

MUTT & JEFF—Ha! Ha! Mutt's Disguise Was Openwork.—

Drawn for the Topeka State Journal Copyright, 1915, by H. C. Fisher Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By BUD FISHER

FOR SALE Hudson Seal Coats... Baby Caracul & Mole Coats... Whole Skin Animal Scarfs... List of various coats and their prices.

Up to the Minute SPORTING NEWS From Everywhere. BY "CLUG"

HUSKERS ROMPED

K. U. Made Weak Showing Against Stiehm's Giants. Chamberlain and Rutherford Were Team in Themselves.

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 15.—As a result of the 33 to 0 defeat administered to the K. U. Jayhawkers here Saturday afternoon by the great Nebraska Cornhuskers, Kansas again must wait patiently another year for a chance to claim the highest gridiron honor of the Missouri Valley and the K. U. coaches and players now realize that they must work doubly hard if they are to avoid the humiliation of a second defeat at the hands of the Missouri Tigers when they meet them at Columbia on Thanksgiving day.

Saturday's game was everything that the Nebraska followers had hoped it would be and the Jayhawkers proved a greater disappointment than any one had expected. During the first quarter of the battle, the Kansas played creditable football and their defense was strong enough to hold the Stiehm steam roller. But in the early part of the second period, the Nebraska opened up with their forward pass plays, and after one pass had enabled the phenomenal Chamberlain to score the first touchdown, it was so easy for the Huskers that they had to put on wrestling matches between quarters to give an outlet to their surplus energy. After the first period, it was merely a question of how big a score Captain Rutherford's team wanted to make, and how much they wanted to exert themselves.

Like Ichabod Game. In many respects the game was a replica of the K. U.—Washburn game of a week before. Like Washburn, the Kansas went into the game nervous and lacking confidence, and like the Ichabods, individual players showed real football ability, but the team played ragged and inconsistent football. Kansas was compelled to take to defensive football on the first play, when Nielsen, taking the pickoff behind his goal tried to run the ball out instead of grounding it for a touchdown. He was downed inside of his 5-yard line and Lindsey was forced to kick from behind his goal line.

A forward pass of twenty yards brought the first touchdown. Thirty-eight yards from the Crimson and Blue line, Caley shot the oval to Chamberlain, who picked the ball out of the atmosphere and dashed across the last chalk line. Corey added the event point.

Shortly after the next kickoff, Caley was injured and Cook went to quarter for the Lincoln team. When the Huskers started on their way, Cook seemed to carry into the game the pep that had been lacking and the Cornhuskers produced their vaunted punch and went to it.

Second Touchdown. The Huskers started on their way to a second score from the Kansas 37-yard line. Rutherford, Chamberlain, Cook and Reese being potent factors in the routing of the touchdown. Corey added the fourteenth point and the score stood 14-0 when the first half was curtailed.

Soon after the third quarter started Chamberlain swung around the Kansas left end for a 44-yard sprint and the third touchdown. The Huskers were romping right. Dick Rutherford, whose greatest worth is the paving of the way, the pioneering for his team mate with the ball, was "spiking" his man, sometimes two of them, while the racing Chamberlain sped on across the white lines. Corey sprinted there with the event point this time and the count was 20 to 0.

The Kansas came back after this counter and fought desperately for five minutes, forcing Nebraska to kick. Cook fumbled a punt shortly afterwards, and Kansas retrieved on Nebraska's 30-yard line. Lindsey flipped a forward pass seventeen yards. A Jayhawk and a Cornhusker leaped together for the ball, each touched the other, which hurtled on and into the arms of Holt, who was downed in his tracks. The ball was in possession of Kansas on the Nebraska 18-yard line, the neutral zone. James' men got in the Red and White goal in all the afternoon.

Up rose the stands and pleaded for a K. U. touchdown. A Nebraska fan Jayhawkers tried, but Capt. Richard Rutherford's team was keeping a mighty close watch on its own goal line. Lindsey took the series route but the ball fell to the ground on each attempt. A plunge off tackle gained little and then Lindsey flipped the ball forward again. A Nebraska fan latted it out of bounds and it went to Nebraska from the scrimmage point. The K. U. punch had failed in the pinch. The Nebraska defense had r...

ZEHRUNG CHOSEN Lincoln Man Elected New Head of Western League.

"Tip" O'Neill Tendered His Resignation at Frisco.

San Francisco, Cal. Nov. 15.—The presidency dispute of the Western league has been settled by the election of Frank Zehring, former mayor of Lincoln, Neb., to the office, and Frexy Tip O'Neill is no more. The formal election of Zehring was consummated Saturday night, following which O'Neill tendered his resignation.

Frank Zehring of Lincoln, Neb., chosen president of the Western league at San Francisco. Mr. Zehring is business partner of L. M. Crawford of Topeka, Kan.

