Mrs. Myrtle Thomas of East St. Louis is at home visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hughes.

Mrs. Gracy Tossey has worked up a great interest in the B. Y. P. U. both in attendance and finance. She takes a delight in working with and among children.

It looks as if Gov. Charles S. Deneen is the biggest man today in Illinois politics in spite of his political enemies.

Several persons visited the corner stone laying at Brookport Sunday from Metropolis. Among them were Mrs. Nelia McCalister, Morna Campbell, Roy Jones, Fred Roberts, Erbie Shannon, Harmon Smith, George McCrary and Misses Lillie Williams and Alice Young.

They all were delighted.

Mrs. Harriett Jefferson of East St. Louis, is in the city the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Mingo Long and other relatives.

Rev. H. E. McWilliams the State missionary preached the sermon of the corner stone laying of the St. Paul Baptist church.

He also preached for the Antioch Baptist church Metropolis at night. He left for home Monday.

Rev. Thos Turner preached a splendid sermon Sunday morning for African Baptist church Metropolis. He is improving wonderfully and any church would do well to have him as their pastor.

RAMBLINGS.

The editor made an official visit to Decatur last week in the interest of the grand chapter of Eastern Star, while in the city was royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Singleton, at their most excellent home about two and one half miles from the heart of the city. Their home is situated on a ten acre piece of ground with all of the modern improvements.

This home is well furnished with the finest and most costly furniture, has water and electric lights and he furnishes his own steam heat.

He raises hay, corn and berries, it has a fine orchard also and is situated on the interurban line.

The land alone cost $410.00 per acre.

He also purchased a fine two story brick building in the business part of the city where he has been operating a successful restaurant business for 25 years.

This acquisition was recently made. His principle patronage is the white people though colored people patronize him to some extent. He keeps from 11 to 13 persons employed all the time.

His trade is solicited by all classes of people and his word is as good as gold in the city.

These people are kind hearted and accommodating. His wife certainly understand how to conduct the business in the absence of her husband.

Any person of our people visiting Decatur will do well to call at the Singleton Cafe when in the city.

We certainly thank Bro. and Sister Singleton for their kindness to us while in the city.

Promises Like Piecrusts.

"I have such a pretty, new song," said a friend to me the other day. "I'll bring it round for you to try over tomorrow." Tomorrow came, but no song; it probably never will come now. Some people are great at making promises, but just as great at breaking them. Of course, it's only forgetfulness, but that is really no excuse. If you have a bad memory, safeguard it by jotting down in a notebook a little memorandum of the promises you make, just as a small reminder. A glance at this book the first thing every morning will not occupy a minute, and may save some one a bitter disappointment.—Rome Chat.

Two performances will be given daily rain or shine under a brand new spread of canvas, the most finely ventilated and most thoroughly water-proof tent in the world to-day. The afternoon performance will start at 2 o'clock and the evening show at 8. Doors to open just one hour before each performance to allow the people to visit the menagerie and to enjoy the band concert of popular, classic and patriotic music by W. J. Lester's concert band of solo musical artists.

The grand free street parade will leave the show grounds at 10 a. m. and travel over the main streets of the city, returning to the show grounds, where immediately follow will be given in the open air and absolutely free to all an exhibition far better than the performance of many similar traveling amusement organizations. Don't fail to see the parade, for it will be a beauty and something entirely new along that line. Monday July 24, 1911.
