

WAITRESSES' CASE NOW ON—LOCKOUT FAILS,
SAY LATHERS—McCORMICK WEDS MRS. ADAMS
—MAN, ACCUSED BY DAUGHTER, ENDS LIFE

THE DAY BOOK

An Address Newspaper, Daily Except Sunday

VOL. 4, NO. 139

Chicago, Thursday, March 11, 1915

398

SEARCH FOR WHITE SLAVES HELD BY POWER OF DOPE HABIT

Chief Gleason Acts on Report That Girls Become Drug Victims—Police Rescue Girl by Sensational Raid
—Women to Fight New Drug Law

Police, acting on hunches received since the Harrison anti-dope law went into effect, are working on clues that young girls have been lured and forced into white slavery by means of dope which was forced on them by their captors and to which they became addicted.

Chief Gleason, it is said, will co-operate with the government agents in an effort to locate white slave bands that have been able to keep their hold on girl victims whom they have lured into a life of shame.

For a long time many people have considered the stories that young girls were kept in bondage almost impossible. Now it is said that by making dope slaves of the girls it is easy for the underworld crowd to keep them.

It is expected that Detective Sergeant William F. Bowler, famous for the number of white slavers he has brought to justice, will be assigned to the work of discovering dope slaves.

The Desplaines street police uncovered what promises to be a sensational case yesterday when they raided Elizabeth Caird's massage parlor, 421 S. Wabash, and rescued Frances Vander, 18, 2122 Greenwich av., who was being held a prisoner in a closed room.

The Caird woman, Mrs. Frances