The election of Zehring and the resignation of O'Neill ends one of the most bitter fights ever waged since the organization of the Western league, immediately following the close of the last season, a majority of the club owners of the league met at Omaha and decided to oust O'Neill. O'Neill Wouldn't Quit.

President Hanlon, of the Sioux City club, was chosen president pro tem, and Tip was asked to resign. This he refused to do, announcing that he would hold on to the job until the league paid him for his services for 1916, which he asserted was guaranteed by a contract.

Matters dragged along for several months with Jack Holland, of the St. Joe club, and Frank Isbell, of Des Moines, supporting O'Neill in his fight and the other club owners determined to oust him at once.

Then, when the club owners came to San Francisco to attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, both O'Neill and the opposition came here to make their last stand. Early last week it was predicted that a compromise might be effected and that O'Neill might be retained, but the last hope of the Chicago man went glimmering when W. A. Bourke, of Omaha, was recognized by the association as the official representative of the Western league.

Frank Zehring, former Lincoln, Neb., mayor, and a partner of L. M. Crawford of Topeka, Kan., in a string of theatrical enterprises, was chosen by the majority of club owners as the most logical man to head the circuit and the announcement that he had been officially elected was no surprise to baseball men.

President Zehring is said to be one of the most popular men in the middle west, and a business man of unusual ability. Even in St. Joe, where Jack Holland opposed him, it is said that the baseball followers are strong for Zehring.

SPORT WHEEZES Being Paroled Dog Meat, France Pies, Lemon Sandwiches, Etc. (By Clug.)

Well, any way, Kansas didn't lose by 35 to 0 this year.

But if the reduction is to be only 2 points a year the Huskers will have 16 more years to hold the title.

"Nebraska is just too good to be in the Missouri Valley conference," a K. U. crepe wearer remarked Saturday night. Maybe the Huskers are too strong on the preparedness stuff.

All that remains of the Missouri Valley race now is the Missouri-K. U. game. No title will be involved, but the old feudal spirit will make the scrap an interesting one.

And from the showing the Tigers made against the erratic Drake team, Gilcott's Jayhawkers will have to hump themselves to win.

The Yale Bulldog vindicated himself of the charge of being a toothless animal Saturday when Eli won from Princeton by the score of 7 to 0.

In the vindication one Otis Guernsey, fullback, played an important part by kicking two field goals in the second period of the game. One of them, which was for a distance of 54 yards, was one of the longest field goals ever made in a big game, and placed Guernsey in the limelight as a leading booter of the age.

Predictions are now being made that Yale will trim Harvard. Last Monday a prediction of this sort would have produced only jeers. But football dopsters are all quick change artists.

Aside from the Yale surprise, Saturday's eastern games ended as they should. Cornell won, Harvard Sub defeated Brown 15 to 7, and Michigan and Pennsylvania, both rotten teams, played a 0 to 0 tie.

In the "Big Nine" Illinois won from Wisconsin 17 to 3, and Minnesota defeated Chicago 20 to 7. The Oklahoma Sooners had little trouble in disposing of the Arkansas Razorbacks at Fayetteville.

The big game this week will be the Yale-Harvard clash at Cambridge Saturday. Of course, the game of most local interest will be between Washburn and C. of E. at Emporia Thursday. The Aggies' clash with the Oklahoma Sooners at Manhattan.

If the Ichabods show the same form against the Emporians that they displayed against the Aggies they should win. But indications are that it will be a close game with the teams evenly matched.

The old season is rapidly drawing to a close. Washburn winds up her regular schedule this week. K. U. has only the Missouri game left, and the Nebraska will end their activities against Iowa.

After this week the only games of more than sectional interest that will be left will be the Missouri-Kansas, the Army-Navy and the Cornell-Pennsylvania clashes. There is little indication that Nebraska will play a post-season game with Oklahoma or any other team.

Reports from Missouri are to the effect that the Tigers, as usual, confidently expect to defeat Kansas again this year. In no other game on their schedule do the Tigers fight so much like fiends as they do against the Jayhawkers, and with the battle on their home ground they feel like they will enter the contest with better chances than last year when they upset all dope and won.

However, it has been definitely announced that Fullback Woody will not be able to play in the game. Hamilton, the new Missouri center, who is said to be a real football find, will play against K. U., and Lansing will be switched to the backfield. Preparations are being made at Columbia to accommodate a 12,000 crowd at the game.

The Kansas Aggies have another alibi for not making a bigger score against Washburn last week. It was DISCOVERED THAT AN OKLAHOMA SCOUT WAS WATCHING THE GAME, AND TO KEEP HIM FROM GRABBING SOME OF THEIR "REAL FOOTBALL" THEY KEPT IT UNDER COVER, IT IS SAID.

