

THE C. R. I. & P. TIME TABLE (St. Joseph & Iowa R. R. Leases.) "ROCK ISLAND ROUTE."

MAIL EXPRESS. No. 23, Daily, 11:30 A. M. Freight Accommodator No. 24, Daily, 12:30 P. M.

SANTA FE TIME CARD. GOING EAST. No. 1. New York Ex. leaves at 3:30 A. M.

RACKET STORE.

We have just received a fine line of Table Oil Cloths, Turkish Towels, Men's Work Shirts, Men's Overalls, Men's cotton Pants, Crash Toweling, Gent's Fine Hose, Gent's Silk Ties, A fine Line of Suspenders, and Children's Hhisery.

RIBBONS! RIBBONS! At Lower Prices than ever at the RACKET STORE. FRED HALLETT, Prop.

COAL! COAL! Buy your coal at the old stand that has been in operation summer and winter since 1873. The business is here to stay, and consequently depends on Square Dealing, AND Reasonable Charge. Canon, Anthracite and Blacksmithing Coal always on hand at all seasons of the year. E. E. SMITH, Prop.

PUBLICATION NOTICE. First publication, September 18, 1891. Christiana Schwind, M. I. Kile, administrator of the estate of Ira Kile, deceased, and M. I. Kile as widow, George Kile, Bertie N. Kile and Edith Kile, heirs of Ira Kile, deceased, will take notice that Mary E. Pratt as plaintiff did, on the 15th day of June, 1891, file her petition in the District Court, in and for Ford county, state of Kansas, against them as defendants setting forth that Christiana Schwind gave a mortgage to the said plaintiff, on the following described lands, situated in the county of Ford and state of Kansas, viz: The north east quarter of section eleven (11), township twenty-seven, (27), range twenty-two, (22), west of the sixth principal meridian, to secure the payment of the sum of $400.00, according to certain notes referred to in said mortgage, and praying judgment against said Christiana Schwind for the sum of $504.00, now claimed to be due and unpaid, with interest at 19 per cent. per annum, upon $414, from the first day of June, A. D. 1890, or that said premises may be sold to pay the same. Now said defendants, after the time of these are hereby notified that they must appear and answer said petition on or before the 24th day of October, 1891, or said petition will be taken as true against them and each of them; and a judgment for said amount, and a decree forever barring them of any right, title or interest in and to said lands, after the time thereof, will be rendered against them, and ordering said lands to be sold to satisfy any sum found to be due the plaintiff upon said notes and mortgage. W. J. PATTERSON, Attorney for Plaintiff. FRED. LAWRY, (SOLIC.) Clerk of the District Court.

CARTER'S LIVER PILLS. CURE SICK HEADACHE. This medicine will relieve the most distressing cases of biliousness, indigestion, headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, and all the ailments arising from a disordered liver. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and is perfectly safe for the most delicate constitutions. Price, 25 cents per bottle. Sold everywhere.

CARTER'S LIVER PILLS. CURE SICK HEADACHE. This medicine will relieve the most distressing cases of biliousness, indigestion, headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, and all the ailments arising from a disordered liver. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and is perfectly safe for the most delicate constitutions. Price, 25 cents per bottle. Sold everywhere.

S. JAY CRUMBINE M. D. DOES A GENERAL PRACTICE.

Catarhal Disease a Specialty. Office over Waring's Shoe Store. Residence, cor. First Ave. and Vine Street.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

The picnic is on October 7th. 4.97 inches of rain fell during the last week.

R. W. Thompson, of Liberal, is in the city. J. W. Sidlow was in the city Tuesday on business.

Mrs. John Kelsey has been seriously ill the past week. W. W. Munnell was in Ingalls last week on business.

The Kickapoo Medicine Company will be here next week. Fall plowing is under full headway since the recent rains.

Ed. Scott, of Plainfield, Kansas, is in the city for a few days. Grant Peitjohn was in Garden City last week on business.

Samuel Fellers, of Ingalls, had business in Dodge Tuesday. W. E. Apperson, of Bucklin, is in the city on a short visit.

J. M. Day, of Greensburg, was in the city on business Monday. E. E. Soule and family, of Spearville, spent Monday in the city.

The Republican Editorial Association met yesterday in Great Bend. A lot of second-hand novels for sale cheap. Inquire at this office.

