Mi-Careme.
The gaiety of the French people is so effervescent, that, although the Lenten restrictions are not severe, it cannot be suppressed for forty days and nights, but at mid-Lent or Mi-Careme, in a fete, — the fete des Blanchisseuses. The blanchisseuses are laundresses. The old washwomen pound the buttons off our clothes in the floating hospitals along the Seine, the jaunty little grisettes who iron and bring them to our hotel on Sunday morning, and the middle aged lady who keeps the books and sews on the buttons compose the three divisions of the Order of the Washitub.

The connection between them and this infringement upon the fasting and prayer is not very clearly defined, unless it is that the blanchisseuses are chosen to bear the burden of the sin, as they are of a profession able "to wash their sins away."

At all events the day is well celebrated, and the festivities commence at an early hour. The maskers in costume begin to appear on the Boulevards in the afternoon of the day previous, and by evening they become quite numerous. They do not seem to do much of anything, but they wander about in couples or small parties and take their amusement in chaffing or being chaffed by the knots of idlers who gather about them. This goes on until midnight, and even later. As long as there is anyone to see and admire them, they are willing to sacrifice themselves. In the evening also, groups of young men with hunting horns collect around the buvettes and frequented places and produce a wild ear-splitting music, consisting of one refrain, which is repeated with variations until they are invited to take something or told to move on. There is something poetic in the music of these horns heard in the forest of Fontainebleau when the hunters and dogs are crashing through the woods or galloping over a rolling plain on a fine autumn day, but when it is sent reverberating up between the tall buildings seeming to strike and rebound from the narrow strip of sky above it, it is not; it is painful. However, they amuse themselves, and as it does not occur too often, society submits to it.

With the exception of the triumphal procession of Le Roi des Blanchisseuses, the mi-careme is practically a repetition of the previous evening. The procession consists of the chorist of the Queen of the Laundresses, preceded by a squadron of knights of the wastub and followed by chariots representing Commerce, Agriculture, le Bonheur National, Liberty, enlightening the World, and others. While this joyous cortege is making the rounds of the Boulevards and the Halles (markets) the crowds look on and the little boys blow their trumpets. The trumpets have much the same effect upon one as the horns of the night before, except that the execution is more naive and epileptic. Occasionally a few Pierrots, Harlequins and Columbines collected in carriages with a few knights of cuirsiers form a procession of their own, and make a tour of the Boulevards, seeing and being seen. And that is about all there is of it.

All this amusement which in America would be classed as "tomfoodery" is looked upon here as a necessary relaxation from work, and as the enjoyment is innocent, it is commendable.

The old people lament the decadence of the carnival, the waning of interest in fetes, chide the young people for not participating in them, and talk of the times of the procession of the Bouff gras (barbecue). Some of them say that Paris needs a touch of royalty and the example of a brilliant court to show the people how to amuse themselves.

The people who take part in the processions and promenade the Boulevards in costume are generally of the lower classes or the bourgeoisie at best. The bourgeoisie diverts itself at the Bal d'Enfants at the Opera, the special matinees at the theatres, and exhibitions of paintings. In the evening there are given bal masques at several theatres after the representations, and at public balls, such as the famous Bal Boulier, the students' ball of the Latin Quarter. This occasion is chosen as an interesting yet peculiarly impressive affair—the ball at the Salpêtrière or crazy hospital. All the demented, hysterical and weak-minded people in the hospital are dressed in costume and given a ball. It is said by those who have seen it that some of these poor creatures are quite serious over it and conduct themselves with the utmost gravity, while others are gay and seem to enjoy themselves with the intense delight of children, but none are boisterous or disorderly, and that to a casual observer they would appear entirely rational.

The walls are draped with white and decorated with festoons and bouquets of flowers. Music is furnished by a pianist and a blind fiddler.

Turn from them to the students and their companions of the Bouillier at their dance, their antics and shouting, and one would ask himself who were the lunatics and who were the sane people. E. S. C.

For chapped hands, face, lips, and all roughness of the skin, use Kaloderma. 25 cents. Sold by E. Y. Griggs.

The Reddick Estate.

Last Saturday a claim was filed in the Probate court by Thos. Rhoades consisting of one-seventh interest in 160 acres of land valued at $90 per acre in Henderson county—$2,957. He claims that the land was fraudulently withheld from the widow and children heirs to Thomas Rhoades of the village of Brownsville, Fayette county, and state of Pa. Reddick refused to return the papers to my mother in the year 1843, stating that they were lost. The papers were afterward seen in his possession in 1847. A one-half interest in a bill for shelling corn amounting to $100; for harvesting and other labor $394.50; one-seventh of board bill for 16 years, $355; ten days work with team hauling corn from the Vermillion farm at $3 per day, $30; one shovel plow borrowed and not returned, $6 Total, $2,973.50. Interest on that amount for 31 years at 6 per cent. per annum, $5,530, due on account, $8,504.21.

