

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am deeply in love with a young man, but he does not seem to care for me as much as I would like. He seems to be more interested in my girl friend and she does not care for him. How can I win him? Shall I tell him she does not care for him? He does not seem to notice her coolness. F.L.O.

Perhaps if you were not so anxious to win him, he would be more interested in you. Be as cool to him as your friend is.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: There is a young man, much younger than I, living near me. He seems to want to be always with me. His folks are cross about it and seem to think I am meddling him on, but I am not. I tell him I don't want him because he is too young, but he says if I turn him down he will have to go away—he will not stay around here. What shall I do? TESSIE.

You can soon get rid of him by ridiculing his puppy love. All boys go through this stage of thinking they are in love with some woman considerably older than themselves. They get over it. It is a responsibility for the woman, and you can be a great influence for good in his life, if you will try.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 18. Am I too young to have a steady beau? There is a young man I am much in love with, but my parents forbid me his company because we are of different religions. He refuses to be put off and wants me to elope with him. What shall I do? BLUE EYES.

My dear, I never advise people of different religions to marry. Trouble nearly always comes of it. Your parents are wise. You are young enough to wait for a young man of your own religion to marry you. Don't elope with anybody. Marry with the blessing of your parents and your church.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Which will be worn the most this winter—chinchilla or fur coats? Which is the more stylish now?

CONSTANT READER. Both will be worn. Just now chinchilla is better.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What do you think of a lady who has been married 18 years and has three children, also grandchildren, and corresponds with men and her husband does not know it? Should her child keep it from her father, to keep peace in the family? MRS. T. E. B.

As long as no harm is done by the correspondence, why tell? Surely a woman of that age is beyond the danger line.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 19 years old and very much in love with a fellow I met last year, but am keeping company with another fellow I do not like so well though he seems to like me very much. Shall I stop keeping company with him, as I do not like him as well as the fellow I met last year, but I can never marry this fellow as he does not keep good company and is turning out to drink.

A. Z. It isn't wise to go with anybody who doesn't keep good company, for, you place yourself in the same class as the company he keeps. Also, it means sure sorrow to allow yourself to like anybody who doesn't know when to stop drinking.

Show the world that you know a good man when you see him, and don't go with any other kind of a man.

W. Reed officiating. The couple was attended by the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Clark, and a sister, Miss Hazel Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Arbidson will make their home in Rock Island.

BOYS ORGANIZE AT Y.
A GROUP OF BOYS OF THE Y. M. C. A. met at the Y yesterday afternoon and organized a bible class to take the place of the B. G. M. club. The class will meet every Sunday afternoon and will take up a course of study on the general subject of "Men Who Dared." The officers chosen are:
President—Frazier Vance.
Vice President—Fred Milow.
Secretary—Curtis Coulter.
Treasurer—Lloyd Welch.

SOCIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.
THE DEBORAH SOCIETY WILL conduct a sale and coffee tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. Simon, 702 Twenty-first street. This is the sale that was postponed from several weeks ago.

NOTED HUMORIST TO SPEAK HERE FRIDAY

Strickland W. Gillilan, one of the greatest living humorists, will appear at Rock Island high school Friday evening, inaugurating the winter's high school entertainment course which has been booked through the well known Redpath Lyceum bureau. Mr. Gillilan in addition to being a humorist is a poet, magazine writer, journalist and philosopher and he is well known to the people of America. He is original and imparts distinctiveness into his work.

Four other entertainments of various natures are booked for the winter.

DANCING FROCK FOR SATIN OR TAFFETA

Dancing frock suitable for satin or taffeta combined with lace and chiffon. Lace fichu on the waist. The puffed skirt tunic is of chiffon trimmed with lace.

Diseases of Metals.
Metals suffer from contagious diseases analogous to those of living beings. Among these diseases one of the most striking is that called "tin pest." Sometimes a block, a plate or medal of tin attacked by this disease crumbles and falls into dust, and sometimes warty protuberances appear on the surface of the metal. Various other metals suffer from a disease that manifests itself by a spontaneous recrystallization. The most remarkable cases occur with lead and hard drawn brass. These diseases are not due, as has been thought, simply to moisture. Temperature plays a part in producing them. The most extraordinary fact perhaps is that the "tin pest" is capable of spreading by contagion.—Harper's Weekly.

Maybe a Little—After.
The play was not by any means brilliant, and obviously the man was bored. Suddenly he leaped to his feet. "I heard an alarm of fire," he said. "I must go and see where it is." His wife, whose hearing was less acute, made way for him in silence, and he disappeared.

"It wasn't a fire after all," he said on his return.

"Nor water, either," said his wife coldly, with a sniff.—Exchange.

Cautious.
Scene—Train stopping at small roadside station. Irritable Old Gentleman—What on earth do they stop at a station like this for? Objectionable Passenger (alighting)—To allow me to get out. Irritable Old Gentleman—Ah! I see it has its advantages, then!

