quantities containing as high as 50 per cent of iron. The working of the forests would also permit the manufacture of print paper which has been so scarce in that country.

The Igazu Falls are among the largest in the world, being nearly fifty feet higher than Niagara and three times as wide. They are in the Igazu River in the Argentine territory of Misiones on the Brazilian frontier. They are but little known to tourists because of the diffi-culty in reaching them.

AERIAL EXPRESS SERVICE BETWEEN LONDON AND CAIRO OR CALCUTTA, PLANNED

After-the-war aerial express service already is being planned for flights between London and Cairo or Calcutta, say aviation experts.

The great machines designed for this work will fly by compass through the night with power-ful lamps lighted on their wings and the in-struments in front of the pilot brilliantly il-luminated. Lights will be turned on in the cabins and the members of the crew who are off duty will turn in and sleep as they do on steam-ships. It is believed that business men will pre-fer to journey at night so that they may sleep during the voyage—from London to Rome, for instance—and waste no time.

Each airplane will carry powerful navigation lights visible twenty to thirty miles off, and al-so a luminous number. There will be frequent landing places along the way so that, whatever its need, a machine always will be able to land. Each landing ground will be brilliantly lighted, and, near it, illuminated wind arrows will auto-matically indicate the direction of the wind, a knowledge of which is essential to the pilot of a machine about to land.

All machines landing will display a bright light of a particular color, in order to warn pilots of other machines of its intentions. Aerial lighthouses probably will be used in the same way as coastal lighthouses. They will con-sist, presumably, of vertical searchlights flash-ing on and off, twin searchlights, colored search-lights, or bright, flashing lights on the ground.

Machines will be able to land either at sea or on the ground and will carry large flares to light up the ground or water below, in case of a forced landing.

All that war conditions have taught the allied armies will be of immense value in organizing night flying after the war, it is claimed.

AT EVEN, ERE THE SUN WAS SET

*At even, ere the sun was set,
The sick, O Lord, around Thee lay;
Oh, in what divers pains they met!
Oh, with what joy they went away!*

*Once more 'tis eventide; and we,
Oppressed with various ills, draw near;
What if Thy form we cannot see!
We know and feel that Thou art here.*

*O Savior Christ, our woes dispel;
For some are sick and some are sad,
And some have never loved Thee well,
And some have lost the love they had.*

*And all, O Lord, crave perfect rest,
And to be wholly free from sin;
And they who fain would serve Thee best,
Are conscious most of sin within.*

*Thy touch has still its ancient power;
No word from Thee can fruitless fall;
Here in this solemn evening hour,
Lord, in Thy mercy heal us all.*
