Our friends have been so kind as to present me with this beautiful coin.

We have lived with and among you friends for many years, and I am honored to have had the privilege of working with you in the various municipal offices.

This speech was in part due to the fact that I have recently accepted my new position in the office of Alderman for the Second Ward.

Mr. John M. Wilson presented the testimonial which was as dear as any other world's treasures, with the single exception of my beloved daughter.

The audience seemed to be genuinely pleased with the recital of virtues which were worth mentioning.

On the 2nd night, I trust, there shall always live and act the Col. John R. Marshall of to-morrow.

In accepting the loving cup Col. Marshall, remembering our late Col. Robert H. Davis, who restored order to the various wards of the city.

I have lived with and among you friends for many years, and I am honored to have had the privilege of working with you in the various municipal offices.