SATURDAY FOOTBALL RESULTS. Nebraska 33, K. U. 0. Pittsburg Normal 7, Friends 0. Notre Dame 42, Creighton 0. Missouri 19, Drake 13. Harvard 16, Brown 7. Yale 13, Princeton 7. Oklahoma 23, Arkansas 0. Illinois 17, Wisconsin 3. Minnesota 20, Chicago 7. Michigan 0, Pennsylvania 0. Cornell 40, W. and L. 21. Ames 16, Iowa 0. Syracuse 38, Colgate 0. Navy 28, Colby 14. Army 34, Maine 0. Tufts 35, Bowdoin 0. Franklin 13, Louisville 7. Case 0, Wooster 0. W. and J. 7, Wesleyan 3. Ohio State 25, Oberlin 0. Indiana 13, Northwestern 6. Vanderbilt 17, Auburn 0. Virginia 13, North Carolina 0. Chattanooga 0, Sewanee 0. Pittsburg 28, Carnegie Tech. 0. Kentucky State 7, Purdue 0. Carleton 20, Dickinson 11. Miami 14, Ohio 6. Washington 13, St. Louis 7. Baylor 12, Oklahoma A. and M. 6. Texas 20, Alabama 0. Villa Nova 19, Swarthmore 0. F. and M. 20, Ursinus 3. West Virginia 19, Virginia Poly 0. Catholic U. Mahleberg 0. Stevens 28, Benesaeher 0. Fordham 7, Rhode Island State 0. Wesleyan 34, New York U. 0. Boston Trinity game cancelled. Ohio State 25, Oberlin 0. Oberlin 12, Rochester University 0. Colo. Aggies 24, Colo. College 23. Denison 56, Akron 0. University 6. Illinois College 32, Lincoln College 7. Wesleyan 21, Milliken 0. Miss. College 74, Miss. University 7. Depauw 34, Rose Poly 6. Washburn 35, Earlham 0. Montana State 7, Utah Aggies 0.

High School Games. Hoyt 19, Tromp Stars 6. Hutchinson 7, Pratt 0. Perry 22, Winchester 0.

Colgate Suffers First Defeat. Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Syracuse overwhelmed Colgate Saturday afternoon, 33 to 0. It was the first time the Hamilton team lost this season. Among their victims were Yale and West Point. Syracuse gained 413 yards in rushing the ball as against 70 for the Marston, Wilkinson, the Orange left halfback, smashed through the Hamiltonians' line thirty-six times out of thirty-seven attempts for a total gain of 155 yards.

Injury Is Fatal to Player. Charleston, Ill., Nov. 15.—Paul Root, 18 years old, fullback of the Eastern Illinois Normal school football team, died Sunday in a hospital here of injuries he received in Saturday's game with the Normal university of Bloomington, Ill. He suffered a fracture at the base of the skull.

De Lacy, Pool Room King, Dead. New York, Nov. 15.—Peter De Lacy, prominent for a generation in sporting circles and known in the days of unrestricted race betting as the pool room king, died in a local hospital here at the age of 71 years from pneumonia, which "developed after an operation."

FAY MAY REVEAL PLOT Bomb Man in Ship Conspiracy Would Turn State's Evidence.

New York, Nov. 15.—Robert Fay, who, with four others, is held on a charge of attempting to blow up munition ships, had a long talk in the Tomb, today, with William J. Flynn, chief of the United States secret service, and John C. Knox, special assistant United States attorney. As a result it was said he had offered to turn state's evidence.

Fay's reported offer to aid the government followed the return here today from Washington of Chief Flynn and Snowden Marshall, United States district attorney.

The latter is to have a talk with Fay today, and on its outcome is said to depend whether the government will accept Fay's reported offer to turn state's evidence.

Illinois Editor Dead. Rockford, Ill., Nov. 15.—J. Stanley Browne, managing editor of the Morning Star, is dead at his home here. He has been prominent politically for a number of years. He was 65 years old.

STAR CHEWING TOBACCO LEADING BRAND OF THE WORLD. "STAR helps a fellow keep his balance on these cloud-scratching jobs." THE chewing man keeps his balance on any job. For plugging, plodding, day-in-and-day-out "make-good"—the rule says: "STAR—to keep your nerves steady, your mind on your work, and contentment with your job." The thick STAR plug is tight-pressed with more prime full-juiced tobacco than ordinary plugs. Better flavor and better tobacco, too. And STAR can't dry out like a thin plug. STAR is not only made clean, but is sold clean, fresh and full weight. Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO 125,000,000 ten-cent STAR cuts are sold every year. That is a pretty good proof that STAR just about "fills the bill" with many, many thousands of America's chewers and "doers." Try STAR yourself, to satisfy yourself. 16 oz. Plugs 10c Cuts Lippitt & Myers Tobacco Co. STAR was awarded the Grand Prize at the San Francisco Exposition, and is the only chewing tobacco that has ever received this highest possible award.

Why Take an Old Style Machine When You Can Get the EDISON DIAMOND DISC PHONOGRAPH. 821 Kan. Ave. Exclusive Distributors.