

"I'm so worried about the Christmas present I sent to Aunt Sarah," said she. "It only cost two shillings, and I'm afraid I left the price mark on the thing when I sent it." "I'm worried, too," answered her friend. "I got one that cost ten dollars for my uncle, and I'm afraid I didn't leave the price mark on it."

A novel traction engine literally walks instead of rolls along, being provided with four legs shod with broad shoes.
