STOP H. S. DANCES

Topeka Ministerial Union Condemns Practice Here.

Says School Board Allows Frolics in City Buildings.

GYMNASIUM FOR DANCING

Superintendent Stout Says This Was the Understanding.

Bomgardner Says Methodist Schools Are Just as Bad.

Dancing in the high school buildings by high school students or any other organization received hot condemnation at the hands of the Topeka Ministerial union at its regular meeting at the Central Y. M. C. A. this morning. A resolution condemning the practice of making a dance hall of a public institution was passed by the association and President E. W. Harrison, pastor of the Third Christian church, was instructed to notify the school board and the superintendent of schools of the action.

The resolutions were passed following statements made by various members of the board which said that "it is a regular practice with student organizations in the high school to give dances in place of the old-time class parties." The resolutions declared that the permission given for such affairs in effect puts the stamp of approval of the school authorities on the dance.

The Ministerial union passed another resolution at the meeting which endorsed the Salvation Army home service drive here next week.

Dr. S. S. Estey, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, made a verbal report on the conferences he attended in Europe, where bodies of Protestant clergy were discussing the organic union of churches. Various committees presented their regular reports at the meeting.

Drenning Admits "Guilt."

The State Journal was unable to get in touch with President L. M. Penwell of the state board of education today. He was too ill to talk, but F. G. Drenning, member of the board, declared the Ministerial union rather premature in its condemnation, saying, "We should have been given an opportunity to pass on such alleged practices first." Drenning denied that "dances nor anything like them goes on at the high school functions in the school buildings," but he admitted that "at a general party given some time last year an impromptu dance was held, presumably with the permission of Superintendent Stout, who was faced at the party with a request for such permission.

Drenning denied that he was present at this party and said he "didn't think any other members of the board were there or it would not have been allowed."

When informed of the action taken by the ministers, H. W. Bomgardner, president of the board of education, said he knew of no dances that were held under the auspices of the high school. He said dances were given by clubs and different sets among the students, but said that this was done at Methodist colleges. Bomgardner could not say what attitude the board would take regarding the criticism of the ministers or whether the board as a whole would approve of dancing at the high school.

"Gym" for Dancing.

A. J. Stout, superintendent of the city schools, said that when the new gymnasium was constructed at the high school the school board instructed him to let the students dance some if they desired. He said class parties were held in the "gym," at which there was some dancing.

"Let Dr. Holter Make Remarks Before School Board."

Dance Sermon Sunday Arouses Educational Official.

APPLAUD PREACHER IN CHURCH

Lowman Congregation Approves of Condemnations.

City Scored for Allowing "Open Town" to 35th Reunion.

The board of education today refused to make any formal reply to the statement made by the Rev. H. O. Holter in a sermon Sunday night at the Lowman Memorial M. E. church to the effect that "we can not expect to get the proper moral atmosphere in the Topeka high school as long as the home atmosphere is what it is and until we get rid of the bunch of 'old stiffs' on the board of education."

H. W. Bomgardner, president of the board, refused to comment.

Frank G. Denning, a member of the board, said the Rev. Mr. Holter would "be afraid to come down to a meeting of the board and make the statements he made in his sermon.

"Let him come down and say those things and see what we do to him," was Drenning's comment.

"Dance To Be Popular."

Doctor Holter, in his sermon, dwelt on the fact that the atmosphere of the modern home did not start the children on the right road. More attention should be paid to refined amusements instead of commercial ones, he said. He did not blame the schools, he said, as much as the homes. The boy and girl of today, he declared, thought they had to dance when they entered high school in order to be popular. He also scored the public dance hall.

A slap was taken at A. J. Stout, superintendent of schools, when Doctor Holter declared, "When such a change is made in the board of education possibly then we can get a superintendent who does not express regret that he did not learn to dance when a boy." Stout refused to answer Doctor Holter's remarks.

The congregation applauded loudly chruout the minister's sermon on dancing and cries of "amen" were heard all over the church.

Doctor Holter also condemned the Topeka city government for throwing the city wide open to the members of the Thirty-fifth division during the recent reunion. "Gambling is gambling whether done by soldiers or any one else," he said, "and it was a reflection on the soldiers for the city to declare Topeka 'wide open' during their stay here."