"The St. Jacobs Oil Family Calendar and Book of Health" is the title of an almanac published by the Chas. A. Vogel Company of Baltimore. Like St. Jacobs Oil, this publication leads all competitors and has a distinctive feature in itself which makes the little book well worthy of preservation. All the leading humorists of the time, Bill Nye, M. Quad, Bob Burdette, Derrick Dadd, Spoonendyke, Opie P. Read, R. K. Munkittrick, and others have contributed to its pages. Send a 2-cent stamp to the publishers and get a copy. It will repay you well.

The recent announcement of the suspension of a daily paper called "The Dial", published in New York during the past year, has given an impression that the excellent monthly journal, The Dial, by Jansen McClurg & Co., Chicago, is the one referred to. This is a great mistake. The Dial, of Chicago, has just closed successfully its fifth year and is growing better with each succeeding number. It is certainly the best literary journal ever published in the west, and probably the best now in existence in America. It is beautiful in appearance, and most ably edited. To any one who wishes to keep informed as to the literature of the day and to every book buyer, it is invaluable.

From Texas.

WACO, McLain Co. Tex., March 28, 1885.
The closing up of the great strike on the Gould system of railroads has practically demonstrated the folly of such a state of affairs, and the untold amount of damage done the commercial interests of the country. Ten days suspension of business on the two Pacifics, seems to be but a small affair, yet when we think of its immense trains running daily across our great state, far to the heart of Mexico, a few days suspension causes serious delays attended with heavy losses in business circles. If the railroad men and their employees were all the persons to suffer, it would not matter, but every branch of industry has to suffer.

The number of Hal Gosling by a convicted prisoner, on the train near New Braunfels, created no little stir among his friends. E. S. Marshall Gosling was conveying two convicts from San Antonio to Austin, of a desperate nature. Several friends of the prisoners were aboard the train, and although having been warned that they would make an attempt to escape, Gosling gave them liberties inconsistent in the premises. The wife of one prisoner gave them arms, when a general battle ensued. Poor Gosling fell a victim the first fire. After the smoke cleared away in the car sufficiently to see, says an eye witness: "Two men and two women lay prostrate upon the floor, bespangled with their own life's blood, while both prisoners made their exit from the moving train, one of whom fell mortally wounded within a few rods of the track, while the other one was recaptured the next day. Gosling's death was lamented by both press and people over the state.

Our sister city Marlin was the scene of another tragedy last week in the shooting of two convicts by their guards, while at work on the railroad. The custom of the state leasing out the penitentiary to private parties, has resulted in great loss of life and such a practice should be abolished.

The bill pending in the legislature to substitute granite in the place of limestone as per contract in constructing the state capitol, has passed the senate and will doubtless become a law. The change will cost the state about one-half million dollars. The bill has created much enthusiasm both within the legislative halls and among the common people. There will be no reunion of the Texas veterans on the 21st of April, which would celebrate the 49th anniversary of the battle of Jacinto or the gaining of Texas independence. Jefferson Davis will lecture on the 21st at New Orleans, which will be Texas' day for exhibits at the exposition. Many Wacoites will attend on that day. Among whom doubtless Analyzing the Baking Powders.

"ROYAL" THE ONLY ABSOLUTELY PURE BAKING POWDER MADE—ACTION OF THE NEW YORK STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Under the direction of the New York State Board of Health, eighty-four different kinds of baking powders, embracing all the brands that could be found for sale in the state, were submitted to examination and analysis by Prof. F. Chandler, a member of the state board, and president of the New York city board of health, assisted by the United States Government chemist.

The official report shows that a large number of the powders examined were found to contain alum or lime; many of them to such an extent as to render them seriously objectionable for use in the preparation of human food.

Alum was found in twenty-nine samples. This drug is employed in baking powders to cheapen their cost. The presence of lime is attributed to the impure cream of tartar of commerce used in their manufacture. Such cream of tartar was also analyzed and found to contain lime and other impurities, in some samples to the extent of 32 per cent of their entire weight.

All the baking powders of the market, with the single exception of "Royal" (not including the alum and phosphate powders, which were long since discarded as unsafe or inefficient by house-keepers) are made from impure cream of tartar of commerce, and consequently contain lime to a corresponding extent.

The only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be entirely free from lime and absolutely pure is the "Royal." This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes of the N. Y. Tartar Co., which totally remove the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and on account of this greater cost is used in no baking powder but the "Royal."

Prof. Love, who made the analyses of baking powders for the New York State Board of Health, as well as for the Government, says of the purity and wholesomeness of "Royal":

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates or any injurious substances."
E. G. LOVE, Ph. D.

