

UNKNOWN HERO TO OCCUPY PLACE OF HONOR IN CAPITOL

BODY BROUGHT FROM FRANCE FOR BURIAL AT ARLINGTON CEMETERY TO LIE IN STATE IN ROTUNDA UNTIL ARMISTICE DAY.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The body of America's unknown hero will arrive in Washington Wednesday afternoon or evening and will lie in state in the rotunda of the capitol until Friday, it was announced today.

The public and those official delegations and societies which have been given permission to place wreaths on the bier will be admitted to the rotunda from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m. Thursday, it was stated, but no one will be admitted after that hour during the solemn rite preceding the interment at Arlington. Permits have already been issued to more than sixty organizations, societies and foreign diplomatic representatives to place decorations on the casket.

Four American Indian chiefs each a tribal hero will pay to the unknown dead at Arlington next Friday the highest honors known to their race by placing on the casket a coup stick and war bonnet. Plenty Coos of the Crow, Lone Wolf of the Kiowas, and Amos Red Owl and Stranger Horse of the Sioux were chosen to confer the decoration by Commissioner of Indian Affairs Burke, because of their prominence in the history of the west. Each is a high chief in his tribe and has fought American soldiers. They will be dressed in full war regalia. The coup stick, pronounced "koo," is several feet long and was carried by warriors who considered it a brave deed to touch an enemy during a fight. When a warrior did so he cut a notch in the stick or attached to it a single feather.

Curtis Sutton and sister, Miss Callers Thursday evening. Fred Woodward of South Ottawa, a former Sandy Ford resident, was shaking hands with Streator friends on Wednesday afternoon. H. D. LeMessurier called on relatives in this community Saturday morning, having come from Pontiac on his way home to Chicago, via auto. George Wainwright and wife of the Ridge were Ottawa callers Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. William Crumrine and daughter, Miss Maude, were Streator callers Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Read were recent Ottawa shoppers. Mrs. Arthur H. Black was hostess to the G. W. S. Club at her home on Thursday afternoon. There was a very good attendance and the day was a pretty autumn one. Besides the members several visitors were present. After the adjournment of the business session the rest of the time was spent in a social way. The club will meet again in South Ottawa on Thursday. Mrs. Wainwright and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. William Leibolt and Mrs. Tom of Emington, Ill. She will be perhaps perhaps remembered here as Mrs. Warren Watts. Walter Fogle transacted business in Grand Ridge the first of the week. Dr. and Mrs. A. Ives departed on Thursday for the South, where they have spent many winters, their destination being Claremont, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Skinner had as their guest the first of the week Mrs. Skinner's mother, Mrs. Tony J. Weber. Mrs. Henry Mullen and sister, Mrs. J. M. Naughton, went to Streator on Tuesday, having been called there by the serious condition of their brother, William Wheatland, who met with a serious automobile accident. W. Antram was a recent caller in Grand Ridge. Mrs. Ernie Antram pleased strawberries from her patch recently and had a shortcake for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Doty entertained Mrs. Wainwright of Streator one day the past week. Miss O. V. Woodward is somewhat better after a few days' illness. Mrs. and Mrs. A. Goodfield of South Ottawa's township entertained company from Grand Ridge a day the week past. Mrs. Doty called on local friends the first of the week. Frank Beck motored to town Saturday. M. Bear of Grand Ridge transacted business in Streator on Wednesday. Mrs. Edna Smith stopped in Ottawa the latter part of the week. Mrs. Alis called at the A. H. Black home recently. Mrs. Enley was a village caller recently. Mrs. Jesse Dillely have as their guest Mrs. Dillely's mother, Mrs. Mary Black, from Ontario. Miss Alice Fogle entertained a number of friends at her home one evening the latter part of the week. Tom, Ross, wife and baby were guests at week with friends near Grand Ridge. Now Burch is in a heck of a fix, to use strong language. He says he is sane, (latest phrase) while his lawyer insists that he's cuckoo. A slight misunderstanding between the two. Or can it be that Burch is crazy and doesn't know it? How Does Premier Bryan Stand? Premier Briand of France would respect the League of Nations and call it "the Disarmament Conference." France with the largest standing army in the world today, might well get in on the conference. Again we say: "Sherman was right." Now Pershing and Bliss are out for disarmament. The victors in the last war have been suffering with the vanquished. Read Will Irwin's book on the subject of "The Next War." Redlick's Library has it. Irwin's views in the Saturday Evening Post on future problems have been interesting reading during the past few years. His books on "The Next War" measure up to the standard. We may be so bold to call it his masterpiece. Watson is right, also. We know of several soldiers who were shot without the formality of court martial in the late war. But we are unable to enlighten the Georgia senator on any charges of hanging. Probably soldiers were hung with the famed Washington red tape instead of rope. One effect of a modern world war is to cause others than the astronomers to reckon in trillions. Could there not be, also, a conference for the limitation of congressional bloviation? Says our friend and adviser, "J. R.": "Some elements are due to the fact that there are no wedding presents in sight." If you must throw, use stones: words are dangerous. Gentlemen of leisure who might be good snow shovelers are preparing to migrate south. Cider continues to turn hard, contrary to the spirit of the Volstead law. We could make some cider were it not for the fact that rotten apples are as scarce as good ones. Nothing is more terrifying to the householder just now than the appalling and apparently growing appetite of the family furnace for the more expensive cuts of coal. Now is the time to think of winter hats; it doesn't cost much to think. An act of charity pushes a man further along the road to glory than an act of heroism. Weather strips will soon be classed as long felt wants. Cold wave coming. We suppose that this is intended to replace the permanent wave. A freight train was delayed on the side track for about half an hour yesterday up at the Rock Island depot. "What's the delay?" asked an inquisitive one of the engineer. "It'll be switched if I know," replied the pilot. Remember, Away Back, When-- East Lynn, Way Down East. baazaar, etc., which will be made known soon. Refreshments were served by the hostess and those assisting her. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Youens are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Hattie Hodgson, who has returned from an extended visit along the Pacific coast.

Gorgeous Gown

If your gown is expensive enough you must refer to it as reflecting a Mogen Ago influence. If it is just a cheap affair you can let it go by talking about the Middle Ages. Anyway, the gorgeous Mary Walls costume is certainly suggestive of the Middle Ages. It is of heavy blue lace, shot with silver over silver cloth. Sleeves and neck are outlined in silvered material.
