

CHICAGO FEDERATION OF LABOR SHOWS REAL
FEDERATION AT MONSTER MEETING

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Daily Newspaper.

N. D. Cochran,
Editor and Publisher.
500 South Peoria St.

Tel. Monroe 353.
Automatic 51-422.
By Mail, 50 Cents a Month.

VOL. 3, NO. 19

Chicago, Monday, Oct. 20, 1913

ONE CENT

RUSSIAN NEWSPAPERS SILENCED BY GOVERNMENT IN BEILIS' CASE

*Boy Witness Hands Prosecution a Wallop—Chicagoans
Pack Two Theaters to Hear Speakers in Protest
Meeting Over Plot of Russian Government
Against Mendel Beilis—Adopt Resolutions.*

Kiev, Russia, Oct. 20.—A secret policeman and several other witnesses who gave testimony that was adverse to the prosecution in the infamous trial of Mendel Beilis, charged with "ritual murder," have disappeared. Twenty-two newspapers that dared criticize the prosecution have been fined by the government and the presiding magistrate threatens to censor all newspaper copy of the courtroom proceedings.

One of the most damaging witnesses to the prosecution was Zarudsky, a schoolboy, who was a playmate of the murdered boy, who swore that on the first day of the trial Vera Cheberyak, the woman who said she was offered $20,000 to assume the guilt of Yushinsky's murder, tried to persuade him to testify that he saw Beilis dragging off Yushinsky.

Zarudsky said he saw Andrew and Eugene Cheberyak that day, but did not see Beilis. Vera Cheberyak in open court started to berate Zarudsky for his testimony, but was stopped by the president of the court.

Nicholas Fenenke, the examining magistrate who committed Mendel Beilis for murder, told a routine story of the evidence brought out at the preliminary hearing and then stated that the records of the telegraph office where Basil Cheberyak was employed showed Cheberyak, husband