

8,000 KILLED AND INJURED IN TURK CITY

Ottoman Troops Heaviest Loser in a Battle With Servians.

CORPSES COVER FIELD

Bulgars Pounding Positions About Tchatalja, Protect- ing Constantinople.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 9.—Three hundred petty officers and seamen from the naval training station have been ordered to report tomorrow at Philadelphia as part of the complement assigned to the cruisers Tennessee and Montana, which have been ordered to Turkey.

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 9.—Thirty marines from Portsmouth navy yard left for Philadelphia today to do duty on the cruisers Montana and Tennessee.

Ustsup, Nov. 9.—The battle which resulted in the capture of the Turkish city of Philipp (or Perlepe) by Servians was one of the most severe fought on this side of the Balkan peninsula. The Servians lost 2,500 killed and wounded. The Turks suffered 6,000 casualties. The battlefield is still covered with corpses.

CONSTANTINOPLE WEAKENING.

Vienna, Nov. 9.—Bulgarians are now attacking with all their strength the remaining Turkish positions about Tchatalja, and the fall of these vital Turkish defenses in front of Constantinople is only a matter of hours, according to today's despatches from the Reichspost correspondent.

SALONIKI CAPITULATES.

Athens, Nov. 9.—Capitulation of the Turkish fortress of Salonika as well as Fort Karaburum was signed last night, according to an official despatch received by King George of Greece. Twenty-five thousand Turkish troops surrendered.

KIDS SLAY CHRISTIANS.

Paris, France, Nov. 9.—Serious disorders are reported to have broken out in Constantinople, where Kurd soldiers are said to be killing Christians in the Galata quarter. Some buildings were set on fire. Banks and foreign embassies are guarded by Turkish troops.

Constantinople, Nov. 9.—The Turkish garrison at Adrianople claims to have inflicted a severe defeat on the Bulgarians in a two days' battle at the west front of the fortress in the vicinity of Maras.

BALKAN DEMANDS.

Belgrade, Nov. 9.—Premier Pachitch in an interview today, declared the allied Balkan states demanded the complete disappearance of the sovereignty of the sultan from European Turkey and a division of territory among the victorious nations of the Balkan league. The fate of Constantinople and the Bosphorus, said the premier, would be left to the decision of the European powers.

END OF WAR NEAR.

London, Nov. 9.—The end of the Balkan war is reasonably near, after a month of hard fighting. The surrender of the great fortress at Salonika with a garrison of 25,000 men leaves only three centers, Scutari, Monastir and Janina, in western field operations in the hands of the Turks, while the eastern zone and two of the forts guarding Adrianople have fallen into the hands of the Bulgarians, and another Bulgarian army is actually behind the eastern end of Tchatalja lines outside Constantinople. Servians and Greeks at the same time are marching victoriously through Macedonia and Albania.

ALLIES ARE DIVIDED.

A greater danger than the Balkan war, however, threatens Europe. The powers forming the triple alliance (Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy) and those composing the triple entente (France, Great Britain and Russia) are divided in two distinct camps as to the policy to be followed when peace between Turkey and the Balkans is brought about. Absolute ignoring the threat of Austria-Hungary that it will not tolerate Servian occupation of Albania or of a port of the Adriatic sea, the armies of King Peter continue to advance through a country which they have been practically ordered to keep out of. They are also making their way to the Adriatic coast, which can have only one object in view, the seizure of one or more ports.

RUSSIA AS FACTOR.

Austria-Hungary is known to have the support of Germany and Italy in the stand it has taken. The attitude of the powers composing the triple entente is not so clear. Russian popular feeling, however, will force the government to take the part of the Slavic states and when Russia does so it can count on the support of its ally, France, and its friend, Great Britain. This is not because they particularly care whether

TO WED IN CAPITAL EARLY NEXT MONTH

Miss Malvina de Pena and Senor Don Alejandro Herquinago.

The Washington smart set will witness an unusual ceremony early next month when an international marriage will take place at the capital. Miss Malvina de Pena, daughter of the minister from Uruguay, is to marry Don Alejandro Herquinago, the second secretary of the Chilean legation early in December. Marriages of American girls to foreign diplomats are of more or less common occurrence in Washington, but an international marriage, between two persons each from a foreign country is quite unusual.

