WHY LAWYERS, JUDGES AND COURTS ARE IN BAD WITH THE PEOPLE

And Why They Can't Mend Matters By Taking the Courts Farther Away From the People—Time for Lawyers to Give Their Profession a Much-Needed Bath.

BY N. D. COCHRAN

Judges and lawyers shouldn't take themselves too seriously. They are two-legged human beings like the rest of us, and are good judges or bad judges according to the kind of men they are.

One judge may know more law than another, but if the other has more common, everyday horse sense, then he is very apt to make a better judge than the one who knows more law.

Whatever of contempt for contemptible courts there is in the minds of the people, the lawyers and judges are responsible for.

At the bar association banquet in honor of Judge Cutting, Judge McSurely made a few unnecessary remarks on the situation which indicate that he favors taking judges farther away from the people than they are now; and Lord knows they are too far away as it is.

Judge McSurely is quoted as saying:

"I am strongly in favor of decreasing the number of officials elected by the people at large and placing the election of many of them in the hands of the wiser few. I believe lawyers should nominate men for judicial office and the governor appoint them, and that these elections immediately should be taken off the shoulders of the people."

Of course, it doesn't make any difference how much judges and lawyers
