

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

WHAT'S "PROTEST," ANNA?

If we were in the blessed estate of a married woman with an income of over $4,000 we would give a pink tea to Dr. Anna Shaw and ask her to explain what she means by advising women to "strongly protest against collection of the income tax," since women cannot vote.

Does Anna mean to pound the collector on the head with a skillet, or does she mean to protest with a shriek? It is the degree of militancy that is troubling many women. Cussing doth not move the tax collector to merciful emotion, as has been well proved, and it is not likely that the female shrieking will; and it is too early in her career to hope for woman's adeptness at taxation perjury. Dr. Anna should make an elucidation of feminine "protest" that's definite and certain, as the demurring lawyer says when fighting for time.

Pennsylvania has 10,000 feeble-minded women.
