Mr. Pearce is undecided as to whether he will accept or not.

Parker, keeper of a drug and grocery store at Moline, came before Justice Cooke in this city, and confessed judgment on two notes, one in favor of Dart's Sons, of this city, for $200 and one in favor of Alvin Hull for the use of William Jackson, assignee, for $44. The residents in the vicinity of Eighteenth street and Third and Fourth avenues are greatly annoyed because of a thriving field of burdocks, not two blocks from the business portion of the city. On a breezy day like this the pestilence is scattered broadcast all over the neighborhood, causing just aggravation. The field should be mowed down and the weeds rooted out entirely.

There will on this occasion, be a great gathering of Red Men from all over the country, and Mr. Knickerbocker enjoys the distinction he has attained in the order as being a member of the Great Council. The society is a commendable one, and much good must come of its great councils and tribe meetings.

Harrington, an old offender, and one who was sent to the county jail in Davenport last winter for larceny, by Officer Howard's evidence, and he made the assault through spite-work. CHRISTIANS IN CAMP.

Opening Day of the Meeting Near Milan--An Immense Attendance--Prospects for the Week.

The morning dawned bright and fair--a morning which seemed especially designed for beginning the services of God in the groves. A holy atmosphere seems to pervade the place, a stillness only broken now and then by the noise of the hammer made by some one who was negligent about getting to the scene. The campers were astir early this morning putting the finishing touch to their tents and taking their morning meal. Never have the prospects been as good for an interesting meeting as now. There has never been so many tent holders the ground before. Every available tent has been taken and many are compelled to erect or bring canvas tents. The attendance for the first day surpassed any in the history of the association, and if the weather should prove fair, the latter part of the week will find many more people than ever before. The morning service opened by prayer and singing followed by prayer, after which the Rev. A. R. Morgan preached an eloquent sermon from the text: "The Communion of the Holy Ghost be with you all," 2nd Cor. 13-14.

In commencing the speaker said, "First, God is material eternal almighty. The Father is of none, neither created nor begotten. The Son is of the Father, not created but begotten. The Holy Ghost is of the Father and the Son, neither created nor begotten, but proceeding from the Father and the Son. Second, for God hath revealed them unto us by his spirit for the spirit searcheth all things, yea even the things of God. Elder Morgan then went on as he said to prove God's omnipotence by saying "neither shall I flee from thy presence nor neither shall I go from thy spirit. He spoke of the holy ghost as a gift. The power came from high, but they were to tarry in Jerusalem. The distributor of heavenly gifts cannot be a gift in a neutral or a material sense, but only in a personal. He asked the question: "If the holy spirit is poured upon and imparted to so many thousands of believers, can it in this division be one and the same person?" His solution is found in the divine omnipresence of the holy spirit. He then spoke of baptism, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and Holy Ghost. That which is spoken of here is a baptism into communion. These three persons are coequal and coeternal. The singular term "in the name" indicates that these three are essentially one, hence they that dwell in love dwell in God, and God in them, and hereby we know that he dwelleth in us by his spirit which he hath given unto us.

The following is a list of ministers who will assist Elder A. R. Morgan during the meeting: Revs. R. G. Pierce, B. F. Tallman, D. S. McCown, J. D. Calhoun, J. P. Robinson, P. A. Cool, J. A. H. Wilson, J. Bliss, D. A. Perrin, G. J. Suckey, W. J. Mizlum, W. E. Ames, J. A. R. Brink, W. B. Blackwell, W. H. Witter, H. Brink, J. Wilkinson, W. G. Miller, W. Woolley, H. R. Metcalf, W. T. Kerr, J. W. Barrett, B. F. Kaufman.

D. W. Potter, the renowned revivalist, of Chicago, arrived today, and will charge of the altar work. J. D. Calhoun and J. P. Robinson, of Port Byron, are present ready for work.

Ira Whitehead is gate keeper. J. S. Smith has charge of horses and feed. Ex-Supervisor Clarke, of Bowling, is tenting on the grounds. Thos. McAfee has been appointed chief of police.

A. J. Nesbit, of Aledo, will have charge of the singing. Rev. Henry Brink will preach this evening. Cyrus Valentine was wrestling with an old pump today, getting it out and repairing it.

The ARGUS will be delivered at tents on the grounds every evening from now until close of camp for 15 cents. Be sure and ride with South's hack from Milan. Price round trip, 50 cents. Headquarters at Commercial house.

Miss Oletta Muse, of Milan, has been engaged as organist; this is as it should be. Home talent is appreciated.

Rev. G. J. Luckey, of Geneseo, arrived on the grounds this morning. He expects to be present during the entire session. Rev. W. G. Miller came this morning. Heath and Clow, of the boarding house, are prepared to furnish meals of the best quality, on short notice. Not to be outdone by previous proprietors of their house, they have secured Robt. Davidson, formerly of the Taylor house, Jersey City, who will have charge of the culinary department. Meals during week, 35 cents; Sunday, 40 cents; boarding, $1 per day; by the week $4.

The Concert. There was a treat of melody at Freeman's hall last Tuesday evening. In it all from first to last was plainly written the fact that Mrs. Swan as a teacher of music and manager of a concert has no equal in this region. This warm hearted and talented lady is doing a great work for the rising generation of girls. And we are glad to say her work is appreciated in this community. The graduates of the collegiate institute conservatory of music, Misses Blanche Harrington and May Fischer, received their diplomas, which were delivered in a neat address by Principal Thornton. The standing of both these young ladies in proficiency in all the details of a musical education, is very high. Several exquisite bouquets were sent to the young lady performers in the concert. After the concert there was a delightful reception at the institute building.--Geneseo News.

J. H. Hewitt, of Baltimore, is said to be the oldest living graduate of West Point. He belonged to the class of 1818.

THE HONORED HERO.