Hand in your news items of every kind. We will be glad to publish them. M. N. Boardman of Fairview township was a caller at this office Monday.

Editor Bolton, of the Greensburg Sentinel, was in town Wednesday. E. G. Barton, of Cimarron, came down last Sunday and returned home Monday.

Lo. Warren has returned from a short sojourn in the eastern part of the state. The indications are that the political pot will begin to boil after the first of the month.

Mr. J. M. Vance, formerly of Oklahoma, is now acting as deputy register of deeds. Hon. M. A. Calhoun, of Garden City, will be here next Wednesday. Come and hear him.

We want a few more good correspondents from the country. Who will set in the matter? The rain commenced to pour down Wednesday night and continues up to going to press.

Clark Hawkins, of Great Bend, was in the city Monday attending to some business matters. W. S. Dunbar of La Junta, Colo., a brakeman on the Santa Fe, is in the city visiting friends.

J. E. Hopwood, operator on the C. R. I. & P. railroad at Denver, Colo., is visiting friends in the city. Some of the nimrods who went hunting for ducks yesterday returned home after getting a good ducking.

The war between Bros. Shinn and Pettillon still wages warm. Sell in, brothers, we have no objection. Rev. S. E. Buser will deliver another of his famous lectures on next Sunday evening. Subject: "Idolatry."

If present indications are any criterion to go by, there will be fully double as much wheat sown this fall as last. After reading the last issues of the Globe and Democrat we have concluded to put a padlock on our coal house.

Consider yourself a committee of one to invite and urge your neighbors to be present at the picnic on October 7th. Happy and content is a home with "The Rochester," a lamp with the light of the morning. For catalogue, write Rochester Lamp Co., New York.

60 head of high grade mares and horses for sale; or will trade for cattle. Inquire at Carson & Burgland's meat market. If the demand for houses still increases in the future as fast as it has in the past three months, building will certainly soon be on.

Sixty head of high grade mares and horses for sale; or will trade for cattle. Inquire at Carson & Burgland's meat market. The numerous People's Party speakers which have visited us during the past week brought with them an abundance of rain.

Sixty head of high grade mares and horses for sale; or will trade for cattle. Inquire at Carson & Burgland's meat market. See little Gracie Beebe, the child wonder, at Kelly's Opera House Monday and Tuesday night in her great skirt dance and songs.

It is claimed that the Beebe-Barbour Co. is one of the best on the road. Hear them on October 5th and 6th at Kelly's Opera House. Edwin Barbour, the great character comedian and play writer, in his own plays at the Opera House Monday and Tuesday nights.

Fred Martin, well known in this city, now located at Pueblo, Colo., is in the city, visiting old friends and acquaintances on business matters. Hon. Noah Allen of Wichita probably one of the most entertaining talkers in the state, will deliver an address at the picnic on October 7th.

The Beebe-Barbour Comedy Company will play at Kelly's Opera House Monday and Tuesday nights. A first-class company at popular prices. Numerous persons of note have been engaged to address the assemblage on October 7th. Be there, if you want a day's good entertainment.

Mr. Olin Hard, who has been taking a prominent part in the women's tournament at Pueblo, Colo., the past three weeks, returned home Saturday. Joe. H. Baker, agent of the Hutchinson News, was in the city Tuesday in the interest of that paper.

On the fourth page of this paper will be found a cartoon. Arrangements have been made for one each week during the campaign. Look at it.

We have been somewhat crowded with job work the past month, but are still able to turn out the best work at the most reasonable prices. Call and examine.

The show season is now upon us, and for the benefit of theater goers we will say that Mr. Pearce has some excellent shows booked for the coming winter.

Our real estate men report a good many inquiries about land from eastern parties. Another year of good crops and these inquiries will be followed by good, cash sales.

Frank Chapman has two hundred cows and calves for sale. This is a good opportunity for some of our farmers to surround themselves with a good herd of cattle.

We are glad to receive a communication this week from our old correspondent from the north part of the country. Parties interested in that section will find his an interesting communication.

For the State G. A. R. Reunion at Ellsworth, Kansas, October 6th. to 9th. $4.84 for the round trip. FRED GARDNER, Agt. Santa Fe Route.

The north irrigating canal is now full of water, the recent rains having started quite a volume of water down the old Arkansas river, from which the supply of water for the ditch is drawn.

