THE ADVENTISTS.

What They Believe in Regard to the Present European Troubles.

MANY BOLD LAND SWINDLES

Chicago's Police Force to Be Trained So as to Develop Their Muscles—The Salt Combine Raise Their Prices on the Commodity.

Elwood, Ind., Nov. 20.—In an interview concerning the Adventist belief regarding the present Turkish troubles in relation to prophecy, Elder W. H. Ebert, of Frankton, Ind., one of the leading exponents of that belief, said: "We Seventh Day Adventists believe the present Turkish crisis foreshadows the end of the world, the destruction of its kingdoms and the second coming of Jesus Christ. We base our belief upon the fulfillment of prophecy and see in the present movement of nations the gathering together of the nations to fight the last great battle of the centuries—the battle of Armageddon. The Ottoman power, or Mohammedan power, is the one meant in the ninth chapter of Revelations, which was to be given power to torment men five months, or 150 years in prophetic time, when it was to gain supremacy and be given power to kill men 301 years and fifteen days. The Ottoman power fulfills all these conditions for it was founded by Othman July 27, 1299, and for 153 years tormented men when it became supreme until August 11, 1840. The nations are now moving towards that battlefield, and all their terrible implements of modern warfare will be there when the seventh vial is poured, when the battle of Armageddon, which is described in symbols in Revelations xvi, 17-21, will result. The United States will probably not be represented in this battle, but will be among the remnant left to be destroyed afterward. When this battle occurs, as it shortly must, its climax will be the second coming of Christ. The end of all things is even now at the door, and the nations cannot long struggle the Turkish complications, as the unrest of nations is urging them on to bring about these things, for fear of which nations are trembling. The time is near, watch."

Many Bold Land Swindles.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 20.—F. R. Robinson, an attorney of this place, has just succeeded in unearthing the operations of a Des Moines concern which for some time has been engaged on a large scale in the manufacture and sale of bogus deeds and mortgages. The company usually selected a piece of land in some remote district, generally in a swampy or heavily timbered country, the exact location of which could not be proved except at great expense, prepared a deed covering it and exchanged the deed for encumbered land which the owner was about to lose and for which he was glad to get whatever the company was willing to give him. The concern then paid off the encumbrance on the property so secured and sold it at a profit. The locations usually selected for the spurious deeds were Christian county, Mo., Washington county, Ga., and Wyoming county, W. Va. The deeds had every appearance of being regular and were accompanied by abstracts of title purporting to cover the entire period from the time of the grant by the government to the day of the transfer by the company.

Athletes for Chicago Policemen.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Chicago's policemen are to be trained athletes, and, if the plans of Dr. Joseph Hawley, medical director of the civil service commission, are successful, they will soon be able to compete physically with the trained "bobbies" of Scotland yard. Dr. Hawley has secured the consent of both Mayor Swift and Chief Badenoch of the police department to the introduction of a system of athletics and drills in the department extensive in its scope and calculated to make active, athletic, brawny men out of the officers. The system is to be introduced in the next ten days in every police station in Chicago, and within two weeks there will be a well equipped gymnasium provided for the exercise of the men.

Salt Prices Cornered.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—A local paper says: "The leading packers in the stock yards, as well as the lesser ones, are worried by the salt combine, which has raised prices until now it seems the effect of the salt trust's squeeze will cost the packers a matter of $200,000 or $300,000 a year. Rock salt has advanced in price nearly 100 per cent. The packers dispatched trusted men to find out whether salt could be bought elsewhere. Their agents have returned and reported that the combine seems to have secured everything. Packers instead of paying $2.75 a ton, are now paying $4.75 a ton for their rock salt."

AN OUTLAW KILLED.

Frank Huffman, a Missouri desperado, shot by Hickory County's Sheriff, Springfield, Mo., Nov. 20.—Frank Huffman, the notorious outlaw, who had long defied the authorities, was killed last night by Sheriff James K. Moore, of Hickory county, 50 miles northwest of here. Huffman was the leader of the Otterville train robbery on the Missouri Pacific railway and broke jail in Howard county eight months ago, since which time he had been hiding in the hills of Hickory and Cedar counties.

For the Murder of a Farmer.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 20.—Gov. Morrill has made a requisition upon the governor of Iowa for Bill Heddy, wanted in Norton county upon the charge of being the murderer of Albert Applegate, an old and respected citizen of that county, whose body was found in his cornfield November 8, where he had been shot to death. Circumstances pointed to Heddy as the murderer and he was arrested at Mount Airy, Ia.