IN CLOSE TOUCH.

Diplomats of the six great powers are keeping in close touch in the hope of preventing the situation becoming worse. Meantime about a million soldiers scattered across the territory of European Turkey are engaged in one of the most deadly wars of modern days. Official dispatches describe the battlefields strewn with dead and wounded. Many severely wounded, unable to move, wait in vain for the arrival of ambulance corps, which are notoriously unable to cope with the task.

KINGS WILL LEAD ARMY.

It is said King Ferdinand of Bulgaria and probably other Balkan kings will lead the army which enters Constantinople. With the arrival of the conquering army the sultan must necessarily leave for Asia minor, and his government probably will accompany him.

SHERIFF IS IMPROVED AFTER HIS OPERATION

Reports from St. Anthony's hospital today were to the effect that Sheriff Bruner, who was operated upon yesterday, passed a restful night and that his condition shows improvement.

J., Nov. 9.—"Very useful and important, indeed," was the comment of Governor Wilson today on the array of editorials, statements and declarations from prominent persons being published in newspapers advocating or opposing an extra session of congress to revise the tariff. "The newspapers are certainly helping me in my listening policy."

HIRED BOMB FIRER TELLS JURY OF JOBS

Ortie M'Manigal Relates Details of Hellish Work in Court.

IS PAID BY THE UNIONS

Claims to Have Been Employed by Herbert Hockin to Blow Buildings.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—For the first time in public since his arrest 19 months ago, Ortie McManigal related at the trial of 45 accused "bomb plotters" today his experiences as a hired dynamiter. The confessed accomplice of the McNamara brothers, as a government witness, began shortly before noon telling how for more than four years he caused explosions about the country against employes of non-union labor. He directly accused Herbert Hockin, now secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, of inducing him to do dynamiting under pay of the unions.

LIVES PROTECTED.

At the outset McManigal asserted he attempted to protect the lives of people whenever setting off a bomb. In his first job in Detroit in June, 1907, he told of pushing a garbage barrel against the rear door of a restaurant so the people would not run out and be injured or killed at an explosion across an alley.

CLEANSUP ORDERED.

"I had been a member of the Ironworkers' union since 1903," said McManigal, "and worked in Milwaukee, Chicago and Joliet, when in June, 1907, Hockin came to me while I was working on the Ford building in Detroit. Hockin said the executive board of the union had decided to clean out open shop concerns, and I was the man to do it. He said, 'You used to work in a stone quarry and you know how to use explosives. You'll be paid by the union.'"

BOYCOTT THREAT.

"I protested, but he told me if I did not do as the board said I would see I was boycotted against setting a job. I finally consented."

McManigal testified that he went to Bloomville, Ohio, June 22, and brought back to Detroit in a suitcase 35 pounds of dynamite, some fuse and caps.

PURSUED BY HOCKIN.

"Thinking the police were watching me, as it was my first explosion, I decided to leave Detroit. I wanted to work and for them to let me alone. But Hockin kept after me, saying we've got the goods on you now, and you have to keep at it, for we are going to clean out the National Erectors' association. I went to Chicago and worked there. The next February Hockin came to my house and said he had a job for me at Clinton, Iowa."

"I went to Clinton. It was a double track railroad bridge across the Mississippi. I pulled off the job much the same as the other one, placing 30 sticks of dynamite at various places. One lot of dynamite failed to go off on account of being frozen."

FROZEN DYNAMITE FOUND.

"When I saw Hockin again he looked worried, explaining they had found the frozen dynamite and had arrested a man. He thought it was me and was afraid I would tell. He paid my expenses and said he would see I was paid for my work. Later I was told to go to headquarters in Chicago. There Richard Houlihan, financial secretary of the local union, handed me an envelope containing $165, adding that a friend left it for me. Hockin said he was going to keep me pretty busy after that, and he was going to Buffalo to look over a job, and when I got a telegram signed Ping or Clark I was to come. A few days later I got a telegram saying to meet him in Buffalo and to make it heavy, meaning to make the charge heavy. The explosion occurred at Buffalo July 1."

THE SPIRIT OF THANKSGIVING

HONDURAN REBEL CHIEF IS KILLED

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Nov. 9.—General Joseph E. Maria Valladares, a revolutionist who caused the governments of Honduras and Nicaragua much trouble in former years, was killed by government troops in a skirmish near Ojojona, his native town, 25 miles southwest of Tegucigalpa.