Several members of the Masonic fraternity assisted the brethren at Ingalls in conferring the Third Degree on Wednesday evening of last week. A banquet was served in honor of the occasion.

Healey & Bigelow's Kickapoo Indian Medicine Company, which was to have been in this city the first of the week, was delayed in Garden City and will not be here until next Monday, October 5th.

Secure your tickets at once for the Beebe-Barbour entertainment Monday and Tuesday nights. They have played at Topeka, Atchinson, Leavenworth, Lawrence and Hutchinson to crowded houses.

A practical demonstration of budding peaches, grafting plums and apricots and raising same without expense will be given at the meeting of the Farmers' Alliance in Dodge City on next Saturday at 3 p. m.

H. N. Swan, candidate for clerk on the People's ticket, was in the city Monday, looking after his political interests. Mr. Swan is one of those pleasant, courteous gentlemen who win votes wherever they go.

The Gracie Beebe's Pullman palace car with her company of 18 people will arrive here Monday at 1:20 p. m. They are en route to the Pacific coast. They will be at the Opera House Monday and Tuesday nights.

For the St. Louis Fair to be held at St. Louis, Mo., October 5th. to 10th. Tickets on sale October 3rd, to 9th. $16.35 for the round trip. FRED GARDNER, Agt. Santa Fe Route.

The second annual ball of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will be given some time next month. When the pleasant memories of the grand time had one year ago at their ball they will look toward this one as the coming event.

A freight train on the Santa Fe, some four miles west of this city, was wrecked on last Monday evening. The track was torn up for quite a distance and other slight damages resulted. Fortunately no one was injured.

Next Wednesday, remember, is the grand People's Party picnic in Collins' Grove. Be up early, get in town early and be at the grove early then you will avoid the great rush which will occur later in the day.

Mr. Jackson has purchased the white building located about two blocks north of this office and the one just east of Morris Collins and will move them to the east part of town and fit up a beautiful residence therefor.

The Hutchinson Clipper of Saturday says that the largest number of people ever assembled in the Opera House greeted the Beebe-Barbour Company there Friday night. They will be at Kelly's Opera House Monday and Tuesday night. Go see them!

J. S. Galvrad, advance agent of the Beebe-Barbour Comedy Company, was in the city over Sunday, making arrangements for the appearance of that company in this city, which will occur on Monday and Tuesday evenings, October 5th and 6th.

Numerous persons who left this country one and two years ago in search of a better place are now returning to old Ford county, well convinced that there are other places than western Kansas where they have crop failures. Come on, there is room for all.

Hon. M. A. Calhoun, candidate for Judge of this judicial district, will speak at the picnic on October 7th. Mr. Calhoun is an eloquent speaker and those who do not hear him on this occasion will miss a rare treat, as well as the opportunity of listening to the next judge of the 27th district.

We want to see every man in the People's party ranks throw off his coat and go to work. We have only one month in which to do work. The picnic on October 7th will be the first gun of the campaign, and from that time on we hope to see hard, earnest work for the entire ticket.

C. S. Ogiver of Bucklin, our candidate for register of deeds, has been in the city the past week, getting acquainted with the Dodge people. Mr. Ogiver will poll a large vote in the east end of the county—large enough, at any rate, to overcome what little opposition there will be to him elsewhere.

Monday night, "Shadows of Old Orchard Farm" will be presented by the Beebe-Barbour Company. Tuesday night, "A Legal Document" will be presented as played in Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.

Phew! Who would have thought we had two such racials as Bro. Shinn and Pettillon in our midst? But, then, there is no telling what a newspaper fight will bring to light. We are anxiously awaiting the next chapter in the history of two lives which seem to have been rather crookedly spent.

The dance given at the residence of Monday evening by the members of the Military Band, was a complete success, socially and financially. After all expenses were paid there remained a surplus of over $25. The boys expect to give another dance in the near future. May it be even more successful than this one.

On last evening at the rink, T. W. Gilruth, president of the National Citizens' Industrial Alliance, delivered a very able address on the economic questions of the day. The meeting was very well attended by the voters of the city and vicinity. Mr. Gilruth is a very able man and we think the seed sown by him will have a very good effect in the coming election.

Mr. C. Seyers of Esauva was in the city Monday, and informed us that he had just finished threshing his wheat which turned out a little over 3,000 bushels. Mr. Seyers, during a residence of six years in western Kansas, has never lost his faith in this country, although, like many others, he has met with some failures and we are glad to be able to note this evidence of his faith being well placed.

