

LAST EDITION

ONE CENT

FAKE "WANT ADS" ATTACKED BY U. S. AGENT —MOURN DEATH OF BEACHEY—LATHERS ARE OPTIMISTIC—STATE WARS ON LABOR AGENTS

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Newspaper, Daily Except Sunday

VOL. 4, NO. 142

Chicago, Monday, March 15, 1915

398

PINKERTON DETECTIVES' METHODS EXPOSED BY FORMER OPERATIVE

Charles A. Siringo in Remarkable Book Shows Up Well-known Agency—Tells of Work on Big Labor Case —Gives Inside Dope on Haymarket Riot.

A big squeal on Pinkerton's National Detective Agency is out this week in a book by Charles A. Siringo. He worked for the agency 23 years. He was the body guard of J. P. McPartland, the Pinkerton chief at Boise City, Idaho, during the Moyer-Hoywood trial. He did shadow work during the Haymarket "anarchist" case.

The book has been secretly printed by the Conkey house and the whole edition shipped out of Chicago on the quiet to guard against injunctions by the Pinkerton agency. Two years ago Siringo started publishing a squeal book and he says the Pinkerton's "kept me tied up in the superior court of Cook county two years, at great expense." He states:

"It was not allowed to come from the press until changed to suit Pinkerton's. My lawyer, Fletcher Dobyns, advised me to make the changes, as the attorney for Pinkerton's threatened to carry the case to the U. S. superior court and tie up the book five years. Many things had to be cut out and fictitious names used. They made me change the name of Tom Horn, their pet detective, hanged in Cheyenne, Wyoming, and had me state he was working for private parties. I was told they didn't want the public to know he had been in their employ."