THREE STAGES OF CATARRH.

First Stage—Foul breath, husky voice, saliva slimy, nose clogged up and discharges a good deal, blow out chunks or scabs, nose sore, sneezing, pain in front of head across the eyes, sense of smell impaired, hawk to clear the throat, mucous drops back into the throat, throat dry. This is easily cured.

Second Stage—When catarrh of the head and throat is left unchecked it extends to the bronchial tubes and lungs. These are some of the symptoms: Difficult breathing, cough distressing, burning pain in throat, grow weak, pain behind breast bone, disgust for fatty foods, spitting up of cheesy lumps, hacking cough, mucous becomes of a yellow tinge, cough until you gag or vomit, stitches in side, take cold easily and gradually lose flesh.

Third stage—Stomach and bowles are involved, caused by swallowing poisonous mucous which drops down from the head. This stage of the disease is commonly called dyspepsia. There is nausea, vomiting, belching of gas, head light or dizzy, tongue coated, water brash, hawk and spit, pain after eating, nervous and weak, constipation followed by diarrhoea, rush of blood to head, growing sensation in stomach, bloting of stomach and bowles, sick headache and palpitation of heart.

This class of disease can be cured—in fact hundreds HAVE been cured by Dr. Wilson.

TRACEY WAS HOT.

The New Yorker Weary of the Cuckoo Cry.

HE WILL SLAP SOMEBODY'S FACE,

If Somebody Does It Again—Johnson of Ohio Has Some Views which He Proposes with Vigor—A Combine Discovered and "Given Away" for Boutelle's Benefit—Senators Talk of Hawaii and the Appropriations for Public Buildings.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The third day of the tariff debate in the house was enlivened by two sensations, one being Johnson's free trade speech and the other a "difficulty" in which the participants were Boutelle and Tracey of New York. Cummings, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, arose and asked unanimous consent to consider the Boutelle resolution reported back from the naval committee, calling on the secretary of the navy for copies of all orders and communications which placed the officers and men and ships of the United States navy under the control of Commissioner Blount, a civilian who had not been confirmed by the senate. The attempt to secure unanimous consideration for this resolution raised a merry row, which concluded with a verbal duel between Boutelle and the speaker.

Doesn't Like That Cuckoo Cry.

During the war of words Tracey of New York asked the chair whether it would be in order to call for the regular order.

"Oh, the White House clock has not struck this morning," interposed Boutelle, sarcastically.

Tracey's cheek flamed. He inquired hotly whether a member while making a parliamentary inquiry could be affronted, and called attention to the fact that on another occasion a gentleman (Wilson of Washington) had shouted "cuckoo" while he was talking. Boutelle disclaimed any intention of insulting his colleague, and after the chair said that in courtesy he was giving Boutelle a hearing Tracey took his seat, still chafing under the affront put upon him and declaring to his friends about him that he would not stand this sort of treatment any longer.

"The next man who says anything of that kind," he declared, "will get his face slapped."

Johnson Reads 'Em a Lecture.

The tariff debate was then resumed, Hopkins of Illinois continuing his remarks, under a running fire of questions from Coombs of New York and Bryan. After the completion of Hopkins' remarks Tom L. Johnson, Democrat, of Ohio, the well known free trader and single tax advocate, took the floor and created something of a sensation by his bold utterances. He said among other things: "We of the Democratic party went before this country in 1892 asserting that the existing tariff was wrong in principle and unjust in operation, and pledging ourselves to abolish it if the American people gave us authority. They did give us authority, and then—our haste to repeal oppressive taxes subsided. It was the duty of a party coming into power on such pledges and at such a conjuncture to have proceeded without a moment's delay to the radical revision of the tariff."

A Whack at the Speaker.

Continuing he said: "The house has stood paralyzed because, despite our overwhelming majority, we Democrats would neither furnish a quorum to be counted nor count the one that was really present. It is not merely that we have yet done nothing. It is that we have done nothing where we had promised much."

While Johnson was condemning the alleged steel rail pool he became engaged in a heated controversy with Dalzell. "You deny the present existence of a pool?" asked Johnson. "Yes, sir."

"Well, here is the proof of it," said Johnson, flourishing aloft a document. "Here is the agreement in The Iron Age. A certain R. F. Kennedy contracted to receive 25,000 tons of rails at what I considered an exorbitant price and to forfeit $1,000 a day if he did not take them. I looked into the matter to see who such a large buyer could be.

Seems to Prove His Contention.

"I found that he was a stockholder in the Cambria works, a rival concern, and now secretary of the new pool formed last November. That pool agreed to give the manufacturers of Sparrow's Point, Md., $1,000 a day to close their works and discharge their men. That is the sort of trust the Wilson bill's 25 per cent. duty perpetuates. [Democratic applause.] It gives a concern in Pennsylvania $80,000 a year to close down. The old pool of eight or nine companies agreed to maintain the price of rails at $29. One of the members secretly undersold the pool. Carnegie made war on him, sent the price down to $19, closed him up and then formed another pool." [Applause.]

Johnson Not an Anti-Monopolist.

"I cannot controvert that which the gentleman says," interposed Mr. Dalzell, "but if such a pool as he describes exists I deprecate it as much as he."

"That is were I differ with the gentleman," returned Johnson. "I believe in making all the money I can—I am a thorough going monopolist—and taking advantage of all the bad laws you Republicans have made, but I don't believe in defending those laws here. [Loud and prolonged Democratic applause.]

SENATE HEARS OF HAWAII.

Davis Favors Annexation as Manifest Destiny—Gorman's Sensation.