The following, taken from an exchange, is good advice, and should be followed by Ottawa citizens; it is equally applicable here:

Talk about the city.
Help to improve it.
Beautify the streets.
Patronize the merchants.
Advocate in its newspapers.
Elect good men to office.
Pay your taxes without grumbling.
Be courteous to strangers that come among you.

Never let an opportunity to speak a good word for it pass.
If you think of nothing good to say about it, say nothing bad.
Remember that every dollar you invest in a permanent improvement is that much money at interest.
Never "kick" against any proposed necessary improvement because it is not near your own door, or fear that your taxes will be raised fifteen cents.

Spring Medicine.

Why does everybody take a spring medicine? For three good reasons, viz:—
I—Because one bottle of a blood purifier taken at this season will do more good than two at any other. II—Because the blood is in a more impure condition than at any other season. III—Because the system is so weakened by this impure state of the blood that it has not sufficient vitality to withstand the debilitating effects of spring weather. Hence, by common consent, people seek relief in medicine. The combination of Hood's Sarsaparilla commends it to our judgment as a good spring medicine and blood purifier. Such things as Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, &c., compounded by competent druggists like Messrs. Hood & Co., warrant us in suggesting that all in need of a medicine of this kind give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

The following methods of preparing seed wheat should be of great interest to the farmer. The first is by a Paik city, Oregon man, and the other by a farmer in Dane County, Wis., taken from the Practical Farmer.

This is the method of preparing wheat seed to prevent smut, adopted by the farmers of Willamette Valley. Finely pulverize 1 lb. of lime vitriol for every 10 bushels of seed. Fill a 40 gal. barrel about half full of water, put in, say, 3 lbs. of the vitriol, letting it stand 12 to 24 hours to dissolve (using hot water, if haste is needed). Put a bushel of seed in each of 3 or 4 sacks (burlaps or gunny are best), drop them in the solution, and place on a wide plank, that will run the drippings back into the barrel. As the solution is reduced, add more. Let the seed stand overnight, so it will dry before morning. The work may be done on wet days, or before sowing time, as the grain is unharmed by standing after the blue vitriol application.

Another farmer says: "I dip wheat from the bin with a screen from the fanning mill, shake a few times, and pour up on the floor, and repeat until I get as much as is needed. I sprinkle the pile with a trail of chamber-lyte to the bushel, then throw on air slaked lime stirring, and letting it take up all that will stick to the kernels. Stir often, till ready to sow. To remove oats and other foul stuff, light on a float, add water and salt to the eye, put in a tub and slowly pour in 1 bu. of wheat. Skim, stir, and thoroughly skim again, pour the liquor into the tub No. 2, and the wheat from No. 1 change basket to No. 1 and proceed the same way. Empty the wheat on floor, and so until sufficient seed has been thus treated. This lime will kill the smut worms."

A remarkable escape.
Mrs. Mary A. Dalley, of Tunkhannock, Pa., was afflicted for six years with Asthma and Bronchitis, during which time the best physicians could give no relief. Her life was despaired of, until in last October she procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, when immediate relief was felt, and by continuing its use for a short time she was completely cured, gaining in flesh 50 lbs. in a few months. Free trial bottles of this certain cure of all throat and lung diseases, at Lutz & Briggs' drug store. Large bottles $1.00.

some of the battle scared soldiers of '36 will be present.
Our prospect for an abundant harvest is flattering in spite of the cold backward spring. Both wheat and oats have made rapid progress since the freezing let up a little. The ground for planting corn and cotton is in a fine condition. Corn-planting is about over with.

One by one the present incumbents of the federal offices resign for new appointments, and it is of rare occurrence that one has to be invited out, to give place for the new appointee. Mr. Manning for his daring bravery in the defense of poor Gosling was immediately endorsed by prominent men of both the republican and democratic parties to fill the office of U. S. marshal of this district. There seems to be about twenty applications for every office to be filled throughout the state.

LITTLE TEXAS.
Have tested Tongaline in neuralgia. It is very seldom that I give laudatory notice or praise of proprietary medicines, but Tongaline has given me perfect satisfaction.
C. B. Ostrander, M. D., Fairbury, Ill.

Much money is expended in one way and another to increase the quantity of food fish in the waters of this state. Owners of dams are compelled by law to construct and maintain fish ways at considerable expense to facilitate the progress of the fluky tribe on their way to spawning grounds; and two or three gaolots in every river town are permitted to seine all of the best fish and destroy spawn by the million. In other words these two or three persons not only reap all the advantage to be derived from the efforts of the United States and State officials, but actually in a great degree neutralize their action. This is about as consistent as it would be for the city of Ottawa to plant shade and ornamental trees in Washington park, and then permit two or three persons to chop down the trees for fire wood.

