s different from an others. Is composed of the ourejuices or vital principle of Roots, Herbs and Barks (or as medically termed, extracts,) the worthless and inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore, in one bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several getlons of ordinary mixtures. The Roots, etc., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where hey are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from he objections urged against all others; no desire for st mulants can be induced from their use, can make no drunkards, and cannot, under recumstance, have any out a beneficial effect

Hoofland's German Tonic.

Was compounded for those not included to ex-reme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is equired in con nection with the tonic properties of the Bitters Each bottle of the Tonic contains one bottle o the Bitters, combined with pure Sata Cruz Rum, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme atterness of the Bitters is overcome, forming preparation highly agreeable and pleas int to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtue of the sitters. The price of the Tonic is $1 50 per bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimuiant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a che-per price, but is it not better to pay a little more and nave a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound will most certainly be cheated.

CONSUMPTION Its Cure and Its Preventive BY J. H. SCHENCK, M.D.

Many a human being has passed away for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber isto which, had they camily adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have failen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into bealthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptious. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

quires no argument. It is seit-assuring, son yincing.
The Sea-weed Tonic and Mandrake Pilisare the first two weapons with which the citadel of the mainty is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsis and a functional disordered liver. With this condition the maintain of the liver. Here then comes the calminating result, and the setting in, with nil its distressing symptoms of CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Na-ture's nobiest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum They possess all the blood-searching, ulterative proportics of calomel, but, unlike calomel, they "LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitia-ted and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpid-ity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last, A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Sea-weed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes paniess, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature can not be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and to it in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the diguity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room tutil they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure can not be effected. Fresh air and riding out especially in this section of the country, in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the atrength will beer, to get up a good circulation of blood. The satients must keep in good spirits—be & & termined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in those modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians though that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws. I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

"As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains, and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was withed shortly after my recovery? sided the Poctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only interest, even pounds; my present weight is two hundred and it went; with a discontinued his professional visits to New-York and Boston. He or his son, if not a their office, No. 15 North shirth seven patients at their office, No. 15 North shirth seven patients at their office, No. 15 North shirth seven dungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are shaped to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First create appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abatted. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a largitly or purantive, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric significant consumption in any of its forms.
