

—one every two weeks. He has fought 27 times in the five months he has been with me, and at the end of 1914 will have set a record for the number of fights.

"In 1910 Levinsky fought 26 times, winning eight by knockouts, one referee's decision, 10 newspaper decisions and seven draws.

"In 1911 he scored one knockout, got three decisions, 10 newspaper verdicts; the others were draws.

"In 1912 he scored one knockout, received eight decisions and 10 newspaper verdicts in 12 fights.

"I took him late in 1913, and after hiring several good boxers to teach him trotted him out again. He was a different boxer this time. He had picked up science and learned how to handle his terrible punch.

"He knocked out six men, all weighing over 195, in 1913, while he has never scaled more than 165. He outpointed Jim Coffey, Jack (Twin) Sullivan, Porky and Jim Flynn and others. He met McGoorty three times. Two were draws and the third Levinsky got the newspaper decision.

"Levinsky knocked out Dan Daley in the second round Jan. 1, 1914. Daley weighed 215. In the next four days he whipped Coffey for the second time and lost to Bob McAllister, the coast middleweight. He had fought eight battles in 21 days when he met McAllister, which is some fighting."

On January 13 he beat Porky Flynn (second time). Flynn weighed 190.

Freddie Welsh outpointed Mickey Sheridan of Chicago in a ten-round bout at a Kansas City. The Briton won by several city blocks.

Jack Racer, who was knocked unconscious in a Racine bout Wednesday night, has recovered, and is as good as new.

Patsy Drouillard, Canadian lightweight, outpointed Danny Goodman of Chicago in six rounds at Grand Rapids last night. Goodman made a respectable showing, but was not clever enough for the Canuck.

Billy Papke and Cyclone Johnny Thompson have been matched to fight a ten-round bout in Aurora next month.

North Division basketball heavyweights defeated Lane, 24 to 9, going into a tie for second place with the mechanics.

Lake View lightweights beat Austin, 28 to 8.

But what about the major league cities, where the fans are asked to pay for minor league ball?

"J. C. R." MAN OF MYSTERY AT OAK PARK INFIRMARY

"J. C. R.," man with a portion of his brain missing and who can remember nothing more than that he is 45 and a former lieutenant in the navy, is in the Oak Park Infirmary awaiting identification.

In 1907 "J. C. R." was picked up on the railroad near Rochester, Minn., and placed in a hospital. He told of having been slugged while on his way to San Francisco on a government mission. After a futile operation he disappeared with a bag of coins and was again picked up by the Chicago police.

He was at one time the object of a nation-wide search by the navy department and the Rochester Hospital.

EXPLAINS HUERTA'S ACTION

Paris, Jan. 16.—Mexican minister to France, explaining suspension of interest payments ordered by Huerta, said it was necessary for Huerta to put down insurrection in Northern Mexico and this would require all available funds for one month, at least. Army to be increased to 50,000 men.
