WHY BLAINE AND LOGAN SHOULD BE ELECTED—THE PARTY THAT HAS MADE THE COUNTRY.

For 60 years; from 1801 to 1861, the United States was governed by the slave oligarchy, aided by their servile minions, the Democrats of the North. From 1861 until now the country has been governed by the progressive, pushing Republican party. In those 23 years the United States has enjoyed its greatest period of prosperity and has made its most marked advances, despite four years of terrific war.

In those 23 years the railroad system of the country has been developed till the land is covered with a network of iron. Our manufactures have quadrupled, our cities have grown miraculously, values have quadrupled, agriculture has become a remunerative employment, and the country has become rich and powerful.

Are we ready to hand the destinies of the Nation over into the hands of the same old party, which has forgotten nothing and learned nothing, to change the assurance of prosperity and progress for the uncertainty of party without one progressive idea, without one well defined line of action, and without even an agreed-upon, well-defined line of policy?

The Republican party is pledged to crush out the crime of polygamy among the Mormons of Utah, by all the resources of the civil power, and by military force if that proves inadequate. The Democratic Congressmen, as a rule, defend the Mormon iniquity on the specious plea that the effort to crush polygamy is a blow to freedom of religion.

The foreign policy of Mr. Blaine is to extend the influence of the United States not by war, but by fostering an export trade, and finding a wider market for our productions and manufactures, especially in the other countries of the American continent. Our influence will be extended by the acts of peace—by that spread of education and enlarged ideas which must follow a close commercial intercourse of those countries with our own.

The business interests of the country demand the election of Mr. Blaine, and the continuation of the well-defined policy of protection to American industry by means of the tariff to which the Republican party is committed.

The financial statement of the Treasury for the past fiscal year, which closed on June 30, shows that the revenues were decreased $50,120,848, as compared with the previous year. Of this amount, the customs decrease was $19,079,205; from internal revenue $22,715,870; from miscellaneous sources, $8,893,772.

Some time back the Legislature of Ohio, in response to the demand of the people of that State, passed a high license enactment, which was known as the Scott law from the name of its proposer. The liquor dealers to get rid of it applied to the courts, but the latter have just returned an evasive decision which practically keeps the law in force.

duction, but that the volume of imports was so much greater than was anticipated at the time the Tariff revision was made by the last Congress. Caution must be the rule. There must be enough money raised to pay the expenses of the Government, the interest of the public debt, and to provide for the redemption of the bonds that will mature.

The Democratic party has in its ranks a band of free trade fanatics, whose wild mouthings are of incalculable danger to the business of the country. The Democracy is without fixed principles in the matter of the tariff. Its members profess every shade of doctrine, from "a tariff for revenue," to free trade.

Hard and his confreres have been threatening this country since the beginning of the session of Congress with a long stridle in the direction of free trade. Nothing has been done by the House in that direction, it is true; but these threats have had a powerful influence upon business.

The possibility that this country was to have poured upon it the unmarketable productions of Great Britain, which has had not over three years of real prosperity since 1866, has led every one to prepare for the threatened storm, if possible.

THE SCOTT LAW.

Some time back the Legislature of Ohio, in response to the demand of the people of that State, passed a high license enactment, which was known as the Scott law from the name of its proposer. The liquor dealers to get rid of it applied to the courts, but the latter have just returned an evasive decision which practically keeps the law in force.

creates, while there are no figures that an idea of the misery and the heart-break which result from the liquor traffic. The prohibition sentiment is growing in every part of the country, and every man and woman who think of the future of their children should unite to discountenance in every way, moral and legal, the sale and use of every kind of intoxicating drink.

Pres. Arthur made a strong point in his message vetoing the Fitz John Porter bill when he said that when a lawfully constituted court martial has duly declared its findings and its sentence, and the same has been duly approved, neither the President nor the Congress has any power to set them aside.

Kansas is a slice from the juiciest side of the earth. A few years ago it was a wilderness. Today it is the garden of the world, redolent with the fragrance of the orchard and the vintage, teeming with the homes of thrifty people, pulsing with the vim and vigor of progress, and mellow with the bloom of an almost perennial harvest.

