The Palladium extends thanks to the merchants of Richmond for the very generous patronage given this paper during the past few weeks.
We are thankful for patronage all the time and especially so when it comes in large volumes.

It was a Christmas gift in itself to see the good ladies of the Santa Claus fund committee prepare the packages for the poor children at the Palladium office yesterday. The committee - Miss Mary Shiveley, Mrs. Rev. Beck, Mrs. John Kamp and Mrs. George Smith - met at this office yesterday morning and were presented with the fund, $66.90.
The ladies mapped out their work in a systematic manner and when completed about one hundred names were on their list. The committee then proceeded to make the necessary purchases and by 3 o'clock in the afternoon the Palladium counting room looked like an annex to a department store. Each child's package contained enough toys, sweet meats and substantial to make the hearts of many a poor boy and girl and many a heavy hearted father and mother happy. The good ladies worked all day long and until 9 o'clock last night and will finish their labors today. This evening the neatly-done up packages will be delivered to the homes of the children and the work began by the Palladium a week ago will be completed.
We wish to thank the ladies of the committee for their assistance and hard work in the matter and feel assured that each of them will enjoy the Christmas better for caring for those unfortunate in this world. Our thanks amounts to little, but the God of all good, who rewards the giver of a cup of cold water, when given in charity's sweet name, will certainly reward the kind women who shouldered the burden of this work. We also extend our thanks to the generous contributors and commend them to Him "who doeth all things well."

There Are Some Simple Remedies indispensable in any family. Among these, the experience of years assures us, should be recorded Painkiller.
For both internal and external applications we have found it of great value; especially can we recommend it for colds, rheumatism, or fresh wounds and bruises. - Christian Ara. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'.

NAN PATTERSON JURY DISAGREES

OUT TWENTY-FOUR HOURS -
RETURN AS ABOVE

THE DEFENDANT COLLAPSED

When the Jury Reported - Will Likely Have a Third Trial.

New York, December 23. - After over twenty-four hours' deliberation and argument, the jury in the trial of Nan Patterson, before the bar of Justice Davis on the charge of killing her lover, Caesar Young, failed to agree and were discharged by the court. The jury reported twice to Judge Davis that they were unable to reach an agreement and on the second report were discharged.
Nan Paterson, the defendant, collapsed completely when the disagreement was announced, and sobbed convulsively on her father's shoulder.
On a motion of Prosecutor Rand the prisoner was remanded without bail. It is expected, though no announcement has been made, that the young actress will have to undergo a third trial.

The hands of the clock pointed to 12 o'clock and 44 minutes when the word was sent out from the jury room that the body was ready to make its final report. The jury filed into the box and it was evident from the manner of the men and the expressions that no verdict had been reached.

Miss Patterson came into court from the prisoners' pen and sat at the counsel table.

She did not lift her veil and sat quietly and alone awaiting her father's arrival. The door in the rear of the court was open for a second and the old man hurried in and sat down beside his daughter and placed his arm gently about her waist.

"Please arise, gentlemen of the jury," cried Clerk Penny.

"The defendant will arise."

Miss Patterson slowly arose from her seat, her right hand clutching to the table for support, while her hand sought her father's.

"Have you agreed upon a verdict?" asked the clerk of the jury.

"We have not," said Foreman Harmer.

"It is to be regretted," said Justice Davis. "I thank you for your patient attention and your work for the commonwealth. You are discharged."

Miss Patterson clung sobbingly to her father, and her anguish was manifest by audible crying. Her counsel whispered a few words to her, but she would not listen.

the cry of the tortured lungs for mercy. Give them mercy in the form

STOP THAT COUGH!

Colds Lead to Catarrh - Catarrh Leads to Consumption.

A Beautiful
Girl's
Experience

MISS
LILLIA.

Miss Alma Lillia, 506 18th St., Rock Island, Ill., says:

"I am a firm friend to Peruna, for it cured me in two days of a cough which had been annoying me for three weeks, and which had developed a serious catarrhal affection of the throat and lungs."

"I had a number of colds during the year, and each left me with a little more catarrh; then this bad cough was the worst. I took cough medicines until I sickened at the sight of them. But Peruna cured me up in such quick time that I am its firm friend. Four weeks' constant use of it got the catarrh entirely out of my system."

"It deserves all the praise bestowed upon it." - Alma Lillia.

treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues.

Then they catch another cold and begin to cough. Then they take cough syrups, but they do no good.

By and by they get tired of taking medicine and give up in despair.

Their cold continues and their cough grows worse. Then they apply to a doctor, only to discover that they are in the first stages of consumption.

Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way:

A person catches a cold. The cold is not properly cured, and they quickly catch another one. This cold is dillydallied with by no treatment, or some

Miss Lillia, of Illinois, started out exactly in this way. Fortunately, she took a course of Peruna before it was too late. She had caught several colds, then a cough developed. She took all sorts of cough medicines, until, as she puts it, "I sickened at the sight of them." In four weeks Peruna had cured her of her catarrh and her system was entirely rid of it.

This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour, passes but some one has a similar experience with Peruna.

The first step toward consumption is catching cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat. The fifth step, the catarrh spreads to the bronchial tubes and lungs. It then becomes consumption in its first stage.

At any time during the progress of the catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease. It cures entirely. Even after consumption has become thoroughly developed, many cases have found in Peruna a permanent cure. After they have been given up by physicians to die of consumption Peruna has cured them.

We have hundreds of testimonials that declare these facts in the most enthusiastic language.

U. S. Senator John M. Thurston, from Nebraska, writes the following letter from Washington, D. C., under date of April 6, 1901:

"I have used Peruna at various times during the past year or two with most satisfactory results."

"It entirely relieved me from an irritating cough, the result of excessive effort in the Presidential campaign, and I am a firm believer in its efficacy in any such trouble." - Jno. M. Thurston.

To take quieting medicines to stop a cough is absurd and harmful. The only way to stop a cough permanently and without doing more injury than good is to cure the catarrh, which is exactly what Peruna does. It cures the catarrh of the bronchial tubes and the cough ceases.

At the slightest appearance of a cough a bottle of Peruna should be taken according to directions. One bottle in the beginning will do more than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has fastened itself on the lungs.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.
