ICE HARVEST IS TO START SOON; 9 INCHES THICK

Dealers Erecting Platforms on Canal Bank; Work to Begin After Christmas.

The ice harvest on the Hennepin canal will be started soon after Christmas, dealers and store-house men claim. The cold weather has frozen the water to a thickness of nine inches.

Already the banks of the canal are beginning to take on the appearance of the ice "camps." Platforms and chutes are being erected by several companies and it is expected that the others will follow within a very short time. No Rock Island companies have prepared for the harvest but several Moline companies are already on the job and ready to start operations.

The weather today was considerably milder than that of the last few days but not mild enough to cause any thawing. It is not expected that the temperature will go high enough to delay the operations which are already planned.

The thick coating of ice this winter came much earlier than last year until the first of January. With only a few days of real cold weather not many realized that the ice had frozen to a 9-inch thickness. It was generally believed that the thickness would not exceed five or six inches.

Skaters Busy.
For the last week skaters have been enjoying themselves on the canal which last year afforded such excellent skating. Children have been gliding over the ice on small ponds in the parks and low places for several weeks.
