

LATE NEWS

Washington.—The lower house of congress adjourned today. All the members told each other what a grand session it had been, and how much they had done for the people.

New York.—John D. Archbold sailed for Europe today. Announced he would bring libel suit against Roosevelt for calling him liar.

Suit not to be filed until Archbold returns. M. E. Elliott, chief of Standard Oil lawyers, will handle case.

Springfield, Ill.—Ruth Powers, a white domestic from Pana, Ill., found dead in the house of O. B. Caldwell, where she was employed. Shot in the head.

Police searching for negro chauffeur. Arthur Johnson, also employed by Caldwell, who suddenly disappeared today.

Sea Girt, N. J.—Woodrow Wilson's campaign for the presidency will at least be partially arranged Monday forenoon in New York city, according to announcement made by the candidate here today.

La Crosse, Wis.—Reported that Fred Herman, La Crosse, now touring Europe, was arrested by secret service men on suspicion of being Turkish spy.

La Crosse, Wis.—Unknown found wandering around claims that Rockefeller owes him $19,000,000. Police think he is deranged.

Apparently he's no crazier than the United States government, which once imagined that Rockefeller owed us $29,000,000.

New York.—Chairman Wm. F. McCombs, Democratic national committee, may never resume management of presidential campaign.

Physicians have told him he can't possibly return to desk for month. Suffering from intestinal poisoning.

Vice Chairman McAdoo may assume real leadership.

HELD TO GRAND JURY

August Fenger, 846 N. 53d ave.; Herman Belaw, 1729 Cortez st.; George Hanson, 2717 Thomas st., and Louis Goldstein, 2700 Thomas st., four "boy bandits," all 177, were held to the grand jury by Judge Maxwell of the Shakespeare ave. court, today.

They were arrested Tuesday night in Humboldt park. All had revolvers and black masks. When brought to the station they confessed to robbing the tea store of Theodore Rasmussen, 2737 W. North ave., of merchandise and money aggregating $250 on the night of Aug. 12. On Aug. 18, the quartette stole bicycle belonging to Morris Brown, 2700 Thomas st. They were charged with burglary and grand larceny. Bonds fixed at $1,800 each.

WEATHER FORECAST

Unsettled; probably showers tonight or Sunday for Chicago and vicinity; moderate southwest and west winds.