PLANS TO BUILD CITY HALL WERE EARNESTLY DISCUSSED BY CITIZENS AT LUNCHEON

Chairman Chas. Feuchter Would Organize Stock Company to Erect $50,000 Structure

Only Obstacle Would Be City's Inability to Pay Stipulated Sum—Mayor Parsons Believes General Revenue Ordinance Would Solve Problem.

At the Merchants' Luncheon at Alexander club grill room yesterday, the subject of discussion was "How to Get a New City Hall." It was presented for discussion by Chas. Feuchter, who presided over the meeting and brought out some ideas which may result in action.

The gathering was a representative one, among those in attendance being men who have been known to do difficult things. Mr. Feuchter called first for reports from committee.

Mayor Parsons responded in behalf of the Good Roads committee, saying that he had been delegated by Dr. Jenelle, chairman of this committee, to say that the committee had made some progress but was not ready to report. Further time was asked and granted.

John S. Alsthorpe reported for the committee which has had in hand the matter of securing free express delivery for the upper part of the city when the streets are paved. He said the matter was being worked out by those concerned and there was reason to hope that a favorable decision would be reached in due time.

J. B. Magee reported for the Insurance Rate committee, that an attorney had been requested to ascertain how the city could obtain the additional revenue needed to put in operation the improved fire service necessary to procure lower rates.

Peter Lind brought up the K. M. K. C. Charity bill Feb. 23. He urged all present to remember the occasion generously and see that their friends did so. Mr. Lind said this charity fund created and maintained by the K. M. K. C. was a great aid to a considerable number of poor people in Cairo every year.

At this point Mr. Feuchter presented the subject for the day—"A New City Hall." He offered a brief statement of a proposition which he felt might lead up to a feasible plan to gain this much needed establishment.

Organize a corporation, not for pecuniary profit, to be known as the Cairo City Hall association or some other appropriate name; its object to be to build a city hall for the city of Cairo; its capital stock to be $50,000 to be divided into five hundred shares of $100 each.

Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Franklin of Eleventh street who some months ago went to New York to launch his musical compositions is meeting with more than ordinary success which will be a matter of great gratification to his Cairo friends and admirers of his talent who always have been sanguine of his making good.

His latest composition to find favor with the public is "Maple Rag" published by the well known firm of Jos. W. Stern & company of New York. The publishers pronounce this the best ragtime composition they ever published and this is saying a great deal.
