

WALTER JOHNSON DISCUSSES THE IDEA OF
PITCHING AGAINST ATHLETIC SLUGGERS

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Daily Newspaper.

N. D. Cochran,
Editor and Publisher.
500 South Peoria St.

Tel. Monroe 353.
Automatic 51-422.
By Mail, 50 Cents a Month.

VOL. 2, NO. 307

Chicago, Friday, Sept. 26, 1913

ONE CENT

KEPT JUDGES SHOULD WEAR BRASS COLLARS JUST LIKE DOGS

And Lawyers Who Are Legal Prostitutes Should Be Segregated—A Just Judge Is Entitled to a Halo.

BY N. D. COCHRAN

Educated ignorance is sometimes entertaining and always amusing. In Chicago the Inter-Ocean should be designated as the official organ of educated ignorance and standpat reactionarism.

When you want to get the point of view of the select few who think God made this world especially for them, and that the many were only created to do the dirty work, just read the editorial columns of the Inter-Ocean.

Here's an extract from an Inter-Ocean editorial on "How to Get Better Judges":

"The recall of judges will not solve the problem. It would only mean that the voice of the mob would be substituted for impartial justice. Judges elected subject to recall will, since they are but human, truckle to the fickle notions of majorities. They will not stand unflinchingly for the right, which is frequently opposed to, the temporary popular whim."

By the voice of the mob the Inter-Ocean means the voice of the people, but evidently takes no stock in the old saying that the voice of the people is the voice of God.

The writer who thinks of the people in a democracy as the mob would naturally feel that the voice of the rich was the voice of God, and hold the opinion of Baer, the coal baron, who said in effect that God in his divine wisdom had selected a few to rule over the many.