The present year is a prosperous one for this country and henceforth our development will be more rapid and more substantial than ever before. Those who have remained here year after year are reaping their reward. There is a feeling of confidence in the country. Lands are rapidly increasing in value.

Hundreds of agriculturists are buying farm machinery this summer, which if properly cared for ought to last at least ten years. Most of it will be worthless in half that time simply because the owner failed to realize the full meaning of the adage that "a penny saved is as good as a penny earned."

It is not the amount a man obtains that makes him rich, it is the amount he saves. A machine that is taken apart and properly cared for when not in use will do good work years and years after its counterpart has been thrown away by the man who had the habit of leaving it unprotected.

The Irish World, a very influential paper, gives notice to the Chicago convention that if either Cleveland or Bayard is the nominee there will be such a stampede to Blaine as has never been witnessed in a political campaign.

World prefers Gen. Butler, because it believes he would give the country a vigorous foreign policy. If it cannot get him it plainly intimates that it will support Blaine, and it will influence a vast number of Irish-American votes throughout the country.—[K. C. Journal.

James G. Blaine is the architect of his own fortunes. He began life as a country school-teacher in Kentucky, and was afterwards editor of a weekly newspaper in Maine. He belongs to the people, the working people, and has always sympathized with their ideas and aspirations.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.

How the Result is Received in New York.

The Protests. John Boyle O'Reilly, the well-known Irish poet and patriot, sent the following dispatch to Chicago, in the 8th inst.: "Boston, Mass., July 8.—Col. A. A. Haggard, Dislike of Cleveland is intense and general. His nomination will be Democratic suicide. It will merely change a million votes for Blaine. Butler can take as many votes from Blaine as Blaine from Cleveland.

Among other dispatches, the following were also received: "BOARD OF TRADE OFFICE, NEW YORK, July 8.—John Kelly: A meeting of over 600 Democrats of the Nineteenth Ward of Brooklyn was held last night and denounced Gov. Cleveland and the action of the Kings county delegates for supporting him, and declared that they would under no circumstances support Cleveland at the ballot-box, and that the delegation were not the representatives of the people, and had gone to Chicago through false devices and connivance to stultify the voices of the people.

NEW YORK, June 8.—To Francis D. Moulton, care of the Hon. B. F. Butler: Kelly is right. Neither he nor any one else can carry New York labor vote for Cleveland. Democrats lose if the State falls them. They lose State unless city gives them large vote. Only Butler can give them that. Cleveland's five-cent fare, laborer's lien, and twelve-hour vetoes, and his Commissioner-of-Labor-Statistics appointment, will slaughter him here. He polled 15,000 less than Garfield. His only additional strength would be man-miliner Republicans, and they are scarce here.

HORNELLSTVILLE, N. Y., July 8.—To John Kelly: Do not fail to do your utmost for nomination of Gen. B. F. Butler. Unless you do, we as a body of at least 500 Butler Democrats will go solid for Blaine.

WEST TROY, N. Y., July 7.—To John Kelly: We, the undersigned, a committee selected from 1,200 loyal Democrats, Fourth Assembly District, Albany county, earnestly protest against the nomination of Gov. Cleveland for president or Vice, and request this read in open convention.

NEW YORK July 8.—To Benjamin E. Butler, Palmer House: Hugh McLaughlin, the leading Democrat in Brooklyn, says, in Saturday's Commercial Advertiser: "From information received, and it is likely to be correct, Cleveland would be the weakest man that could be nominated. The workmen of the Democratic voters in Brooklyn, seem to be opposed to Cleveland. Blaine could beat Cleveland by a large vote in Kings county."

NEW YORK, July 8.—To John Kelly: The Trade and Labor Union and Anti-Monopoly League of this State will oppose Cleveland. JOSEPH E. KEYS, President of the Sixth Congressional District Association.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Under no circumstances nominate Cleveland. The rank and file of the party will vote against him, no matter what the leaders may say. JOHN D. CROSBY, Member of County Democracy.