With a view to ascertaining the best fertilizer for wheat in Shawnee county, F. O. The tests also are expected to show whether nitrogen, potassium or phosphorus is lacking in the soil.

In case he is not convicted on the federal charge of driving a stolen car from one state to another, Harry Stamm, now being held in the Shawnee county jail, will probably be returned to the state reformatory for violating his parole, according to officers. He was sentenced for stealing a car some time ago and since his release has confessed to stealing seven other cars, it was said.

F. O. Blecha, Shawnee county farm agent, warns that now is the time for farmers to treat wheat against smut. The best preventive, he says, is a mixture of formaldehyde solution with water in the ratio of one pint of formaldehyde to forty gallons of water. A gallon of liquid is sufficient to treat a bushel of wheat. The wheat, after being treated, should be covered with blankets for about four hours.

Harold Brown, a 15-year-old negro boy, was arrested Saturday morning and sentenced to the boys' industrial school on a charge of attempting to steal a car from the M. & S. Tire company on East Sixth avenue, Monday. He admitted his guilt, according to officials. He was arrested in Wichita on a similar charge some time ago and paroled upon his promise to obtain work in Topeka.

J. W. Roberts, of Haysville, Kan., for whom Sheriff Hugh Larimer recovered a stolen car, has forwarded the check for $100 he wrote as a reward and then stopped payment on. Sheriff Larimer had paid out $75 of the money to men who assisted him in catching the thief before he learned that Roberts had stopped payment on the check. It was not until the county attorney threatened to bring action against Roberts that the latter released the check.

The meetings, held under the auspices of the Kansas Holiness association, and with the co-operation of several Topeka churches, will continue until October 10.

Among the prominent speakers the Central Congregational church will bring to Topeka soon will be Dr. Charles F. Aked, pastor of the First Congregational church of Kansas City, Mo., who delivered the commencement address at Washburn college in June. Doctor Aked will speak Monday evening, October 11, on "Americanism and America." Dr. E. H. Lindley and cellor of the state university, and Dr. D. W. The Rocky Ford Milling & Power company, of Abilene, Kan., today filed suit in the district court asking that an order of the industrial court requiring it to reroute its telephone lines because of interference with the lines of the Wamego Telephone campany, be declared null and void. The order was made September 9 upon the complain of the Wamego company. The Rocky Ford company claims the order is confiscatory in that it will cost $10,000 to reroute the lines. It claims its lines are such as are approved by law and modern science. The Wamego company says the Rocky Ford lines are of the transmission kind and of such high voltage, and in such close proximity to its own that they are interfering with Wamego company service. The Rocky Ford company claims the Wamego company's lines are of the grounded system and are now obsolete in modern telephony.

HAPPILY MARRIED

Indian Oil Magnate's Marriage Is O. K., Says Judge.

Settles Disturbance Started Several Months Ago.

Jackson Barnett, aged Indian oil magnate and his pale-face bride, are happily married. That is the conclusion of Judge A. M. Jackson of Winfield, in a report to the supreme court in the suit to set aside the wedding.

Several months ago there was a big disturbance in the federal department of the interior when it was reported that Anna Laurie Lowe had kidnapped Barnett from his farm in Oklahoma, taken him to Coffeyville, Kansas, and married him. It was alleged that the woman fled with Barnett in order to gain possession of his property. Carl O. O'Hornet went before the Kansas supreme court in an application for an order setting aside the Indian-pale-face wedding and returning Barnett to the custody of the Oklahoma court.

The Kansas court, however, refused to be hasty in annulling the Indian's wedding. So they appointed Judge Jackson as commissioner to take testimony in the case. The guardian was also ordered to provide money with which Barnett's bride might fight for her rights and enable the newly weds to live happily during the proceedings.

In his report today Judge Jackson states that Barnett and his wife have removed to the Indian's farm in Oklahoma. Both sides, he reports, have agreed not to cause further disturbances. As soon as the guardian provides sufficient funds for costs Judge Jackson urges that the action now pending in the court be dismissed.

BATH CAUSES BLACK EYE

Trusty Invites Woman to Use County Jailer's Bath Room.

Because Hattie Graham took a bath Sunday, Paul Lewis, a trusty at the county jail, is once more locked in a cell and Robert O. Garrod, jailer, has a black eye.