The principal event in the senate was the speech of Davis of Minnesota in support of the policy of non-interference in Hawaiian affairs. The senator plainly expressed himself as in favor of the annexation of Hawaii, and declared that to be the manifest destiny of the Hawaiian islands. It had for forty years been recognized as inevitable by every American minister to Hawaii, and no foreign government objected to this plan when consummated under favorable circumstances and conditions. The main portion of the argument of the senator was to show that the revolution was the legitimate outcome of the usurpation of the queen.

In the earlier part of the day and on another subject Senator Gorman created some surprise by declaring that during the past three years the total appropriations of congress had exceeded by $600,000,000 the total revenues of the government during that period. A large portion of this enormous aggregate is for public buildings and is in a great measure yet unexpended. Peffer complained that there had been unreasonable delay in beginning the construction of the public building at Salina, Kas. The appropriation had been made four or five years ago, and yet the plans had not yet been begun. Senator Gorman said the trouble was that congress had made appropriations for more public buildings within the last few years than it had been physically able to construct.

Call thought it was important that all public buildings to be constructed should be begun as soon as possible in order to give employment to the millions of unemployed American laborers now in actual need and distress. Dolph did not think it was the duty of the government to provide for general destitution. He referred to the communication of Governor Pennoyer of Oregon to the president on New Year's Day. "The people of my state," he said, "are indignant and have adopted resolutions denying the statements of the governor."

Another Message on Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Congressmen who have visited the White House and state department have received definite information that President Cleveland will send another Hawaiian message to congress today covering the dispatches brought by the Corwin. Holman has prepared a resolution which he will submit to the house declaring it to be the policy of the United States to conclude a treaty with Hawaii by which this country will exercise a protectorate over the islands. The resolution is quite lengthy, and besides concluding with the declaration for a protectorate, numerous other phases of the Hawaiian question are covered. The action of Minister Stevens in originally abetting the revolution is condemned, but at the same time the policy of the present administration in seeking to restore the monarchy is not approved.

Johnson's Bill on the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—During the speech on the tariff in the house Johnson, the Ohio Democratic free trader and single taxer, said his tariff bill would consist of three sections as follows: Section 1.—All import duties and corresponding internal revenue duties are hereby abolished, and all officials engaged in collecting such duties are hereby discharged. Section 2.—The secretary of the treasury is hereby directed to sell all custom houses and revenue cutters and pay the proceeds into the treasury. Section 3 declares the bill in force upon its signature by the president.

The Congressional Brief.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Gorman told the senate that appropriations for the past three years had exceeded income by the total of $300,000,000, a large portion being for public buildings, and not yet expended. Davis spoke in favor of non-intervention in Hawaii. Davis did not get through and the senate practically did nothing, except hold an executive session and confirm some nominations.

The house continued the debate on the tariff, a night session being held and a number of speeches being made.

A PECULIARITY OF GENIUS.

The Effect Weariness Has on Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Lease has arrived at Topeka. In reference to the story of the alleged conference telegraphed from St. Louis wherein it is said she conferred with George R. Peck, general solicitor of the Santa Fe, Mrs. Lease at first denied the story, saying she was not in St. Louis Tuesday; that she had not seen Mr. Peck, had never met him and would not know him if she should see him.

An hour later, strange as it may seem, she said she did have a conference with Mr. Peck Tuesday in St. Louis. In explanation of the contradictory statements she said she was very tired when the reporter had the first interview with her and was mistaken in that interview.

Beaten to Death with a Paling.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.—A Post Dispatch special from Tuskegee, Ala., says: Just after church services John West and Will Duke, mere youths, quarreled over who should take a certain girl home. In the girl's presence Duke tore a paling from a fence and felled West with it, afterwards beating his brains out, killing him almost instantly. Duke fled, pursued by West's friends who caught him and after fatally beating him were about to string him up, but were prevented by officers who took Duke to jail, where he now lies in a dying condition.

The Crank Who Wants Money.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—A well-dressed man about 42 walked into the Garfield National bank and demanded $500,000. He appeared to be perfectly rational. He repeated his demand in a louder tone and the cashier sent out for a policeman. The man was arrested. He was taken before Justice McMahon, in Jefferson Market court, where he became indignant on hearing that he was made a prisoner. The prisoner said that his name was George Monson, and that he lived in Jersey City He was committed to Bellvue hospital.

Sullivan Denies the Story.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—The story from Buffalo that John L. Sullivan had been knocked out recently by his wife is denied by the ex-champion. "Why, that's absurd," said he: "does anybody think that if the affair had occured it would be this late in getting out. It's somebody that bears me enmity. I'll get even sometime" Sullivan then called his wife, who corroborated him by denying the story in toto.

Lansing Not a Good Location.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 11.—The Michigan state fair was permanently located at Lansing four years ago. The society now finds itself $25,000 in debt, and in order to replenish its treasury the executive committee has favorably considered a proposition from the Detroit exposition managers to hold the fair in that city this year.

Canadian Police Lose a Prisoner.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 11.—The Canadian police have lost an American prisoner, and, from their excitement, he must have been a valuable catch. He was arrested on suspicion as he stepped from a Grand Trunk train, but succeeded in making his way out of jail. He gave his name as T. D. Cannon of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Iowa Agricultural Society.

DES MOINES, Jan. 11.—At the regular annual meeting of the Iowa state Agricultural society, John R. Shaffer, who has been secretary of the society for the past twenty years, withdrew from the contest for re-election and George W. Franklin, of Atlantic, was elected over P. S. Fowler, of Osceola.

Fire Among Cotton Bales.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 11.—Fire in Arbuckle, Sons & Co's. cotton warehouse on Washington street, burned 1,600 bales of cotton, while 1,000 bales more are almost a complete loss. Arbuckle Sons & Co. are losers to the amount of about $40,000, and various other firms suffer severe losses.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as many can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to succes, but many, if not most of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douchas and washes. Ely's Cream Balm which is so highly commended, is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. The druggists all sell it.