As the case now stands the gaolots afore said not only destroy large quantities of spawn and young fish, but, it is said, carefully take out the game fish and ship them to Chicago, so that the citizens of Ottawa cannot get them by hook or purchase.

Were a proper law enacted or enforced fish would be so plentiful in our rivers that any man could in an hour secure fish enough for two or three meals for his family, but as it stands fishing with hook and line is played out. Two or three individuals get what belongs to five or ten thousand.

In speaking of the influence for good women exert on the Pacific coast, Chief Justice Green, of Washington territory, says: "Twelve terms of court I have now held in which women have served as grand and petit jurors, and it is certainly a fact beyond dispute that no other twelve terms so salutary for restraint of crime have ever been known in this territory."

These are Solid Facts.

The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the liver, biliousness, jaundice, constipation, weak kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, or whoever requires an appetizer, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Lutz and Briggs.

The Fletchers, father and son, were last Saturday found guilty of the murder of Otto J. Hope, at Aurora, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life and the father for three years.

William Whiteside, of Lancaster, Pa., writes: "For over six years I was afflicted with diarrhoea. Misher's Herb Bitters cured me and improved my general health. There is no remedy in the world that can show a similar record of cases, covering so large a range of diseases, as this great household specific. Kidney and liver complaints, indigestion, foul stomach, dizziness, nausea, sick headache, etc., all yield to the magic of its treatment."

Dixon Says: It is a horrid thought to think of burying friends before they are dead. Benjamin Forsyth, a Freeport boy aged 16 years, was apparently dead and his coffin was about to be lowered into the grave, when, in compliance with the beseeching cries of his mother, the coffin was opened, and a slight moisture was discovered upon the boy's forehead. He was removed to a house near by and efforts made to restore him. These were successful after several hours' work, and complete recovery is now promised.

What You Want to Know.
Everybody wants an honest answer to this simple question:—What is the best medicine to regulate the bowels, cure constiveness and biliousness, help the digestion and give strength to the whole system? People ask us this every day. We answer, Parker's Tonic. It is pleasant to the taste. All the children like it. Mothers all praise it. It will save a thousand times its cost in every family. —Editor Western Argosy.

LaSalle Times: Over and above the bonded indebtedness of this township, as shown in Supervisor McLaughlan's report last week, there is, as shown in Treasurer Deegan's report this week, a floating indebtedness of $14,832.42 standing against the town in the form of commissioners of highways "scrip." This debt was contracted for improving the bottom road.

Destroy That Sign.
One may feel that he's getting old, but he naturally dislikes that anything about his appearance should advise others of the fact. Yet nothing does this so effectually as thin and falling hair. No woman wants to marry a man, and business firms hesitate to employ a man, who shows this fatal sign. Parker's Hair Balsam is worth to you, in this regard, more than its weight in diamonds. Use it, and have plentiful and glossy hair. Many have had every trace of grayness removed and bald spots covered by using a single bottle.

The Juliet Republic and Sun says that Edward J. Phelps is envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Great Britain. Such is not the case; Mr. Phelps has no title of the kind and the R. and S. should put up on such big words before attaching them to the name of a personage whose title is simply Minister Phelps and nothing more.

When Baby was sick, we gave her CASTORIA. When she was a Child, she cried for CASTORIA. When she became Miss, she clung to CASTORIA. When she had Children, she gave them CASTORIA.

SCROFULA.

A remedy that can destroy the germs of scrofula, and when once settled has the power to root it out, must be appreciated by those afflicted. The remarkable cures of young children and the more wonderful cures of those of middle age and late in life, as illustrated by our printed testimonials, prove Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a reliable remedy, containing remedial agents which do positively cure scrofula and eradicate it from the blood.

WALNER, N. H., Jan. 21, 1879.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.: Gentlemen—For ten years previous to the early part of 1877 I had been a constant sufferer from scrofulous ulcers or sores, which had finally reduced me to a helpless condition, as described in my letter to you in September of that year. The continued excellent health which enables me to keep house for my aged father, and to enjoy life, keeps alive my intense personal interest in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cannot refrain from expressing my gratitude for the permanent cure this wonderful medicine effected in my case nearly two years ago, while living in Lowell, when all my physicians gave me up as being in an incurable condition. One thing before I close, I have recommended your Sarsaparilla to hundreds, and I think more than a thousand cases, and my faith in its invincibility in curing scrofula has become absolute by the wonderful cures it has effected aside from my own. I trust you will not be slow in making the merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla known everywhere, for it is a duty you owe to mankind. With best wishes I remain very truly yours,
SARAH C. WHITTIER.
