WAR OF REDLIGHT RIVALS DRAGGED INTO GRAND JURY INVESTIGATION

Hoyne Probes Report of Divekeepers' Scrap in Connection With Latest Trouble—Special Squads Will Sweep City—Colosimo, Booked, Out on Bonds.

A new theory was advanced today by those on the "inside" in the South Side levee purporting to show that the only deliberate gun plots hatched there has been by the members of rival gangs, employed by resort owners.

State's Attorney Hoyne will investigate this report when he takes the entire affair before the grand jury tomorrow. Detectives who have been working on this angle believe that owners of resorts left in the old red-light district have been fighting each other.

To this war they ascribe the killing of Jimmy Fletcher, who was shot down in front of his own doorway several months ago.

Acting on this information, the search for a possible motive for the affray that led to the killing of Officer Stanley Birns was given a fresh impetus today.

One man, who is well acquainted with conditions on the old "line," said that some of the old divekeepers are even working in with reform organizations in an effort to wreck the opposing faction.

State's Attorney Hoyne announced today that he would present the an-