Showed Her Age.
Grace—They say that Miss Fortynode was named after her Aunt Georgiana. Gwendolyn—She looks as if she was named before her Aunt Georgiana.—Judge.

The art of being able to make good use of moderate abilities often confers more reputation than real merit.—Rocheffoucauld.

Dear Living.
Pointing Wife—You used to call me the light of your life. Hub—So I did, but I had no idea the meter was going to register such a cost.—Boston Transcript.

SOCIETY

PROGRAM OF EXCEPTIONAL.
A PROGRAM OF EXCEPTIONAL beauty was given last evening at Pater Noster chapel at Mount Carmel, Davenport. The numbers were given by Mrs. T. B. Reidy and Mrs. B. J. Lachner, of this city and others and especially interesting was a group of songs given by a young novice who is here to enter the order of nuns. The program as given last night will be repeated this evening and the novice will appear in public. Her voice is one of great beauty and sympathy and she was compelled to give a number of encores. The program was given as follows:
Brilliant in G Major (Arthur Whiting)—Miss Anna McGuirk.
"Teach Me to Pray"—Mrs. Thomas Casey.
"The Chapel"—Male quartet—M. J. Oakes, J. A. Lindley, J. A. Huot, William Baumgarten.

"Dear Heart of My Saviour" (Mercedes)—John Gerwe and Frank Travors.
"Piepa Signora" (Stradella); "Birth of Love" (Coven)—Mrs. B. J. Lachner.
"Holy City" (Adams)—J. A. Huot.
"Ave Maria Cherubina." Arieis from Puccini and Gounod by special permission.
Benediction of the most Holy Sacrament.
"O Salutaris"—M. J. Oakes.
"Tantum Ergo"—Male quartet.
"Holy God"—Chorus.

CLUB HEARS MRS. LAKE.
THE NOVEMBER MEETING OF the Moline Woman's club was held Saturday afternoon at the First Congregational church Moline and the program was one of special interest. Mrs. Leonore Lake of St. Louis addressed the club on the subject "The Divine Rights of the Child." The two points that Mrs. Lake especially emphasized as being the divine right of the child is to be well born and well reared and made a strong plea for the proper training and education of the child. Mrs. Lake has been a public lecturer for more than 15 years and is considered one of the greatest woman speakers of the day. She tells Worrying Happiness.

The bishop of Manchester, speaking at a meeting at Church House, Westminster, said the secret of happiness was to have a sufficient multitude of worries.

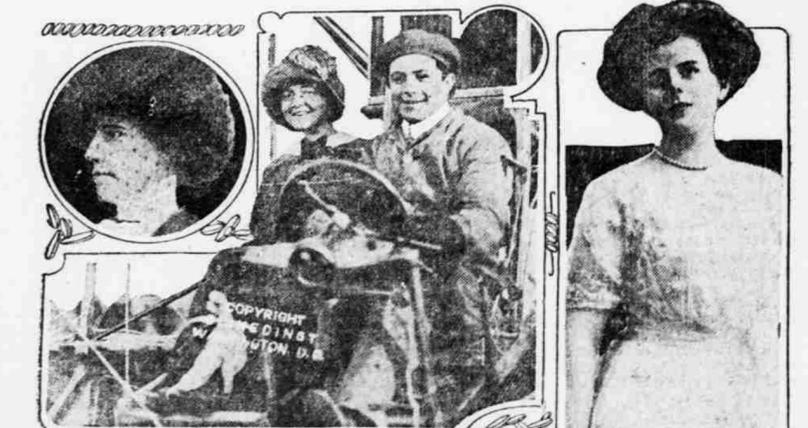

The man who had only one worry, a blind that would not be pulled up straight by the servant or a coal scuttle the bottom of which was always coming out, found his way to the lunatic asylum, but the man who had no time to dwell upon his worries because he had to go from one to another and back again and round and round like a squirrel in a cage could be a perfectly happy man.—London Mail.

Elastic.
"An' one other thing I want you to remember when you build the house is to put one of the finest elastic steps on it that money can build."

"An elastic step, madam?"

"Yes; I was readin' how Miss Blubud had a fine elastic step, an' I want one just like it or better."—Houston Post.

AVIATION SCHOOL FOR SOCIETY WOMEN TO OPEN IN CAPITAL; THREE VERY POPULAR YOUNG WOMEN FIRST PUPILS ENROLLED

Left to right, Miss Laura Merriam, Miss Gladys Hincley and Miss Marguerite Draper.

An aviation school for society women, the first of its kind in the world, is to be opened in a suburb of Washington. Miss Laura Merriam, Miss Marguerite Draper and Miss Gladys Hincley are said to be among the first pupils enrolled. Miss Hincley is very popular in the diplomatic set and has been declared by many the prettiest girl in Washington. She has already had some experience at flying. Miss Draper is one of Washington's wealthiest young women. She inherited $5,000,000 at the death of her father, General William F. Draper, and has spent a great deal of time abroad. Miss Merriam is the daughter of a former governor of Minnesota, and is one of the most popular young women in the national capital.
