The most successful affair in the social history of the local Y. W. C. A. was the "Poverty Party" given in the association gymnasium last night. More than two hundred employed girls were registered as guests, representing nearly every business firm of the city. The cleverly ridiculous costumes of the "poverty-stricken" gathering gave much hilarity to the occasion. Games, dancing and music were enjoyed, with aesthetic dancing by Miss Gertrude Loudenback, Y. W. C. A. dancing instructor, assisted by Misses Julia Kellar, Helen Holler, Florence Mower, Florence Wilson, Jennie Maxwell, Lucille Willoughby and Mrs. June Frisbee, her pupils. Special music for dancing was furnished by Miss Mary Clark and Miss Fayben Williams. A relay race between two girls representing the Topeka Daily Capital and the Topeka State Journal, using copies of the newspapers, was an easy victory for the Journal. Judge J. S. West was the most popular of the judges. Miss Mabel Adams, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the "Poverty Party," stated that there would be another Y. W. C. A. party for business girls in May and that the committee was already planning a large and interesting series of parties for next year.

THERE IS A GIRL IN OUR TOWN
Of such an advanced age that she speaks of the time when she was in college as if it were years ago. She admits she is approaching the time when people will say "old maid" behind her back. "But then," she philosophically adds, "so long as they still come about two a year, I'm not worrying ('they' being proposals). When it happens only once in two years, I shall begin to think seriously about a husband."

The little girl is always clean and trim looking but the little boy is the despair of his mother, because he cannot keep him clean for more than five minutes at a time. Son replied, "I don't know, 'ess it's cause boys were made out of dirt and girls were made out of sicc clean hore."

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multifid cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multifid cocoon oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.
