

DASHED TO DEATH

Audrey Graham Killed in Fall of Plane in Oklahoma.

Ira Bidwell, Kansas Baseball Man, Seriously Injured.

Cherokee, Okla., May 16.—Audrey Graham is dead and Ira Bidwell is seriously hurt as the result of an airplane accident here Thursday afternoon. Both men had served as lieutenants in aviation sections, United States army, stationed at Post field, Fort Sill, east of Kansas City. They recently were discharged from the service.

The accident occurred in view of thousands of spectators gathered here in attendance at the three days' automobile and airplane exhibit. Graham and Bidwell were listed as independent, brought here to amuse the crowd.

They had only been in the air a few minutes and were at a height of approximately 1,500 feet when they went into a tail spin. The spiral strain and the wind were too much for the new repairs and the wings collapsed. Bidwell is well known in sporting circles of the southwest, especially among minor league and semi-professional baseball players.

There is hardly a baseball player in the west who does not know Ira Bidwell, who was hurt in the Oklahoma airplane accident and many of the big league players over their ties to the genial Emporian who has been a figure in Kansas sport circles for a number of years. Bidwell was called the "kid manager" in baseball. When he was barred by out of short pants he began to manage baseball teams and was one of the most successful of "free lances." In 1914 Bidwell managed the Emporia team in the Kansas State league and he managed a team in the Nebraska State league for a season or two. But managing, owning, directing and financing teams kept him in the limelight more than anything else. For several seasons he managed the Kansas City Red Sox and one season when he had this team he kept two complete teams on the road. Bidwell's teams played in Topeka on several occasions and he was well known here. Among the players whom he discovered and helped to send to the big leagues are Otis Lambeth, who was with Topeka in the Western league under John Savvas, and Hendrix, of the Chicago Cubs.

ARE "CANNED" KICKS

German Protests Written Before the Treaty Received, AIES Believe.

(By the Associated Press.) Paris, May 16.—The conviction is growing in allied circles that most of the German protests against the peace treaty so far received were written before the reading of the treaty and are designed as propaganda. This conviction is strengthened by the fact that the text of the treaty is not quoted and that the protests have been published in Berlin before they were received in Paris. The conference, however, is referring all protests to commissions, which will consider them on their merits.

ELECT A LAYMAN

Presbyterians Take Unprecedented Action in Choice of Moderator.

St. Louis, May 16.—J. Willis Baer, Pasadena, Cal. banker, was elected moderator at the 131st general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States in session here late Thursday. This is the first time in history a layman was chosen as the highest officer of the church. Mr. Baer's opponent was the Rev. Dr. S. Hall Young, an Alaskan missionary.

Mr. Baer was the only layman nominated, the Rev. Alexander MacColl, of Philadelphia; the Rev. Robert Johnston, of Montreal, Canada, and the Rev. Calvin Hays, of Johnstown, Pa., also were nominated, but withdrew from the race in favor of the other two candidates.

William Jennings Bryan, who had been spoken of frequently as a possible contestant, did not arrive in St. Louis until after the election. This precluded him from becoming a candidate, as the assembly has never chosen a moderator who was not on the floor at the time of the election.