Good work has already been done in the interest of the third party. But as the time is now drawing near when a showing must be made, we hope to see every man in the ranks throw off his coat and go to work in earnest and go to work to win. We already have both the old parties on the run, and now that we have them there, let us not only keep them running, but throw such energy and work into the campaign as will cause them to increase the pace.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor meets every Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, at the Presbyterian church. Interesting exercises at each meeting. The friends of this society are anxious to increase the membership, and a cordial invitation is extended to all the young people, as well as the older ones, who feel an interest in the grand cause, to come to these meetings. Subject for Sunday, October 4th: "The Master is Come, and Callest for Thee."

A vacant dwelling in the extreme northern part of the city caught fire and was burned to the ground on last Tuesday evening. A couple of horse carts were taken to the scene of the fire, but were unable to do anything, there being no water plugs near enough to be available. It was started by a couple of small boys who were playing with matches. Conflagrations from this cause have been quite numerous lately, and it is advisable that all parents forbid their children carrying matches for any pretext whatever.

Do you farmers who live near and trade in the smaller towns surrounding Dodge City, know that eggs have rarely sold for less than 15 cents, and are even now worth 30 cents per dozen in our market—that butter is now worth 20 cents per pound, and the market not nearly so good as that you can get more groceries, dry goods, drugs, hardware etc. for these same eggs than you can in any market within your reach? Here is the place to trade, and certainly here is the place to sell your produce.

Mrs. Ida Beadle will continue the display of millinery goods at the Fair to-day and Saturday. She certainly has a fine line of hats, bonnets, ribbons, laces etc., and the most fastidious trade can not fail to find something in the elegant display that will please. The opening is continued two days over the set time on account of the weather making it impossible for ladies from the country and even in town to be present and see the goods. Come in to-morrow and look over the store. The latest styles and most approved patterns are exhibited for your criticism.

In another column in this issue will be found the advertisement of P. S. Thome. Mr. Thome will, in the future sell groceries for spot cash. If you will read his prices carefully you will see that he is selling groceries at bed rock.

Our people here for some time past have been paying more for groceries than the same goods are sold for in Bucklin, Spearville, Ford and other places and this has been the means of losing Dodge City a considerable country trade. It has also induced several parties to send east for their groceries. We are glad to say that you can purchase groceries just as cheap in Dodge City as anywhere.

There is another fact that must be taken into consideration by the people from the country who trade here and that is: that the prices paid by our merchants for all kinds of produce, butter, eggs, etc., are always from 30 to 80 per cent. higher than surrounding towns pay, and now that groceries are sold at the lowest figures, we predict that this trade which has been allowed to drift from us will return and will save others which have never traded in Dodge before to do so.

DESIRABLE FOR LADIES—The new Fashion Journals published by A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York, are again on our table. The superiority of these journals is abundantly shown on every page. "La Mode" is the smallest of the three, and is intended for family use. It has many styles for children, and is only $1.50 per year, or 15 cents per copy. "La Mode de Paris" is an elegant journal, filled with everything of the latest style in Paris. This is a great favorite with ladies who wish to keep posted in the new styles as they come out. "Album des Modes" is also a popular Parisian publication, many ladies giving it the preference. It is replete with such styles as are patronized by the middle classes, its designs being neat and plain, yet all of the richest character. These three monthly journals claim to give the earliest fashions, and they are all printed in Paris. They contain lessons in practical dressmaking, which are of inestimable value and easy to understand. "La Mode de Paris" and the "Album des Modes" are each $2.50 per annum, or 25 cents for a single copy. Samples can be obtained from the houses at single copy prices if there is any difficulty in obtaining them from newshalds.

Brother Shinn As An Exhorter.

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-

Under the caption of "To Farmers in the People's Party," Brother Shinn enters the pulpit and delivers some hortatory remarks. There was no evidence that mourners were at the bench, nor that anybody by him addressed was soliciting such an exhortation. On the contrary, they were going about with happy hearts and clear consciences, having "accepted the true faith" gladly. Why then doth he preach? Because in the "brotcher of the political church where the 'bracer holds forth, converts are a sadly new'ed. In fact, there must be a revival or the church doors will have to be permanently closed. So he lifts his hands and cries out, as if he sought there- hands and cries out, as if he sought there-