

FIRST MOVING PICTURES OF HARRY THAW'S
THRILLING ESCAPE APPEAR INSIDE

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Daily Newspaper.

N. D. Cochran,
Editor and Publisher,

500 South Peoria St.
Tel. Monroe 353.

VOL. 2, NO. 278

Chicago, Friday, Aug. 22, 1913

ONE CENT

THAW LAUGHS AT TALK OF ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE BEING MADE

Lawyers of Matteawan Fugitive Appeal to Royal Officials of England for Aid—Sherbrooke Jail Guarded to Prevent Second Flight of Prisoner.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 22.—Harry Kendall Thaw, the mad American millionaire, is isolated in the local jail. Only his lawyers are permitted to see him.

Gov. Laforce told reporters that he was taking these precautions because he fears an attempt to free Thaw by force.

A dozen heavily armed men have been stationed around the hospital ward of the jail in which Thaw is imprisoned.

It is said that these guards have orders to shoot to kill should any attempt to escape be attempted.

Thaw and his attorneys laughed at the story of an attempt to escape having even been thought of today.

The New York authorities helped circulate the story that such an attempt had been planned.

Thaw's lawyers today gave him a positive promise that he will not be turned over to New York authorities.

This occurred immediately after the return here from Ottawa of W. P. Shurtcliffe, K. C., chief of the Thaw corps of attorneys. It is supposed Shurtcliffe brought the promise and that there is good grounds for it.

Thaw's attorneys also told him he probably would have to leave Canada. He may either be deported at the point at which he entered the country or allowed to choose his own route.

Thaw's attorneys will fight to get from the Dominion government permission for Thaw to leave the country by Detroit and thus reach Pennsylvania.

Sentiment for Thaw is growing. Several newspapers which support the government have printed edi-