home of his grandfather, which is somewhere to the north of Belfast a few miles.

On the 27th he will return to Liverpool in order to be present at the opening of the Presbyterian Alliance convention. This convention meets only every seven years and delegates are present from all over the world. The body is more of an advisory one than a law making one, and rather than making laws it does more in the line of discussion as to what law would be the best, or what are the most needed. Thus although it has no power to make laws and never does make them, most of the policies of the church and the latest movements all originate at this convention. Rev. Lyons has not definitely decided as to what he will do after the convention, but thinks it possible and even probable that he will visit London and other parts of England and make a short tour of the Continent, especially "doing" Paris and French cities. He will probably return to this country early in August, leaving Liverpool some time late in July. Rev. T. D. Hanna, who was the pastor of the Monmouth, Ill., United Presbyterian church during the year that Dr. Lyons was president of Monmouth college, will act as pastor of the local church.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

At Whitewater Yesterday Largely Attended.

Memorial Day services at Whitewater yesterday were very largely attended and were full of the spirit of the occasion. The exercises were in charge of the G. A. R. members, the Woman's Relief Corps and school children.

The address of Rev. Swadener of the First M. E. church of this city, was the feature of the day and was a specially fine oration. Rev. Swadener's ability in this line is not surpassed in these parts. He took for his theme "American Patriotism." After the address the people decorated the graves of those who had given their lives in defense of the flag.

AUTO BROKE

And the Richmond People Had to "Hike."

A party of well known Richmond musical people were out on an auto yesterday near the Wernle Home. The auto broke and a good sized "hike" to the home to catch a hack was the only thing. The position was embarrassing to say the least, and it was lucky the break down occurred so near the home.

Republican Delegates to National convention to Meet Thursday.

Republican State Chairman Goodrich was at headquarters yesterday morning and made arrangements for a meeting of the Indiana delegates to the National Convention. The meeting will be at Indianapolis next Thursday afternoon. The object of the meeting is to fix the assessment for the expenses of the trip to Chicago and the entertainment while there and to appoint a committee to take charge of the business of providing suitable decorations for the Indiana headquarters, which will be at the Auditorium Annex, securing badges, etc., and making other arrangements to insure that Indiana will have a prominent part in the convention. The organization of the delegation will not be effected until the members arrive publicans who will attend the convention.

There is some talk of securing a special train for Indiana Republicans who will attend the convention, the train to leave Indianapolis Sunday night or Monday morning preceding the opening of the convention on June 21. This matter will be considered at the meeting Thursday.

"I would like to make one statement regarding this meeting," said Chairman Goodrich. "A story has been published several times to the effect that the principal object of holding the meeting is to 'sound Senator Fairbanks out on the vice-presidential proposition.' Such a story has not the slightest foundation in fact and is an injustice to Senator Fairbanks and to the other members of the delegation. The Indiana delegates to the national convention understand and respect Senator Fairbank's attitude on the vice presidential question, and there will be no occasion for them to discuss the matter or take any action as a delegation until they arrive at Chicago."

hibit. The chairmanship of the committees lies in very capable hands and under the chairmen the committees have been hard at work for the past few weeks arranging for the exhibit. Next Wednesday evening the doors will be thrown open to the members of the Richmond Art Association only. It is expected by that time that everything will be in place and ready for the first critical inspection. The kindness of the exhibit managers in setting apart a day earlier than the regular time for the exclusive benefit of Earlham student has been greatly appreciated by the teachers and students of the college. It is expected that final reports prior to the exhibit will be handed in by the chairmen and superintendents at the meeting this evening and that all preparatory steps will be completed.

When meals are ready to be served, Mrs. Hale calls the dog with the words, "Ring the dinner bell, Joe," and the dog hurries to the loft where the bell is hung and seizing the rope in his teeth rings the bell as told.