SECRETARY CARLISLE'S ADDRESS.

The Financial Issue Discussed Before the New York Chamber of Commerce. New York, Nov. 20.—The 127th annual banquet of the chamber of commerce of the state of New York was held at Delmonico's last evening. The yearly dinner of this organization is among the most important events of the metropolis. Utterances that have moved the policy of the government have been made on these occasions. It was somewhat after 9 o'clock when President Orr, in a brief speech, introduced Secretary Carlisle, who spoke on "Our Currency System."

I have but little to say this evening, and will take but little time to say it. Two years ago, at your annual banquet, I said that the disposition and ability of the government to maintain its own credit at the highest standard, and to preserve the integrity of all forms of currency in circulation among the people, could not be reasonably doubted and ought not to be the subject of further controversy. But the task is both difficult and expensive. Since that declaration was made here, interest-bearing bonds to the amount of $162,310,000 have been issued to procure gold for the redemption of the United States notes. The fundamental vice in our currency system is the legal tender note redeemable in coin by the government and reissuable under the law. There are other defects, but this threatens the stability of the whole volume of our currency. So long as these notes are outstanding the slightest diminution of the coin reserve at once creates a feeling of apprehension and distrust, affects the values of all securities, curtails investments and more or less seriously embarrasses all the business affairs of the people. In attempting to provide a circulating medium consisting of its own notes redeemable in coin on presentation and reissuable after redemption, the government of the United States is engaged in a business for which it is wholly unprepared and which was never for a moment contemplated by its founders.

No changes made in our currency system will afford relief unless it provides for the retirement of the legal tenders. The circulation of legal tenders has a tendency to drive out of use and out of the country the very coin in which the government is compelled to redeem them and it has expelled millions of dollars from our borders. Although the government and our own people are compelled to receive them, they will not discharge international obligations, and gold must be got to settle all final balances against us. No other government in the world is required to supply gold from its treasury to discharge the private obligations of its citizens.

The theory is that the government can create money by placing its stamp upon paper or other material that a legislative enactment can make 50 cents equal in value to 100 cents, that artificially inflated prices paid in a depreciated currency are better for the people than natural prices paid in a sound currency and various other vagaries now flowing like bubbles in the political atmosphere are all attributable to the long continued use of legal tender paper. The proposition that a promise of the government to pay money is money, is just as absurd as the proposition that a promise to deliver a horse is a horse, and yet there are eminent men high in public councils who believe that the United States promissory note is actual money, and that the statute which compels all the people to receive it is actual money, is constitutional and ought to be continued in force. The agitation for the free coinage of legal tender silver is predicated upon the same vicious principle that underlies the legislation making paper promises a legal tender, but there is a practical difference between the two systems. The United States note was a forced loan from the people to the government, which the government promised to repay in dollars, but the free coinage of legal tender silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 would be a forced loan from the people to the owners of silver mines and silver bullion without a promise of repayment to anybody.

Much of our financial trouble has been caused by doubt and speculation here and abroad, concerning the views and purposes of our people at large and the policies of the political parties to which they are attached. This is a government by parties, and investors watch with the greatest interest and solicitude every manifestation of popular opinion, especially changes to be made in the chief executive office. It is of vast importance that these doubts and speculations should be set at rest in order that we may certainly know what is to be our permanent monetary policy. Vague and indefinite declarations by the great political organizations of the country not only increase doubt and distrust abroad, but encourage harmful agitation at home, and I hold, therefore, that it is the duty of all who are or may become in any degree responsible for the welfare of the country to insist that there shall be no further equivocation or evasion in our treatment of this great subject. Let us have no more ambiguous phrases, no more inconsistent and irreconcilable clauses in party platforms or in public utterances, but let us make our meaning so clear and our purposes so plain that they can be neither misunderstood nor successfully misrepresented. If a majority of the people of the United States are in favor of the maintenance of the present standard of value, they ought to have an opportunity to say so. On the other hand, if a majority of our people are in favor of abandoning the present standard of value and establishing silver monometallism, they should have an opportunity to say that. When this issue is presented we need not fear the result. Such an appeal to common sense, the common law, and the national pride of our people will not be in vain, and when the contest is over the question will be finally and conclusively settled in accordance with the general judgment of the most advanced nations and the real interests of our own country.