The last uprising of Valladares did not last a day. He started it in the morning and immediately came into contact with government troops. In a short, sharp fight he was shot. His death ended the outbreak.

Valladares hated foreigners, especially Americans. In 1910, when Fen-ton R. McCreery, new American minister, reached Amapala, President Davila telegraphed Valladares, commanding that he receive Mr. McCreery officially and accord him proper honors. Valladares replied that he would not receive "any of Taft's dogs with any honors." Davila was compelled to intrust the according of honors in his name to several Germans.

Valladares later threatened the lives of foreigners and was ordered deported. Afterward he started several rebellions, but each time was defeated. In one revolt he found Juan Ramon Soto, a prominent Honduran general, ill in bed and assassinated him.

WILSON'S DAUGHTER HAS TASTE FOR ART

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson spoke intimately of her girls in an interview recently. "Eleanor," she said, "is our artist. She is now studying at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. She has been there for two years, and her instructors say she shows great talent. Her work is not at all feminine in touch, it is strong and virile, and we hope some days that she will be an illustrator. Margaret inherited her father's voice but they say that Nellie inherited my talent for painting."

FOOTBALL TODAY

Final—Pennsylvania, 27; Michigan, 21.
Final—Harvard, 9; Vanderbilt, 3.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 9.—Michigan won the toss with the wind at its back. Pennsylvania kicked off to Michigan's 45-yard line. The westerners failed to gain. In an exchange of punts, Michigan gained the ball and with the assistance of a 16-yard penalty and a half dozen plays scored a touchdown and kicked goal. A 25-yard run by Michigan, a fumble and rapid recovery of the ball near the goal aided in a second touchdown and goal. The period ended: Michigan, 14; Pennsylvania, 0.

In the second period Pennsylvania lost the ball on a fumble on Michigan's five-yard line. Pennsylvania made several more advances, but lost the ball each time. Michigan gave the best exhibition of line bucking seen on Franklin field this year, advancing the ball from her own 20-yard line for a touchdown and kicking goal. A long forward pass and the line plunge netted Pennsylvania a touchdown. Goal was kicked. The second period ended: Michigan, 21; Pennsylvania, 7.

In the third period Craig of Michigan ran 50 yards and over the Pennsylvania goal line, but a touchdown was not allowed because of holding by Michigan. There was much play near midfield, the feature being a run of 30 yards by Mercer through Michigan's line, carrying the ball to the Wolverines' 35-yard line. Here a forward pass and a long end run put the ball on Michigan's 15-yard line. Harrington bucked the line and Mercer shot through for Pennsylvania's second touchdown. Minder kicked goal. Score: Michigan, 21; Pennsylvania, 14.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 9.—One of the largest crowds of the season watched the gridiron struggle today between Chicago and Northwestern. Until a few days ago Chicago was hopeful of running up a big score on Northwestern, but Coach Hammett's team has shown wonderful improvement the past week, while the midway players did not seem to be going as well as usual. Northwestern players believe they have a chance to win. In none of the games in the west today are championship honors at stake.

For the first time, eleven representing Indiana and Iowa universities met on the gridiron at Indianapolis today. Indiana seems to be the favorite.

At the Lafayette game Purdue expects to use many new plays and defeat Illinois. Illinois sent a large delegation of rooters and was equally confident of winning.

Wisconsin, favorites for conference title, scheduled to meet Arkansas at Madison, expected the southern eleven to be the same as the one which won the southern championship for Arkansas last year.

Minnesota, the squad Wisconsin must beat next Saturday for the championship, had no games arranged.

The outcome of the Michigan-Pennsylvania game is of much interest in the west. Belief is prevailing the westerners will be returned winners.

TAFT MATE IS TO BE NAMED LATER

Chicago, Nov. 9.—The meeting of the republican national committee, scheduled for next Tuesday in Chicago, was called off yesterday by Charles D. Hilles, chairman. David W. Mulvane, director of the western Taft campaign, received the information in a telegram from Mr. Hilles.

A vice presidential nominee to take the place of the late Vice President Sherman was to have been selected at the meeting. Just what action will now be taken to fill the vacancy on the ticket was not known by Mr. Mulvane.