The Illinois Grant Monument Association Issues a Memorial to the People of the State.

The following memorial has been issued by the Illinois Grant Monument Association: TO THE PEOPLE OF ILLINOIS. The undersigned committee, representing the Grant Monument association of Illinois, which was duly organized under the laws of this state on the 23d day of July, A. D., 1885, for the purpose of securing the erection, at the state capital, of a suitable monument to the memory of General Grant, beg leave to make the following statement to the public:

In the judgment of many good and patriotic citizens, in which this association most heartily concurs, there is a peculiar propriety and appropriateness in the erection in Springfield, by the people of Illinois, of a monument in memory of our great soldier and statesman, worthy of the wonderful career as a man and his great service to his country. While it is not the good fortune of our commonwealth to become the resting place of his mortal remains, yet our appreciation of his greatness as a man and of his worth to the world is none the less on that account, and we are proud of the fact that when Gen. Grant entered upon his grand career in the late war he was a citizen of Illinois. He received his first commission as colonel of a regiment from the governor of our state, and he went forth from this city to become the greatest military chieftain of modern times.

Springfield is indissolubly connected with the names of Lincoln and Grant, the two men upon whom the loyal people of the nation relied in the late great struggle for national life. A grateful people have erected in this city a monument to the memory of Lincoln, worthy of his name and fame. Is it not, then, fitting that the people of Illinois should unite in building here a suitable monument in memory of Grant, that the state may properly commemorate at the capital, its two grandest citizens?

Senator Culom, the president of the association, has designated a gentleman in each county in the state to take charge of the work of raising funds. There should be no difficulty or delay in obtaining the necessary amount. A systematic plan should be adopted in every county, city, town and community, to give every citizen an opportunity to contribute. Our state contains three and a half millions of patriotic people. They appreciate the services rendered by Gen. Grant to his country. He is placed in history as the greatest soldier of the century, and was the pride of the brave men who followed him during the late war. We especially appeal to our fellow citizens who were in the military service of the country, and gloried in the courage, patriotism, resolution and military success of the great leader of the Union army, and all to contribute something toward this work of love. We appeal also to the citizen who were not soldiers, but are today enjoying the benefits of Grant's service.

The various civic orders are requested to cooperate in the collection of funds, especially religious bodies, lodges and secret societies, as well as labor organizations and all other associations. The newspapers of the state are earnestly requested to give publicity to this movement and to open subscription lists, at their respective offices.

But for the Union army which he led on to final victory, the country would not be united and prosperous as it is today. The smile of beneficent peace, the evidences of thrift and comfort all over the land would not today be the boast of the American people, if the union had not been preserved by the valor and patriotism of Grant and his army.

This association has been organized to inaugurate a labor of love in which it is believed the people of Illinois will desire to share, and stands prepared at any time to surrender its trust. We therefore call on our fellow citizens, one and all, to contribute something toward the erection of the proposed monument. Organize in your respective counties, cities and towns in your own way, and let us all unite in rearing such a testimonial to the memory of our illustrious fellow citizen as shall bear witness through all time to our appreciation of the value of his life and services to humanity and to the world.

JOHN M. PALMER, D. WICKESHAAN, D. T. LITTLELIE.

At the last meeting of the association held at Springfield President Culom reported that communications had been received from various portions of the state, in reference to the erection of a monument at the capital of the state in memory of Gen. Grant. The secretary was instructed to have 5,000 copies of the memorial printed and distributed throughout the state, with blank subscription lists, and the association decided that it was important to inaugurate a vigorous canvass of the state for funds.

ST. LOUIS TO ST. PAUL.

The New Direct Line and When It Will Be Completed--A Rock Island Contractor Honored.

E. P. Reynolds, Esq., returned from Chicago this morning, where in the Grand Pacific hotel yesterday, the contracts were let for the construction of the new connecting line of the Chicago & Burlington system from St. Louis to St. Paul. Mr. Reynolds was honored in receiving one of the contracts for the construction of the new northern line. The contracts let are for the new track extending from Oregon on Rock river and Fulton on the Mississippi to St. Paul. E. P. Reynolds & Co., of this city, are to have that portion from the Wisconsin river south 160 miles, and D. C. Sheppard & Co., of Minneapolis, from the Wisconsin river north, with the exception of thirty miles near Winona, Minn., which is in charge of W. H. Spooford, of Winona.

There are 360 miles of new track to be laid, of which more than half is in charge of E. P. Reynolds & Co. The new line will follow the east bank of the river between the bluffs and the water all the way from Fulton on St. Paul, thus viewing some of the most magnificent scenery that the country affords. The work will cost the company $10,000,000.

In conversation with an Argus reporter this morning Mr. Reynolds said operations would commence immediately, and one year would find the line in readiness for use. "The contract," said he, "is one of the largest ever undertaken in this section of the country, and when the job is completed it will give to the Burlington system the only direct line from Oregon, Ill., to St. Paul, as well as the only through route from Saint to Saint. It will fill up the gap between Savannah and Fulton, in fact when finished, it will be the making of one of the most extensive connecting links in the country."

The firm of E. P. Reynolds & Co. have reason to feel gratified, if not flattered, in receiving this important contract, especially where there was so much bitter competition. The firm is to do more than half the entire work, and propositions for the work, and inducements for receiving it were made from every state in the Union, the best known contracting firms in the country sending in bids. It was nothing more or less than the fame which Mr. Reynolds has achieved as a railroad contractor, which secured for him this wide distinction.

The Chicago, Burlington & Northern is virtually the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, although many are interested in the new project who have no connection with the great "Q" route. The corporation has purchased the rights and privileges of the Winona, Albia & Northern and now has a clear road to the Minnesota metropolis.