According to Garrod's story, he was out to dinner when Paul Lewis invited the Graham woman to go to Garrod's private bath room and take a bath. He procured the keys from a deputy sheriff and locked her in the bath room, then locked her in her cell again when she had completed her ablutions. When Garrod returned from lunch and called for the keys he was told that Lewis had them.

Garrod declares that the Graham woman has a social disease and it did not set well with him to have her bathing in his private tub. He censured Lewis for taking so much liberty.

"One word brought on another," said Garrod. "I told Lewis three distinct times to leave the office but he refused. At last he left and returned. He came to the window where I was sitting and struck me in the eye. A ring he was wearing cut my eye. So I put him right back in a cell. He has been taking too much liberty lately. Putting Hattie Graham up to taking a bath in my own tub, I think, was spite work. He had no right to do it."

Lewis was sentenced to six months in the county jail for stealing a Buick automobile from the Wood Motors company. His sentence will expire next Saturday. Garrod said he did not intend to have a warrant sworn for Lewis.

A successor will be named in time to open the October term of the district court in Decatur county next week. Candidates for the office are: Frank Stinson, Phillipsburg; Robert W. Hemphill, E. N. Boatman and Willard Simmons, all of Norton.

TO INVESTIGATE HEAT RATES

Edison Company Application Will Be Looked Into by Commission.

The application of the Edison company for increased rates in steam heating will be carefully considered before action is taken in the matter, members of the city commission have announced. The operating condition of the plant will be thoroly investigated with the aid of Major T. J. Strickler, chief engineer of the industrial court.

The Edison steam heat service has been given at a loss for nearly two years, according to Albert Purdy, manager of the plant. The proposed rates will not give profit, but will keep the company from losing money on operating expense, he said.

The idea originated with Oscar Carlston, deputy sheriff, and a large filing cabinet has been pressed into service.

TOPEKA IS READY

City Responds to Appeal of the Salvation Army.

Enthusiasm Luncheon at C. of C. Saturday Noon.

Preparations for the Salvation Army campaign for $20,000 in Topeka and Shawnee county are rapidly nearing completion, according to reports made at the Chamber of Commerce today noon by chairmen of the various subcommittees handling the drive. Almost every block in the upper business district is assigned to a canvass captain who already has accepted the responsibility. School district chairmen have been appointed for each of the 103 rural school districts in the county, and they are expected to be in Topeka for a big luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday noon.

At a meeting of the Topeka Ministerial union at the Y. M. C. A. this morning the official sanction of the pastors of the city was given to the $20,000 campaign. In sanctioning the drives the members of the association declared themselves responsive to the appeal of the drive committee which asked that sermons or announcements be made from every pulpit in Topeka next Sunday. It was announced at the meeting that Rev. E. A. Schell, chairman of the speakers' committee of the drive, would furnish four minute speakers to those churches desiring them.

Saturday the Boy Scouts will plaster the city with posters and window cards, and will deliver to every door in the city a pamphlet explaining the work of the Salvation Army and its home service program for 1920, which offers the services and institutions of the Army to the social needs of every rural community in the state as well as to the bigger cities.

Rally to Support.

R. C. Ellis, campaign manager for Shawnee county, today asserted that the business men of the city, the leading men in the rural districts, and the prominent women of the city alike have rallied to the support of the army, in its appeal for finances. He quoted from statements made by many canvass captains who asserted that "the Salvation Army in its drive for funds can count on us to lend our best efforts in obtaining an over-the-top subscription to the home service fund."

Ellis declared the records of the Salvation Army show that Salvation Army officers must raise the amount of their own salaries in collections taken at their street and indoor meetings. He declared that every dollar given the army for relief work is expended in relief work, and asserted that it is administerd on a budget basis just as the funds of any big business corporation are handled.

All Salvation Army solicitors have been withdrawn from the streets everywhere, and the army is totally dependent on the funds raised in the home service campaign for carrying out its relief and institutional work next year.

The material purchased, reclaimed clothing, worn and repaired, for which there was no market in the U. S. included: Two hundred thousand blouses, 200,000 breeches, 300,000 pairs of shoes, 800,000 pairs of wool socks, 100,000 pairs of canvas leggings, 200,000 suits of underwear.

The clothing, which will be paid for by six-year notes of the Polish republic, bearing 5 per cent interest, will be shipped to Poland immediately.