"The meeting has been called off but I do not know the reason," said Mr. Mulvane. "My message from Mr. Hilles simply said the meeting would not be held. Mr. Hilles gave no details."

20,000 WOMEN IN GOTHAM PARADE

New York, Nov. 9.—Advocates of votes for women will tonight celebrate the woman suffrage victory in Kansas, Arizona, Michigan and Oregon. A torchlight parade of 20,000 women marching four abreast down Fifth avenue to the music of 50 brass bands is the plan.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 9.—As a result of the adoption of the equal suffrage amendment in Kansas, women jurors will be drawn in the district court here for the January term, court officials announced today.

Des Moines, Nov. 9.—According to complete returns from all counties of the state Clarke, republican, is governor-elect of Iowa. Changes came fast in the count Friday, but last night accurate returns left little doubt of the election of Clarke.

PUT JOHNSON BESIDE OWN KIND IN JAIL

White Cook County Prisoners Object to Champ as Associate.

NEAR RIOT THE RESULT

Pugilist Locked Up When Frameup Is Detected in Con- nection With Bond.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—White prisoners in the Cook county jail, when they learned Jack Johnson had not been locked up in the negro section of the cells, became so disorderly that the turnkey decided to remove the negro champion to a segregated section of the cells where other members of his race are incarcerated.

Johnson was much annoyed by epithets shouted at him by the other prisoners and by the necessity of being locked up in the section set aside for negroes.

Johnson was placed in jail last night following the discovery by Judge Landis of irregularities in ball bonds intended to hold him for trial on charges of violating the "white slave" law.

Johnson was locked in a cell with James Brown, a negro, charged with murder.

PUGILIST SHEDS TEARS.

In the course of his extended battle yesterday for bond, Johnson shed tears, pleaded, offered cash bond in almost any amount and employed two attorneys, David Buchrach and Edward Morris, in an effort to obtain his release. Three prospective bondsmen failed to qualify, and one of them, Albert C. Jones, was sent to jail after he had failed to obtain a bond of $10,000 for his appearance in court next Monday to answer a charge of contempt which was lodged against him by the court when he attempted to schedule property said to belong to his wife, Tony May, another prospective bondsman was ordered out of court because he gave answers to questions which the court considered untruthful.

"Give cash in any amount, but for goodness sake keep me out of jail," Johnson pleaded with his attorneys. Both District Attorney Wilkerson and Judge Landis refused to consider a cash bond.

PLEADS FOR TIME.

"An unparalleled attempt to swindle this court by offering unqualified bondsmen has been made," said Judge Landis. "I will not consider a cash bond."

Mr. Wilkerson said he understood that Johnson intended to leave this country if he obtained his release. The crime with which Johnson is charged is not extraditable.

After Johnson learned that only surety by property owners would be accepted he made a plaintive plea for an extension of time. First, he asked at the close of the day's session that he be permitted to represent new bondsmen at a night session which the court was holding for the consideration of another case. Having failed to obtain his release at the night session, his attorneys sought to have the time extended until tomorrow noon. Johnson thought he would be able to obtain bond which his attorneys might not be inclined to extend its leniency any further.

ARREST MRS. DORSEY.

Coincident with the incarceration of Johnson, Mrs. Catherine Dorsey, with whom Lucile Cameron is said to have lived three weeks while in Chicago, and whom federal authorities have sought as a witness against Johnson, was arrested and placed in jail.

To add further to the pugilist's troubles, it is reported today that the federal investigation of Johnson's alleged immoral practices has only begun. Several other charges against him are to be investigated by the grand jury, it is said.

District Attorney Wilkerson said he intended to put Johnson on trial as soon as possible. The case probably will be called for plas next week.

'CORPSE' LEAVES COFFIN; STOPS RUNAWAY TEAM

Sullivan, Wis., Nov. 9.—After lying two days in a coffin, a supposed corpse, Michael Scofield awoke in a hearse yesterday on the way to the cemetery.

A train frightened the horses and they ran away. The driver of the hearse, Undertaker Morgan, was bruised so badly that he is unable to leave his bed and the hearse needs new glass sides. As the coffin was dumped into a ditch and the cover broken off Scofield jumped out of it, caught the horses, patched up their driver, and assisted him back to this village.
